Portrayal and the Search for Identity

Marcia Pointon,2013-02-15 We are surrounded with portraits from the cipher like portrait of a president on a bank note to security pass photos from images of politicians in the media to Facebook from galleries exhibiting Titian or Leonardo to contemporary art deploying the self image as with Jeff Koons or Cindy Sherman In antiquity portraiture was of major importance in the exercise of power Today it remains not only a part of everyday life but also a crucial way for artists to define themselves in relation to their environment and their contemporaries In Portrayal and the Search for Identity Marcia Pointon investigates how we view and understand portraiture as a genre and how portraits function as artworks within social and political networks Likeness is never a straightforward matter as we rarely have the subject of a portrait as a point of comparison Featuring familiar canonical works and little known portraits Portrayal seeks to unsettle notions of portraiture as an art of convention a reassuring reflection of social realities Pointon invites readers to consider how identity is produced pictorially and where likeness is registered apart from in a face In exploring these issues she addresses wide ranging problems such as the construction of masculinity in dress representations of slaves and self portraiture in relation to mortality

Searching for God on Earth and within the Cosmic Firmament Vincent L. Di Paolo, 2025-07-09 Searching for myself during my life has been a series of great adventures which are forever imprinted on the walls of the canyons of my memory I did have some very bad experiences that brought me to the very threshold of death several times For some cosmic reason I escaped death on four occasions during my life and I recuperated my strength and my craving for adventure after each near death experience I guess that those four near death experiences were meant to remind me that I am human and vulnerable and that I should never take my life for granted Even though I did lose some physical strength on each occasion my body and mind grew stronger and stronger and now that I am in the winter of my life I m alive and I thank each day that is given to me as my mind gets closer and closer to finding that elusive me in this only life as me As I now understand the importance and sanctity of life and my love for wonderful people beautiful animals and plants I realize that the meaning of my very existence is to protect them while we live in this beautiful and wonderful planet Finally it took a lifetime for me to find God and I have accepted that after life on earth I will be once again part of the Cosmos which it will always belong to the Creator
