Partitioned Africans A. I. Asiwaju, 1984 Partitioned Africans A. I. Asiwaju, 1985 Border Jumping and Migration Control in Southern Africa Francis Musoni, 2020-04-07 With the end of apartheid rule in South Africa and the ongoing economic crisis in Zimbabwe the border between these Southern African countries has become one of the busiest inland ports of entry in the world As border crossers wait for clearance crime violence and illegal entries have become rampant Francis Musoni observes that border jumping has become a way of life for many of those who live on both sides of the Limpopo River and he explores the reasons for this including searches for better paying jobs and access to food and clothing at affordable prices Musoni sets these actions into a framework of illegality He considers how countries have failed to secure their borders why passports are denied to travelers and how border jumping has become a phenomenon with a long history especially in Africa Musoni emphasizes cross border travelers active participation in the making of this history and how clandestine mobility has presented opportunity and creative possibilities for those who are willing to take the risk Africa Under Colonial Domination 1880-1935 Unesco. International Scientific Committee for the Drafting of a General History of Africa, 1985 Africa was partitioned and colonized by the Europeans After military conquest came the commercial exploitation of the wealth of Africa The intensity of resistance to colonization varied from one region to another but a new economic and social system linked with colonization was put in place bringing about unprecedented demographic and political change Publisher s description Boundaries, Communities and State-Making in West Africa Paul Nugent, 2019-06-06 By examining three centuries of history this book shows how vital border regions have been in shaping states and social contracts Scars of Partition William F.S. Miles, 2014-07-01 Based on three decades of fieldwork throughout the developing world Scars of Partition is the first book to systematically evaluate the long term implications of French and British styles of colonialism and decolonization for ordinary people throughout the so called Third World It pays particular attention to the contemporary legacies of artificial boundaries superimposed by Britain and France that continue to divide indigenous peoples into separate postcolonial states In so doing it uniquely illustrates how the distinctive stamps of France and Britain continue to mark daily life along and behind these inherited borders in Africa Asia Oceania and the Caribbean Scars of Partition draws on political science anthropology history and geography to examine six cases of indigenous indentured and enslaved peoples partitioned by colonialism in West Africa West Indies South Pacific Southeast Asia South India and the Indian Ocean William F S Miles demonstrates that sovereign nations throughout the developing world despite basic differences in culture geography and politics still bear the underlying imprint of their colonial pasts Disentangling and appreciating these embedded colonial legacies is critical to achieving full decolonization particularly in their borderlands Handbook of Africa's International Relations Tim Murithi, 2013-09-05 Africa s international relations have often been defined and oriented by the dominant international and geopolitical agendas of the day In the aftermath of colonialism the Cold War became a dominant paradigm that defined the nature of the continent's relationship with the rest of the world. The contemporary forces of globalization are now exerting an undue influence and impact upon Africa's international relations. Increasingly the African continent is emerging as a vocal and in some respects an influential actor in international relations. There is a paucity of analysis and research on this emerging trend. This timely book proposes to fill this analytical gap by engaging with a wide range of issues with chapters written by experts on a variety of themes. The emerging political prominence of the African continent on the world stage is predicated on an evolving internal process of continental integration. In particular, there are normative and policy efforts to revive the spirit of Pan Africanism. The 21st century is witnessing the evolution of Pan Africanism notably through the constitution and establishment of the African Union (AU). Given the fact that there is a dearth of analysis on this phenomenon, this volume will also interrogate the notion of Pan Africanism through various lenses notably peace and security, development, the environment and trade. The volume will also engage with the emerging role of the AU as an international actor e.g. with regard to its role in the reform of the United Nations Security Council, climate change, the International Criminal Court (ICC), the treaty establishing Africa as a nuclear free zone, Internally Displaced Persons, the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), international trade, the environment, public health issues, security and development issues. This book will assess how the AU's role as an international actor is complicated by the difficulty of promoting consensus among African states and then maintaining that consensus in the face of often divergent national interests. This book will in part assess the role of the AU in articulating collective and joint policies and in making interventions in international decision and policy making circles. The Handbook will also assess the role of African social movements and their relationship with global actors. The role of African citizens in ameliorating their own conditions is often underplayed in the international relations discourse and this volume will seek to redress this oversight. Throughout the book, the various chapters will also assess the role that these citizen linkages have contributed towards continental integration and in confronting the challenges of globalization.

The Partition of Africa: Illusion Or Necessity? Robert O. Collins, 1969

The Partition of Africa John Mackenzie, 2005-06-20. Much of the historical debate surrounding the partition of Africa, the events that led up to it and its implications for the continent itself and for the rest of the world is so controversial that it is difficult to provide a coherent survey of the shifting theories of the last twenty years. In this pamphlet, Dr MacKenzie attempts to do this by sketching the historical background to the partition, surveying the events of the partition in the four main regions of Africa and then examining in turn the theories produced to explain the sequence of events.

Literature, Partition and the Nation-State Joseph N. Cleary, 2002-01-03. The history of partition in the twentieth century is one steeped in controversy and violence. Literature, Partition and the Nation State offers an extended study of the social and cultural legacies of state division in Ireland and Palestine, two regions where the trauma of partition continues to shape political events to this day. Focusing on the period since the 1960s when the original partition settlements in each region were challenged by Irish and Palestinian nationalists Joe Cleary's book contains individual chapters on nationalism and self-determination on the construction of national literatures in the wake of state division and on influential Irish, Israeli and Palestinian writers, film makers and public intellectuals. Cleary's book is a radical and enthralling intervention into contemporary scholarship from a range of disciplines on nations and nationalism. It will be of interest to scholars in Cultural and Post Colonial Studies, Nations and Nationalism, Irish Literature, Middle East Studies and Modern History.

African Studies in Geography from Below Ben Arrous, Lazare Ki-Zerbo, 2009-11-01. The doctrine of international relations, interstate, indeed territorial ideologies, the logic of autochthony and its ramifications, ethnic cleansing are all hinged at different levels upon the same pseudo fact: to every society a closed and exclusive territory demarcated by fixed and linear borders. This way of thinking, totally foreign to African societies for a long time, has generated today more contradictions than it can ever solve. The authors of this book make a clear distinction between territory formation from the top as being a deliberate political project and its formation from below as being a more diffused historical process which is determined by the scheme of antagonisms and compromises between social forces. In lieu of a stark opposition between the top and below, the authors unveil the interdependence and mutual influence which form the basis of a dual system within which legal formation by the colonial authorities first, then by the postcolonial one, is confronted with a host of subaltern spatial dynamics neglecting thereby the legitimacy which only they can provide. As an essential read for anyone who is interested in the relationship between knowledge and power, this book offers stimulating perspectives on the issue of African unity and its epistemological and political challenges. It renews profoundly our approaches to human security, citizenship, borders and mobility. Contributions are in English and in French.

Respacing Africa Ulf Engel, Paul Nugent, 2010. Space has been reintroduced as an analytical category to the humanities and social sciences in the early 1990s. African Studies is one of the fields of knowledge production where the so-called spatial turn has proved to be extremely fruitful. The continent provides ample evidence for complex processes of deterritorialisation, migration, globalisation, sub-nationalisms and reterritorialisation, new regionalisms, processes of bordering etc. These dialectical processes are driven by a variety of actors: political elites, multinational companies, warlords, donor governments, local traders, international NGOs etc. As a result, substantial parts of Africa witness the emergence of new regimes of territoriality: re-ordered states, transnational and sub-national entities, new localities and transborder formations. This volume brings together contributions from anthropology, history, geography and political science.

Britain and International Law in West Africa Inge Van Hulle, 2020-10-22. Africa often remains neglected in studies that discuss the historical relationship between international law and imperialism during the nineteenth century. When it does feature, focus tends to be on the Scramble for Africa and the treaties concluded between European powers and African polities in which sovereignty and territory were ceded. Drawing on a wide range of archival material, Inge Van Hulle brings a fresh new perspective to this traditional narrative. She reviews the use and creation of legal instruments that expanded or delineated the boundaries between British jurisdiction and African communities in West Africa and uncovers the practicality and flexibility with which international legal discourse was employed in imperial contexts This legal experimentation went beyond treaties of cession and also encompassed commercial treaties the abolition of the slave trade extraterritoriality and the use of force The book argues that by the 1880s the legal techniques that were fashioned in the language of international law in West Africa had largely developed their own substantive characteristics Legal ordering was not done in reference to adjudication before Western courts or the writings of Western lawyers but in reference to what was deemed politically expedient and practically feasible by imperial agents for the preservation of social peace commercial interaction and humanitarian agendas

Subnationalism in Africa Joshua Forrest, 2004 This examination of the politics of ethnicity and nation building in Africa stresses the trend towards subnationalist autonomy and away from a singular state centric system based on the Western model Forrest ranges across the continent to explore a variety of subnational movements

Region-Building in Africa Daniel H. Levine, Dawn Nagar, 2016-05-19 This landmark book is the first of its kind to assess the challenges of African region building and regional integration across all five African sub regions and more than five decades of experience considering both political and economic aspects Leading scholars and practitioners come together to analyze a range of entwined topics including the theoretical underpinnings that have informed Africa s regional integration trajectory the political economy of integration including the sources of different waves of integration in pan Africanism and the reaction to neo liberal economic pressures the complexities of integration in a context of weak states and the informal regionalization that often occurs in borderlands the increasing salience of Africa s relationships with rising extra regional economic powers including China and India and comparative lessons from non African regional blocs including the EU ASEAN and the Southern Common Market A core argument of this book running through all chapters is that region building must be recognized as a political project as much as if not more than an economic one successful region building in Africa will need to include the complex political tasks of strengthening state capacity including states capacity as developmental states that can actively engage in economic planning resolving long standing conflicts over resources and political dominance improving democratic governance and developing trans national political structures that are legitimate and inclusive

African Refugees Toyin Falola, Olajumoke Yacob-Haliso, 2023-01-03 African Refugees is a comprehensive overview of the context causes and consequences of refugee lives discussing issues policies and solutions for African refugees around the world It covers overarching topics such as human rights policy frameworks refugee protection and durable solutions as well as less studied topics such as refugee youths refugee camps LGBTQ refugees urban refugees and refugee women It also takes on rare but emergent topics such as citizenship and the creativity of African refugees Toyin Falola and Olajumoke Yacob Haliso showcase the voices and experiences of individual refugees through the sweep of history to tell the African refugee story from the historical past through current developments covering the full range of experience from the causes of flight to living in exile all while maintaining a persistent focus on the complicated search for solutions African Refugees recognizes African agency and contributions in pursuit of solutions for African refugees over time but avoids the pitfalls of the colonial gaze where refugees are perpetually pathologized and Africa is always the sole cause of its own problems seeking to complicate these narratives by recognizing African refugee issues within exploitative global colonial and neo colonial systems of power

Bondage of Boundaries and Identity Politics in Postcolonial Africa Ndlovu-Gatsheni, Sabelo J., Mhlanga, Brilliant, 2013-10-20 What has confounded African efforts to create cohesive prosperous and just states in postcolonial Africa What has been the long term impact of the Berlin Conference of 1884 5 on African unity and African statehood Why is postcolonial Africa haunted by various ethno national conflicts Is secession and irredentism the solution Can we talk of ethno futures for Africa These are the kinds of fundamental questions that this important book addresses Sabelo J Ndlovu Gatsheni and Brilliant Mhlanga s book introduces the metaphor of the northern problem to dramatise the fact that there is no major African postcolonial state that does not enclose within its borders a disgruntled minority that is complaining of marginalization domination and suppression The irony is that in 1963 at the formation of the OAU postcolonial African leaders embraced the boundaries arbitrarily drawn by European colonialists and institutionalised the principle of inviolability of bondage of boundaries thereby contributing to the problem of ethno national conflicts The successful struggle for independence of the Eritrean people and the secession of South Sudan in 2011 have encouraged other dominated and marginalised groups throughout Africa to view secession as an option Ndlovu Gatsheni and Mhlanga successfully assembled competent African scholars to deal exhaustively with various empirical cases of ethno national conflicts throughout the African continent as well as engaging with such pertinent issues as Pan Africanism as a panacea to these problems This important book delves deeper into complex issues of space languages conflict security nation building war on terror secession migration citizenship militias liberation violence and Pan Africanism

European Imperialism and the Partition of Africa Ernest Francis Penrose, 2012-11-12 This volume seeks to explain the European partition of Africa between 1880 1900

UNESCO General History of Africa, Vol. VII, Abridged Edition Unesco. International Scientific Committee for the Drafting of a General History of Africa, 1990-06-25 This volume reflects how the different peoples of Africa view their civilizations and shows the historical relationships between the various parts of the continent Historical connections with other continents demonstrate Africa s contribution to the development of human civilization

State Legitimacy and Development in Africa Pierre Englebert, 2000 Englebert argues that differences in economic performance both within Africa and across the developing world can be linked to differences in historical state legitimacy
