North African desert was pure mechanized warfare and in many respects the most technologically advanced theatre of World War II. It was also the only theatre where for three years British and Commonwealth and later US troops were in constant contact with Axis forces. World War II best selling author Robert Forczyk explores the first half of the history of the campaign from the initial Italian offensive and the arrival of Rommel's Panzergruppe Afrika to the British Operation Crusader offensive that led to the relief of Tobruk. He examines the armoured forces equipment, doctrine, training, logistics and operations employed by both Allied and Axis forces throughout the period, focusing especially on the brigade and regimental level of operations. Fully illustrated throughout with photographs, profile artwork and maps and featuring tactical level vignettes and appendices analysing tank data, tank deliveries in theatre and orders of battle, this book goes back to the sources to provide a new study of armoured warfare in the desert. Handbook on German Military Forces United States.
