And Man Created God Selina O'Grady, 2013-03-26 At the time of Jesus birth the world was full of gods Thousands of them jostled competed and merged with one another In Syria ecstatic devotees castrated themselves in the streets to become priests of Atargatis In Galilee holy men turned oil into wine healed the sick drove out devils and claimed to be the Messiah Every day thousands of people were leaving their family and tribes behind them and flocking into brand new multi ethnic cities The ancient world was in ferment as it underwent the first phase of globalisation and in this ferment rulers and ruled turned to religion as a source of order and stability Augustus the first emperor of Rome though he never dared officially to call himself so was maneuvering his way to becoming worshipped as a god it was one of the most brilliant makeovers ever undertaken by a ruler and his spin doctors In North Africa Amanirenas the warrior queen exploited her god like status to inspire her armies to face and defeat Rome In China the usurper Wang Mang won and lost his throne because of his obsession with Confucianism To explore the power that religious belief has had over societies through the ages Selina O Grady takes the reader on a dazzling journey across the empires of the ancient world and introduces us to rulers merchants messiahs priests and holy men Throughout she seeks to answer why amongst the countless religious options available the empires at the time of Jesus chose the religions they did Why did China s rulers hitch their fate to Confucianism a philosophy more than a religion And why was a tiny Jewish cult led by Jesus eventually adopted by Rome s emperors rather than the cult of Isis which was far more popular and widespread The Jesus cult followed by no more than 100 people at the time of his death should by rights have disappeared in a few generations Instead it became the official religion of the Roman Empire Why did Christianity grow so quickly to become the predominant world religion What was it about its teachings that so appealed to people And Man Created God looks at why and how religions have had such an immense impact on human history and in doing so uncovers the ineradicable connection between politics and religion a connection which still defines us in our own age This is an important thrilling and necessary new work of history

Chinese Architecture Nancy Shatzman Steinhardt, 2019-05-14 An unprecedented survey of the origins and evolution of Chinese architecture from the last millennia BCE to today Throughout history China has maintained one of the world's richest built civilizations The nation's architectural achievements range from its earliest walled cities and the First Emperor's vision of city and empire to bridges pagodas and the twentieth century constructions of the Socialist state In this beautifully illustrated book Nancy Shatzman Steinhardt presents the first fully comprehensive survey of Chinese architecture in any language With rich political and historical context Steinhardt covers forty centuries of architecture from the genesis of Chinese building through to the twenty first century and the challenges of urban expansion and globalism Steinhardt follows the extraordinary breadth of China's architectural legacy including excavation sites gardens guild halls and relief sculpture and considers the influence of Chinese architecture on Japan Korea Mongolia and Tibet Architectural examples from Chinese ethnic populations and various religions are examined such as monasteries mosques observatories and tombs Steinhardt also shows that Chinese architecture is united by a standardized system of construction applicable whether buildings are temples imperial palaces or shrines Every architectural type is based on the models that came before it and principles established centuries earlier dictate building practices China's unique system has allowed its built environment to stand as a profound symbol of Chinese culture With unprecedented breadth united by a continuous chronological narrative Chinese Architecture offers the best scholarship available on this remarkable subject for scholars students and general readers

Empires of Ancient Eurasia Craig Benjamin, 2018-05-03 The Silk Roads are the symbol of the interconnectedness of ancient Eurasian civilizations Using challenging land and maritime routes merchants and adventurers diplomats and missionaries sailors and soldiers and camels horses and ships carried their commodities ideas languages and pathogens enormous distances across Eurasia The result was an underlying unity that traveled the length of the routes and which is preserved to this day expressed in common technologies artistic styles cultures and religions and even disease and immunity patterns In words and images Craig Benjamin explores the processes that allowed for the comingling of so many goods ideas and diseases around a geographical hub deep in central Eurasia He argues that the first Silk Roads era was the catalyst for an extraordinary increase in the complexity of human relationships and collective learning a complexity that helped drive our species inexorably along a path towards modernity

Hans Scharoun and China Liyang Ding, 2024-11-15 This book presents the first systematic overview and analysis of the deep connection between Scharoun and China offering insights into East West cultural exchange and enriching existing understandings of modernism The German architect Hans Scharoun has typically been pigeonholed as a leading figure in expressionist architecture As this book shows however this understanding oversimplifies the multifaceted nature of Scharoun's career and overlooks his central role within the tradition of Neues Bauen. The book begins with Scharoun's early interactions with East Asian architects in the 1930s, his active involvement in the Chinese Werkbund 1941-42, and his extensive research on Chinese architecture and urban culture in the mid 1940s and 1950s. The book then examines Scharoun's postwar architectural designs and urban planning projects, most notably the Kollektivplan, the Volksschule Darmstadt, and the Berliner Philharmonie, which incorporated original spatial and urbanistic concepts such as Stadtlandschaft, Raum der Mitte, andaperspectival space, inspired to varying degrees by Chinese architectural and urban planning traditions. The book will appeal to scholars and students of modern architecture, urban planning, and architectural theory, especially those interested in modernism and East-West cultural exchange. A Political History of the World Jonathan Holslag, 2018-10-25. A three thousand year history of the world that examines the causes of war and the search for peace. In three thousand years of history, China has spent at least eleven centuries at war. The Roman Empire was in conflict during at least 50 per cent of its lifetime. Since 1776, the United States has spent over one hundred years at war. The dream of peace has been universal in the history of humanity. So why have we so rarely been able to achieve it? In A Political History of the World, Jonathan Holslag has produced a sweeping history of the world from the Iron Age to the present that investigates the causes of conflict between empires, nations, and peoples, and the attempts at diplomacy and cosmopolitanism. A bird's eye view of three thousand years of history, the book illuminates the forces shaping world politics from Ancient Egypt to the Han Dynasty, the Pax Romana to the rise of Islam, the Peace of Westphalia to the creation of the United Nations. This truly global approach enables Holslag to search for patterns across different eras and regions and explore larger questions about war, diplomacy, and power. Has trade fostered peace? What are the limits of diplomacy? How does environmental change affect stability? Is war a universal sin of power? At a time when the threat of nuclear war looms again, this is a much needed history intended for students of international politics and anyone looking for a background on current events. Learning from China Carl Fingerhuth, 2004. The powerful social and cultural transformations of recent decades, as expressed in the shape and form of the city, need to be examined and reviewed. New methods and procedures in urban planning and a new relationship between town and land are urgently required. Learning from China calls to mind that seminal work of the post-modern, Learning from Las Vegas, and relates the principles of Taoist thought and action to the perspectives for a new urban design beyond that of today's truly post-modern. Shanghai Expo

Tim Winter, 2012-10-02. In 2010, Shanghai hosted the largest, most spectacular and most expensive expo ever. Attracting a staggering 73 million visitors and costing around US $45 billion, Shanghai Expo broke the records in the history of world's fairs and universal expositions. With more than half of the world's population now living in cities, many of which face uncertain futures, this mega event confronted some of the key challenges facing humanity in the 21st Century, with its theme, 'Better City, Better Life'. Just two years after the Beijing Olympics, Shanghai Expo encapsulated a moment in history defined by China's rise as a global superpower and by the multiple challenges associated with developing more sustainable cities. The thirteen essays here, written by a team of interdisciplinary researchers, offer a uniquely detailed analysis of this globally significant event. Chapters examine displays of futurity and utopia, the limitations of inter-cultural dialogue and the ways in which this mega-event reflected its geo-political and cultural moment. Shanghai Expo also concentrates on the interplay between declarations towards urban sustainability and the recent economic, demographic and socio-political trajectories of Shanghai and China more broadly. It will appeal to students and scholars of sociology, history, politics, international relations, economics, Asian studies, China studies, sustainability and urban studies.

Grid Planning in the Urban Design Practices of Senegal Liora Bigon, Eric Ross, 2020-01-01. This book is the first to trace the genealogy of an indigenous grid pattern, settlement design practice in Africa and more specifically in Senegal. It does so by analyzing how the precolonial grid plan design tradition of this country has become entangled with French colonial urban grid planning and with present-day hybrid planning cultures. By thus transcending the classic precolonial/colonial/postcolonial metahistorical divides, this properly illustrated book consists of five chapters including an introductory chapter, historiography, theory and context, and a concluding chapter. The chapters' text has both a chronological and thematic rationale aimed at enhancing Islamic Studies by situating sub-Saharan Africa's urbanism within mainstream research on the Muslim World and at contributing directly to the wider project of de-Eurocentring urban planning history by developing a more inclusive, truly global urban history.

Routledge Handbook of Heritage in Asia Patrick Daly, Tim Winter, 2012-03-29. This Handbook is the first major volume to examine the conservation of Asia's culture and nature in relation to the wider social, political and economic forces shaping the region today. Throughout Asia, rapid economic and social change means the region's heritage is at once under threat and undergoing a revival as never before. As societies look forward, competing forces ensure they re-visit the past and the inherited with the conservation of nature and culture now driven by the broader agendas of identity, politics, tradition, revival, rapid development, environmentalism and sustainability. In response to these new and important trends, the twenty-three accessible chapters here go beyond sector-specific analyses to examine heritage in interdisciplinary and critically engaged terms encompassing the natural and the cultural, the tangible and intangible. Emerging environmentalisms, urban planning, identity politics, conflict, memorialization, tourism and biodiversity are among the topics covered here. This path-breaking volume will be of particular interest to students and scholars working in the fields of heritage, tourism, archaeology, Asian studies, geography, anthropology, development, sociology and cultural and postcolonial studies.

Yinyang Robin Wang, 2012-09-24. The concept of yinyang lies at the heart of Chinese thought and culture. This book explores the relationship between these two opposing forces.

The Grand Documentation Eduard Kögel, 2015-11-13. Ernst Boerschmann was the most influential foreign architectural researcher in China in the first half of the twentieth century. This book concerns his three-year research expedition through the Chinese Empire, 1906-1909. He was the first Westerner to systematically document China's religious architecture returning from his travels with thousands of photographs sketches and architectural surveys His six major publications leading up to 1931 described here alongside the reactions they caused were milestones on the path to formal study of Chinese architectural history long before Chinese academics themselves began to take interest in the subject in the 1930s

Urban Planning and Development in China and Other East Asian Countries Guanzeng Zhang, Lan Wang, 2018-10-29 This book examines urban development and its role in planning in China and other Asian cities Starting with a substantial narrative on the history development philosophy and urban form of ancient Asian cities it then identifies the characteristics of urban society and different phases of development history It then discusses urbanization patterns in China with a focus on spatial layout of the city clusters in the Yangtze River Delta since the 20th Century Lastly it explores institutional design and the legal system of urban planning in China and other Asian cities As a textbook for the Model Course in English for international students listed by the Ministry of Education in China it helps international researchers and students to understand urban development and planning in Asian cities
