Becoming Parents of Marital Studies, Tavistock Institute, 1997-02-01 Christopher Clulow examines the connections between partnership and parenthood focusing on the parents as partners as well as parents and on the child He examines how children change the relationship between their parents and what relevance the couple's relationship has for healthy child development Becoming parents is arguable the most challenging of life changes faced by couples There are no clear guidelines about what is involved the routes are many and the choices range broadly Today diverse lifestyles new technologies and changing socioeconomic circumstances have combined with other factors to further complicate the demands of parenting Against this backdrop couples play out dramas constructed from their own histories and continuing lives together The child is born into this context of subtle interplay between each parent's and the couple's inner and outer experiences This book provides a fascinating and authoritative look at the emotional process of becoming a family Focus on Fathering Robin Sullivan, 2004-01-01 Takes an informative and challenging look at fathering and what it means to be a father It discusses the fascinating moving and often contradictory role in which Australian men find themselves as fathers and looks at issues such as What is a good father these days What is it fathers provide that is so influential to a child's development Is fathering importantly different to mothering Is it a role that a single mother or a substitute parent can take What do fathers and children say What do women think Practitioners share their research and experiences of working with fathers and explore many aspects of fathering including the role they play in a child's life stereotypes issues and pressures they face Gender, Identity & Reproduction S. Earle, G. Marriage After Modernity Adrian Thatcher, 1999-01-01 This book offers nothing less than a new vision for Christian marriage at a time of unprecedented social and theological change It breaks new ground in drawing on earlier traditions of betrothal and informal marriage in welcoming some forms of pre-marital cohabitation and provides a new defence of the link between marriage and procreation by sketching a theology of liberation for children Christian principles for the use of contraception by married and not yet married couples are restated and a comprehensive theology of marriage is worked out based on re-worked biblical models Marriage as a Christian sacrament mutually administered in a lifelong partnership of equals is affirmed A chapter on divorce brings new light to bear on legitimate theological grounds for the parting of the ways The question of whether marriage is a heterosexual institution is addressed and particular attention is paid throughout the book to overcoming the distorting effect of the overwhelming androcentric bias of much Christian thought on marriage to the experience of wives and to all those women and men for whom marriage is not their vocation
