Searching For Faith Within A Confused Society:

The Search for Faith and Character in Our Time Jeff Caples, 2025-09-10 There are many things we seek in life some are important and most are not This book gives insight into our search for faith and the character we develop when we pursue it Different qualities of faith and character are examined in detail Current events are discussed and analyzed from the viewpoint of faith in our time The reader is asked What do you believe in and is encouraged to find out In Search of a Confident Faith J. P. Moreland, Klaus Issler, 2008-07-30 Emphasizing that our trust in God will grow exponentially when we have come to understand the true nature of faith J P Moreland and Klaus Issler identify the intellectual emotional relational experiential and even theological barriers to mature faith Search for Faith and Justice in the Twentieth Century Gene James, 1987 The Paradox of Holiness; Faith in Search of Obedience Donald G. Bloesch, 2022-05-03 Within these pages are the last two previously unpublished works from notable American evangelical theologian Donald G Bloesch In his spiritual autobiography Faith in Search of Obedience Bloesch describes the foundation upon which own theology is based namely a faith in search of obedience This honest and challenging work reveals and reminds how we are justified by faith alone but that faith drives us to obey and delight in God s law as we strive to perfect love through the Gospel of Jesus Christ The Paradox of Holiness presents the theology of spiritual life as it is shaped and defined by the Word of God Through this theological exposition Bloesch presents and explores the paradox that exists in the pursuit of holiness for those who believe For the theologian pastor or lay person who is seeking to combine Word and Spirit doctrine and life into an active theology this two in one volume by Donald Bloesch provides an honest and sober account of the challenges that may arise throughout the Christian pilgrimage while pointing toward the hope encouragement and new life that comes through the triumph of Christ on the cross Searching for Faith Within a Confused Society Dennis A. Anderson, 1976 Faith Seeking Conviviality Samuel E. Ewell, 2019-12-30 Faith Seeking Conviviality traces the journey of a U S missionary into Brazil and beyond seeking to be faithfully present while also questioning the default settings of good intentions Taking Ivan Illich as the primary theological guide on that journey Faith Seeking Conviviality narrates the discovery of a renewed imagination for Christian mission that arises as a response to two persistent questions First given the colonial history of Christian missionary expansion on what basis do we go on fulfilling the Great Commission Matt 28 16 20 as Christ s disciples A second question intimately related to the first is What makes it possible to embody a distinctively Christian presence that is missionary without being manipulative In doing theology with and after Ivan Illich Faith Seeking Conviviality does not offer a pull off the shelf model for mission but rather a framework for embodying the incarnational logic of mission that entails a convivial turn delinking missionary discipleship from the lure of techniques and institutional dependence in order to receive and to share the peace of Christ relationally Faith Seeking Action Gregory P. Leffel, 2007-06-01 In Faith Seeking Action author Gregory Leffel links a description of the church as a global movement with a description of contemporary social movements that are actively challenging today's societies such as the environmental global justice and identity movements. Not surprisingly, Christian communities and communities of social activists share much in common as they each work to enrich their societies. It is natural then to ask what missionally concerned Christians may learn from social movements about the public role of their churches, the connection of their beliefs to social change, and the mobilization of their people. It can also be asked how these often divided communities may find ways to collaborate around common actions rooted in such shared values as peace, justice, life, and the integrity of the environment. Building on growing interest in the field of missiology and its missional church concept, Leffell has created a dialog between the church as a social actor and social movements. Along with introducing movement theory to mission studies, Leffell introduces a new way of addressing the issues involved in the church's engagement with society, a concept he calls missio ecclesiology. Of interest to those seeking vital ways to live out their faith in the world, missiologists, missional church leaders, and street-level workers alike, this work fuels fresh thinking about the church's role in cultural and social change.

Analytical Psychology in a Changing World: The search for self, identity and community Lucy Huskinson, Murray Stein, 2014-08-13. How can we make sense of ourselves within a world of change? In Analytical Psychology in a Changing World, an international range of contributors examine some of the common pitfalls, challenges, and rewards that we encounter in our efforts to carve out identities of a personal or collective nature and question the extent to which analytical psychology as a school of thought and therapeutic approach must also adapt to meet our changing needs. The contributors assess contemporary concerns about our sense of who we are and where we are going, some in light of recent social and natural disasters and changes to our social climates, others by revisiting existential concerns and philosophical responses to our human situation in order to assess their validity for today. How we use our urban environments and its structures to make sense of our pathologies and shortcomings, the relevance of images and the dynamic forms that underpin our experience of the world, how analytical psychology can effectively manage issues and problems of cultural, religious, and existential identity, these broad themes and others besides are vividly illustrated by striking case studies and unique personal insights that give real lucidity to the ideas and arguments presented. Analytical Psychology in a Changing World will be essential reading for Jungian and post-Jungian scholars and clinicians of depth psychology as well as sociologists, philosophers, and any reader with a critical interest in the important cultural ideas of our time. Faith in Nature Thomas Dunlap, 2009-11-17. The human impulse to religion, the drive to explain the world, humans and humans' place in the universe can be seen to encompass environmentalism as an offshoot of the secular material faith in human reason and power that dominates modern society. Faith in Nature traces the history of environmentalism and its moral thrust from its roots in the Enlightenment and Romanticism through the Progressive Era to the present. Drawing astonishing parallels between religion and environmentalism the book examines the passion of the movement's adherents and enemies alike its concern with the moral conduct of daily life and its attempt to answer fundamental questions about the underlying order of the world and of humanity's place within it Thomas Dunlap is among the leading environmental historians and historians of science in the United States Originally trained as a chemist he has a rigorous understanding of science and appreciates its vital importance to environmental thought But he is also a devout Catholic who believes that the insights of religious revelation need not necessarily be at odds with the insights of scientific investigation This book grew from his own religious journey and his attempts to understand human ethical obligations and spiritual debts to the natural world CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title 2005 In Search of the Republic Richard Vetterli, Gary Bryner, 1996

When In Search of the Republic was originally published in 1987 scholarly interpretations of the concept of virtue in the American founding were considered peripheral to mainstream political theory Since then the authors' arguments that public virtue, civic responsibility and private morality were at the heart of the Founding Fathers' political thought is now accepted by a growing number of contemporary political theorists This revised edition includes a new preface that places In Search of the Republic within the context of contemporary debates over the role of virtue and religion in early American political discourse This is a superb introduction for students and scholars interested in learning about the moral, political and constitutional theories of the Founding Fathers

Biblical Strategies for a Community in Crisis Colleen Birchett, 1995-04 Through inspirational messages and warnings 11 leading Christian thinkers share with readers the major challenges facing the African American community and its church Readers are given biblical strategies for facing these challenges 12 lessons Leader's Guide also available Misused R.K. Ayers, 2016-08-11 Using relatable stories from the author's 15 years of ministry experience Misused reveals the fact faith and truth to difficult statements and thoughts like God will never give you more than you can handle or God should make us happy if we ask for it The book also addresses hard topics such as why bad things happen to God's people and tips for facing liars in your life The valuable concepts are brought to life in three primary sections How society uses feel good statements The biblical foundation of the statement What should be used instead Within these 3 categories readers are empowered to understand the concepts that truly encourage others with biblical truth and compassion Each chapter ends with questions for thought and discussion making this the perfect tool for an 8 week devotional small group study or personal growth tool
