Media, Politics and Environment Detlef Briesen,Sarada Prasanna Das,2023-07-15 Environmental protection has not equally established itself as a permanent fixture in the political systems of all countries to date governments and entire societies have responded to environmental challenges in a variety of ways and concrete environmental policy is still a highly national matter Moreover the perception of environmental problems varies considerably on a global scale The reasons normally cited for these differences largely stem from the environmental policy debates themselves e g poverty ignorance capital interests etc In contrast this book shows that concrete environmental policy emerges from a complex interplay of mass media and political conflicts first the mass media provide the framework for national environmental policy through agenda setting framing and scandalization second the mass media thereby change values in the political and social discourse e g by altering the perception of global commons and expanding the possibilities of interest articulation and third this can lead to political decision making processes in which legal and other measures for environmental protection are enforced The book systematically compares industrialized countries such as Germany and Japan with several rapidly emerging countries in South and Southeast Asia     Resources in Education ,1999-04     APAIS 1994: Australian public affairs information service ,     Fisheries Development P.
