Shareholders' Claims for Reflective Loss in International Investment Law Lukas Vanhonnaeker, 2020-07-16 In recent years investor state tribunals have often permitted shareholders claims for reflective loss despite the well established principle of no reflective loss applied consistently in domestic regimes and in other fields of international law Investment tribunals have justified their decisions by relying on definitions of investment in investment agreements that often include shares while the no reflective loss principle is generally justified on the basis of policy considerations pertaining to the preservation of the efficiency of the adjudicatory process and to the protection of other stakeholders such as creditors Although these policy considerations militating for the prohibition of shareholders claims for reflective loss also apply in investor state arbitration they are curable in that context and must be balanced with policy considerations specific to the field of international investment law that weigh in favor of such claims the protection of foreign investors in order to promote trade and investment liberalization

The Defaulting State and the South China Sea

Arbitration Alfredo C. Robles Jr.,2023-05-27 This book focuses on the legal and procedural problems caused by China's default in the South China Sea Arbitration Many of these problems arose because in several respects China departed from the conduct of other defaulting States in cases before the International Court of Justice The book argues that the Tribunal confronted with the difficulties of maintaining the balance between two parties in a situation of default drew on the full range of its powers to ensure that neither China nor the Philippines would suffer from China's default Further the book describes the shortcomings of the submissions of putative amicus curiae It refutes China's questioning of the independence and impartiality of the experts and of the judges In so doing it explains the expert opinions and the Tribunal's assessments of the latter in the areas of satellite imagery coral reef ecology and navigational safety while rebutting the half truths and counter truths disseminated by Chinese scholars about the proceedings The book compares China's threats to the independence of the Tribunal to its behavior towards Chinese judges It places China's accusations of bias against the Tribunal in the context of China's domestic situation and concludes that the Tribunal acting independently and impartially was able to perform the judicial function despite China's default
