Lost and Found Judith Masson,Christine Harrison,Annie Pavlovic,2019-08-08 First published in 1999 this volume is a collection of essays focused on the theme of partnership with parents in social work practice with children and families It covers issues relating to the quality of care and preparation for aftercare particularly children s identity needs and preparation for life after care which are highlighted in the Quality Protects programme It developed from an action research project funded by the Joseph Rowntree Foundation and conducted by the editors at Warwick University between 1993 and 1996 Through teaching activities associated with the implementation of the Children Act 1989 the editors became aware that there were many parents who had lost contact with both their child and their child s social workers after their child had entered the care system These were the lost parents of the study Partnership with parents has become an integral part of social work with children and families living together or apart Inevitably it concerns many other people involved in the care of children and providing advice to individuals Partnership permeates all aspects of relationships between parents children and those providing care in place of parents Consequently the issues discussed in this book are of relevance to all those working directly or indirectly with children parents and other relatives Amongst these are social workers family placement workers carers and residential workers team managers and policy makers in local authority social services departments guardians ad litem court welfare officers and lawyers acting for children or parents children s rights officers and advisers working in voluntary agencies which support families and children The Lives of Foster Carers Linda Nutt,2006-09-27 The Lives of Foster Carers analyzes the contradictions conflicts and ambiguities experienced by foster carers arising from the inter penetrations of public bureaucracy and private family life Topics covered include social policy pertinent to childcare the history of foster care service available literature on the experience of foster carers public versus private domains in foster care motivations and roles of foster carers how foster carers perceive themselves and their foster children Based on a wide range of literature and in depth interviews with forty six foster carers this book provides a valuable insight into the concerns processes and experiences of foster carers in the UK Jargon free and accessible it will appeal to foster carers practitioners students and academics in social care youth work and childcare as well as policy makers in children s services Siblings in Adoption and Foster Care Deborah N. Silverstein,Susan Livingston Smith,2008-12-30 Normally our relationships with our brothers and sisters are the longest relationships in our lives outlasting time with our parents and most marriages today The sibling relationship is emotionally powerful and critically important giving us a sense of continuity throughout life So what happens when a child loses contact not only with his or her parents but with siblings too That is what happens in thousands of cases each year inside the child welfare system Children are surrendered by parents or taken by the government and placed in the foster care system There they are often separated and sent to different foster families or adopted by different couples In this work a team of top experts details for us how this added separation further traumatizes children This stellar team of internationally known researchers some of whom are themselves adoptees shares with us hard poignant and personal insights as well as ways we might act to solve this widespread problem Contributors address not only the importance of nurturing sibling bonds and mental health strategies to support those relationships but also the legal rights of siblings to be together as well as issues in international adoptions Emerging and standing programs to encourage and facilitate adoptions that keep siblings together are featured as are programs that at least enable them to stay in contact

The Developing World of the Child Jane Aldgate,2006 Written as part of a training pack for practitioners working in children s services and child protection and bringing together leading figures from a range of disciplines this important text shows how the latest child development theories can be applied to professionals working practice Considering theories of development throughout the lifespan from the early years through to adolescence and transitions to adulthood this resource is essential reading for a range of professionals including social workers teachers and health and mental health professionals The authors build up an integrated picture of the developing world of the child looking at genetic and biological influences alongside individual psychological interpersonal familial educational and wider community domains The final part of the book looks specifically at issues for practice including chapters on communicating with children exercising professional judgement and planning interventions and outcomes in children s services

The Wellbeing of Children in Care Kwame Owusu-Bempah,2010-05-07 This important book looks at how children in care can best be helped to attain desirable developmental outcomes Owusu Bempah introduces his notion of socio genealogical connectedness to help explain why children in kinship care fare better than children in non relative foster care

Freedom and Responsibility in Reproductive Choice J R Spencer,Antje du Bois-Pedain,2006-04-03 What responsibilities if any do we have towards our genetic offspring before or after birth and perhaps even before creation merely by virtue of the genetic link What claims if any arise from the mere genetic parental relation Should society through its legal arrangements allow fatherless or motherless children to be born as the current law on medically assisted reproduction involving gamete donation in some legal systems does Does the possibility of establishing genetic parentage with practical certainty necessitate reform of current legal regimes of parenthood And what limits if any should we set on parental procreative choices in the interests of future children particularly with regard to genetic engineering and related techniques These are the questions explored in this book by some of the foremost legal bioethical and biomedical thinkers Assembled with a view to assisting the reader to reflect critically on the ongoing social experiment which medically assisted reproduction is today the essays in this collection highlight what are and what else might in the nearby future become possible reproductive options and respond to the difficulties we encounter in assessing these practices and possibilities from our traditional ethical vantage points Contributions by Andrew Bainham Thomas Baldwin Lisa Bortolotti John Harris Martin H Johnson Judith Masson Martin Richards Alison Shaw Sally Sheldon Bonnie Steinbock and Mary Warnock
