Fábos,2008 Muslim Arab Sudanese in Cairo have played a fundamental role in Egyptian history and society during many centuries of close relations between Egypt and Sudan Although the government and official press describes them as brothers in a united Nile Valley recent political developments in Egypt have underscored the precarious legal status of Sudanese in Cairo Neither citizens nor foreigners they are in an uncertain position created in part through an unusual ethnic discourse which does not draw principally on obvious characteristics of difference This rich ethnographic study shows instead that Sudanese ethnic identity is created from deeply held social values especially those concerning gender and propriety shared by Sudanese and Egyptian communities The resulting ethnic identity is ambiguous and flexible allowing Sudanese to voice their frustrations and make claims for their own uniqueness while acknowledging the identity that they share with the dominant Egyptian community Is Anyone Listening? Rosemary Aris,Gill Hague,Audrey Mullender,2004-03-01 Domestic violence is in the public eye as never before but how often are abused women consulted or involved in the new services and policies This book investigates and reveals that the voices of survivors of domestic violence are often simply not heard silenced the women themselves become invisible Is Anyone Listening draws on the experiences of other service user movements to provide a strong conceptual framework for thinking about abused women s participation in policy and service development It discusses empowerment issues and the women s movement against gender violence exploring how far refuge organisations and other women s movement services have influenced statutory services and vice versa It includes many practical ideas for involving women in the improvement of both policy and practice and gives examples of inspiring and innovatory projects Based on a study carried out as part of the Economic and Social Research Council s Violence Research Programme Is Anyone Listening offers a unique analysis of the sensitive and complex issues involved in developing service user participation within the domestic violence field The insights it provides will enable policy makers activists students practitioners and women who have experienced domestic violence to move forward together
