Australian Writing and the City Association for the Study of Australian Literature. Conference, 2000 Gender and colonial space Sara Mills, 2013-07-19 Gender and colonial space is a trenchant analysis of the complex relation between social relations including notions of class nationality and gender and spatial relations landscape architecture and topography in post colonial contexts Arguing against much of the psychoanalytic focus of much current post colonial theory Mills aims to set out in a new direction drawing on a wide range of literary and non literary texts to develop a more materialist approach She foregrounds gender in this field where it has often been marginalised by the critical orthodoxies demonstrating its importance not only in spatial theorising in general but in the post colonial theorising of space in particular Concentrating on the period of high British colonialism at the close of the nineteenth century she adroitly examines a range of contexts looking at a range of colonial contexts such as India Africa America Canada Australia and Britain illustrating how relations must be analysed for the way in which different colonial contexts define and constitute each other Words for Country Tim Bonyhady, 2002 Stories and phrases can powerfully shape the ways we experience and manage our environment What languages have been used to characterise Australian landscapes and how have they influenced the way we see and treat our environment How do stories take root in particular places How do we find the right words for those parts of the country that matter to us Words for Country answers these questions while exploring the inter relationship between Australia's landscape and language Tim Bonyhady and Tom Griffiths have brought together a collection of essays whose subjects range from the Ord River in the far north west to Antarctica in the south from the centre to the coast the prehistoric to the present Their terrain is environmental and cultural political and poetic Words for Country reveals not just how language grows out of the landscape but how words and stories shape the places in which we live Westerly, 1999 The Australian People James Jupp, 2001-10 Australia is one of the most ethnically diverse societies in the world today From its ancient indigenous origins to British colonisation followed by waves of European then international migration in the twentieth century the island continent is home to people from all over the globe Each new wave of settlers has had a profound impact on Australian society and culture The Australian People documents the dramatic history of Australian settlement and describes the rich ethnic and cultural inheritance of the nation through the contributions of its people It is one of the largest reference works of its kind with approximately 250 expert contributors and almost one million words Illustrated in colour and black and white the book is both a comprehensive encyclopedia and a survey of the controversial debates about citizenship and multiculturalism now that Australia has attained the centenary of its federation The Olympic Games and Cultural Policy Beatriz Garcia, 2012-10-12 This book explores how cultural policies are reflected in the design management and promotion of the Olympic Games Garcia examines the concept and evolution of cultural policies throughout the recent history of the Olympic Games and then specifically evaluates the cultural program of the Sydney 2000 Olympic Games She argues that the cultural relevance of a major event is highly dependent on the consistency of the policy choices informing its cultural dimensions and demonstrates how such events frequently fail to leave long term cultural legacies and are often unable to provide an experience that fully engages and represents the host community due to their over emphasis on an economic rather than a social and cultural agenda Acta neophilologica Univerza v Ljubljani.
