Taylor, 2010-09-02 The book covers three extraordinary voyages in the tiny yacht Mingming carrying on from where Voyages of a Simple Sailor left off The Law of the Sea and Climate Change Elise Johansen, Signe Veierud Busch, Ingvild Ulrikke Jakobsen, 2020-12-17 Our oceans are suffering under the impacts of climate change Despite the critical role that oceans play in climate regulation international climate law and the law of the sea are developed as two different largely separate legal regimes The main objective of this book is to assess how the law of the sea can be interpreted developed and applied to support the objectives of the United Nations Climate Regime By identifying the potential and constraints of the law of the sea regime in supporting and complementing the climate regime in the mitigation of and adaptation to climate change this book offers a new perspective on the law of the sea and its capacity to evolve to respond to systemic challenges and its potential to adapt and ensure a resilient and sustainable future The Department of State Bulletin , 1960 The official monthly record of United States foreign policy Turning towards a Civilized European Future? Enneas Esófius, 2017-01-12 Will it in some way be possible to detect the remains of a European civilization underneath the precarious structures of the European Union The answer to this question may seem to depend on whether the national cultures of the European area can represent various sections of building blocks that can be collected and connected to form a civilization or whether they may rather seem to constitute some more or less accidental agglomerations of people that merely happen to belong to related families of language and culture The second hypothesis does not seem to require too much further explanation whereas the first hypothesis may need a model to help explain the identities of national cultures their relationships to different geographical landscape formations and their mutual interconnectedness that in a way may serve to constitute an entire civilization This essay or collection of essays is pursuing the first hypothesis through a model of basic categories of activity that can be related to process dynamical logic of progression and registration of data together with various modes of circumstantial precaution European cultures are assumed to be formed around particular basic categories of activity that may also appear to be reflected in different forms of landscape Different types of cultural evolution are further considered and it is argued that adaptive as well as subversive forms of evolution are important with respect to the impact of civilization on national cultural developments and vice versa Critical factors of development are moreover considered and it is suggested that the present European Union may eventually evolve into a new synthesis that can connect various critical tendencies in a way that may give European civilization a new overall dynamical direction Similar developments with respect to critical syntheses of the past are related to crucial turns of various historical epochs and such epochs can seem to be lasting about 500 years Interplay of different civilizations is considered more in relation to a possible new era an even more lengthy period of time Impact of various civilizational models on evolution of civilization is supposed to act indirectly as catalytic influence on critical and subversive evolutionary tendencies through formulations related to art science philosophy and religion Questions of order balance and justice that can seem particularly relevant with respect to subversive evolution are also being introduced and considered gradually It may take a courageous and persistent yet open minded intellect to embark on the reading of this essay

The Statutes at Large from Magna Charta to [the Forty-first Year of George III Great Britain, 1786 Turning a Problem into a Resource: Remediation and Waste Management at the Sillamäe Site, Estonia Cheryl K. Rofer, Tõnis Kaasik, 2012-12-06 In its present condition the dam of the tailings pond is less stable than is recommended by international practice A surveillance system has been established to observe both vertical and horizontal soil movement and the buildup of stresses in the soil The stability of the dam depends primarily on erosion by shore processes and the consequent reduction of the counterbalance as well as the reduction in strength of the Cambrian clay underlying the dam caused by creep and by water percolating to the bottom of the pond The most critical need is to enlarge the counterbalance and to stop erosion The surveillance system should be supplemented with a system of inclinometers Monitoring of coastal processes should be continued At present the hydrodynamic stress on the dam is minimal because the pebble layer allows drainage of water out of the tailings pond and into the sea The regulatory requirement to end emissions into the Baltic Sea must be met without causing undesirable hydrodynamic stresses on the dam This could be done by covering the pond and diverting precipitation water 9 References I Report on Topographic Geodetic Studies at the Tailings
