Maine Forms of American Architecture ,1976 Homelands Richard L. Nostrand, Lawrence E. Estaville, 2003-05-01

What does it mean to be from somewhere If most people in the United States are from some place else what is an American homeland In answering these questions the contributors to Homelands A Geography of Culture and Place across America offer a geographical vision of territory and the formation of discrete communities in the U S today Homelands discusses groups such as the Yankees in New England Old Order Amish in Ohio African Americans in the plantation South Navajos in the Southwest Russians in California and several other peoples and places Homelands explores the connection of people and place by showing how aspects of several different North American groups found their niche and created a homeland A collection of fifteen essays Homelands is an innovative look at geographical concepts in community settings It is also an exploration of the academic work taking place about homelands and their people of how factors such as culture settlement and cartographic concepts come together in American sociology There is much not only to study but also to celebrate about American homelands As the editors state Underlying today s pluralistic society are homelands large and small strong and weak that endure in some way The mosaic of homelands to which people bonded in greater or lesser degrees affirms in a holistic way America s diversity its pluralistic society The authors depict the cultural effects of immigrant settlement The conviction that people need to participate in the life of the homeland to achieve their own self realization within the traditions and comforts of that community Homelands gives us a new map of the United States a map drawn with people s lives and the land that is their home Architecture and Town Planning in Colonial North America James D.

Kornwolf, Georgiana Wallis Kornwolf, 2002 Incorporating more than 3 000 illustrations Kornwolf s work conveys the full range of the colonial encounter with the continent s geography from the high forms of architecture through formal landscape design and town planning From these pages emerge the fine arts of environmental design an understanding of the political and economic events that helped to determine settlement in North America an appreciation of the various architectural and landscape forms that the settlers created and an awareness of the diversity of the continent s geography and its peoples Considering the humblest buildings along with the mansions of the wealthy and powerful public buildings forts and churches Kornwolf captures the true dynamism and diversity of colonial communities their rivalries and frictions their outlooks and attitudes as they extended their hold on the land Summer by the Seaside Bryant Franklin Tolles, 2008 A sweeping richly illustrated architectural study of the large historic New England coastal resort hotels

John Calvin Stevens, Domestic Architecture, 1890-1930

John Calvin Stevens, Earle G. Shettleworth (Jr.), 1990 Paradise Valley, Nevada Howard W. Marshall, 1995 Stonemasons from the Alpine valleys of northwestern Italy shaped the architectural face of Paradise Valley in northern Nevada in the 1860s and 1870s Drawing on their own distinctive skills they constructed the constellation of granite and sandstone buildings that are the region's most visible landmarks Marshall's analysis of this architectural legacy illustrated with 229 photographs and 70 line drawings is not only a valuable resource for scholars in vernacular architecture folklore and cultural geography but also a verbal and visual treat for all who love the American West The Steeples of Old New England Kirk Shivel, 1998

The church steeple was one of the first art forms to be cultivated in this new land becoming one of early America's principal artistic achievements. The backstory of this distinctive art form is a fascinating one. The Yankees, a homogenous group, emerged in New England in the early 18th century. Their artistic abilities in design are also prevalent in silverwork and furniture craft; however, it was in their steeples that they excelled and in which they were best expressed. In The Steeples of Old New England, Kirk Shivel traces both the history of these steeples and the Yankee society that built them, including many examples and anecdotes covering the period between 1701 through 1860. This book provides a wealth of information for students of history, architecture, and religion, or anyone else interested in reading about or visiting these historical landmarks. These magnificent edifices rose up everywhere on the newly settled New England landscape, the earliest built only a half century before the American Revolution and the last built right before the Civil War. There are over 115 exquisitely beautiful illustrations, some full color and others taken from documents of the period. A comprehensive directory and bibliography are also included.

The Bicentennial of the United States of America American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, 1977 The American Architect, 1925 The Architecture of Bowdoin College Patricia McGraw

Anderson, 1988 Paradise Planned Robert A.M. Stern, David Fishman, Jacob Tilove, 2013-12-03 Paradise Planned is the definitive history of the development of the garden suburb, a phenomenon that originated in England in the late eighteenth century, was quickly adopted in the United States and northern Europe, and gradually proliferated throughout the world. These bucolic settings offered an ideal lifestyle, typically outside the city but accessible by streetcar, train, and automobile. Today, the principles of the garden city movement are once again in play, as retrofitting the suburbs has become a central issue in planning. Strategies are emerging that reflect the goals of garden suburbs in creating metropolitan communities that embrace both the intensity of the city and the tranquility of nature. Paradise Planned is the comprehensive encyclopedic record of this movement, a vital contribution to architectural and planning history, and an essential recourse for guiding the repair of the American townscape.

Big House, Little House, Back House, Barn Thomas C. Hubka, 2022-12-07 A classic work on farm buildings made by nineteenth-century New Englanders, refreshed with a new introduction. Big House, Little House, Back House, Barn portrays the four essential components of the stately and beautiful connected farm buildings made by nineteenth-century New Englanders that stand today as a living expression of a rural culture, offering insights into the people who made them and their agricultural way of life. A visual delight as well as an engaging tribute to our nineteenth-century forebears, this book, first published nearly forty years ago, has become one of the standard works on regional farmsteads in America. This new edition features a new preface by the author.

To Live in the New World Judith K. Major, 1997 While most historians and critics have focused on the treatise, Judith Major gives equal emphasis to Downing's spirited monthly editorials in The Horticulturist. In the journal, Downing spoke to Americans and encouraged his countrymen and women to practice economy, to use America's rich natural resources wisely, yet artfully, to be content with a little cottage and a few fine native trees Our Days Are Like Full Years Harriet Pattison, 2020-10-27 An intimate glimpse into the professional and romantic relationship between Harriet Pattison and the renowned architect Louis Kahn On a winter day in 1953 a mysterious man in a sheepskin coat stood out to Harriet Pattison then a theater student at Yale She would later learn he was the architect Louis Kahn 1901 1974 This chance encounter served as preamble to a fifteen year romance with Pattison becoming the architect's closest confidante his intellectual partner and the mother of his only son Here for the first time Pattison recounts their passionate and sometimes searing relationship Married and twenty seven years her senior Kahn sent her scores of letters many from far flung places until his untimely death This book weaves together Pattison's own story with letters postcards telegrams drawings and photographs that reveal Kahn's inner life and his architectural thought process including new insight into some of his greatest works both built and unbuilt What emerges is at once a poignant love story and a vivid portrait of a young woman striving to raise a family while forging an artistic path in the shadow of her famous partner Carson Site and the Late Ceramic Period in Passamaquoddy Bay, New Brunswick David Sanger, 1987-01-01 In 1969 the Carson site BgDr 5 on the eastern side of Digdeguash Harbor on the northern side of Passamaquoddy Bay is one of several shell middens excavated as part of an investigation into the nature of prehistoric adaptations to the environment of southwestern New Brunswick Published in English Pietro Belluschi Meredith L. Clausen, 1994 Meredith Clausen reveals the enormous power that Belluschi wielded as an arbiter of taste and decision maker in the 1950s and 1960s his role in shaping the policy of the State Department in its overseas building program and his role in securing major commissions for favored architects such as I M Pei Equally important is Clausen's discussion of Belluschi's role in the development of regionalism in the Pacific Northwest and its impact on the definition of modernism as it was emerging in the United States Maine Forms of American Architecture Maine State American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, 1976 Charlevoix Philippe Dubé, Jacques Blouin, 1990 When asked Where is Murray Bay US President Taft always replied Murray Bay is a state of mind For over two hundred years the Charlevoix region has played host to some of the world's most famous and adventurous travellers Considered the Newport of Canada Charlevoix has been a meeting place for rural French Canadians and urban English speaking visitors
