also added a companion title All About Nubble Light to his impressive body of work Lighthouses of Bar Harbor and the Acadia Region Timothy E. Harrison, 2009 With the exception of Mount Desert Island's Bass Harbor Head Lighthouse the lighthouses of Bar Harbor and the Acadia region are among the most remote and lesser known lighthouses of Maine As the vessel traffic changed in these areas in the early 1900s some of these lighthouses were sold into private ownership while others became less important as aids to navigation Since the structures were located on remote islands or in a highly restricted military installation the photographs and historical firsthand memories of most of these lighthouses have remained elusive and seemingly lost in the dusty pages of time Through vintage photographs Lighthouses of Bar Harbor and the Acadia Region uncovers the history of these structures that kept watch over Maine's rocky coast When the Southern Lights Went Dark Mary Louise Clifford, J. Candace Clifford, 2023-10-01 The Confederacy extinguished the lights in all the lighthouses it controlled long before any shots were fired at Fort Sumter When the Southern Lights Went Dark The Lighthouse Establishment During the Civil War tells the story of the men who assumed the daunting task of finding the lenses and lamps repairing deliberate destruction to the towers and lightships and relighting them as soon as the Navy could afford them protection From Cape Hatteras to Ocracoke Light Jupiter Inlet to Tybee Island St Simons to Cockspur Island and others these are the stories from a unique era in United States lighthouse history Unlike in peace time when military officers filled the posts of engineer and inspector in each lighthouse district civilians had to be found who were not only talented enough to build and maintain lighthouses but also could supervise a party of workmen and make decisions on their own Those men in the field had to find keepers see that they were paid and ensure they had food water and essential supplies The Lighthouse Board was far away in Washington and could do little more than give advice order needed equipment record the dispatches from the field and pay the bills it received From Cape Hatteras to Ocracoke Light Jupiter Inlet to Tybee Island St Simons to Cockspur Island and others these are the stories from a unique era in United States lighthouse history The Field Guide to Lighthouses of the New England Coast Elinor De Wire, Icons of the American shoreline the lighthouses of the Atlantic coast stand in eloquent witness to the nation's rich seafaring history A guide to the longest standing sentinels of all those of New England this engaging illustrated handbook takes you on a fascinating fact filled tour of the historic lighthouses of Maine Massachusetts Rhode Island Connecticut Vermont and New Hampshire Written by one of the nation's most respected lighthouse historians this pocket field guide is as informative as it is easy to use You will find historical and architectural details anecdotes about deadly storms hauntings and life as a lightkeeper and directions to more than 150 lighthouses from Cape Neddick in Maine to Boston Light America's first true lighthouse Here are the towers of limestone granite and iron gracing shipwrecking islands aptly called The Miseries and The Graves as well as the beacons once fueled by whale oil and kerosene still standing at colorfully named points such as Burnt Coat Harbor and Deer Island Thorofare With eye catching color photographs vintage postcards and historical black and white images this field guide is the ideal companion for travelers tourists and history buffs alike as they explore the lighthouses of New England Baker Island Cornelia J. Cesari, 2018-06-18 Baker Island is a quintessential Maine island frozen in time It was settled in 1806 by one family and the island's population peaked at about two dozen people in five households at mid century The US government made use of the island's strategic location at the entrance to Frenchman's Bay with a lighthouse and military facilities Wealthy artistic and academic summer visitors to the region so called rusticators discovered its charm as a day trip destination However by 1930 only the lightkeeper's family remained Now mostly part of Acadia National Park these 123 acres are precious to a disproportionate number of people Every season visitors flock to the area scenic tour airplanes fly overhead and narrated boat tours skirt the shoreline Park rangers lead interpretive tours almost daily leaving from Bar Harbor for half day visits Each summer thousands moor their private boats and row ashore honeymooning celebrating and even scattering ashes Five generations of rusticators have held picnics on the tempestuous south shore's expansive pink granite surface known as the Dance Floor A History of South Carolina Lighthouses John Hairr, 2014-02-25 Before radar depth finders and satellite guided navigation long before the seafloor was charted with scientific precision mariners relied on lighthouses to approach a coastline safely South Carolina's history with lighthouses goes back nearly two and a half centuries At Cape Romain a windmill was converted into a lighthouse St Philip's Church in Charleston was converted into a beacon for seafarers to aid navigation to the Holy City With such a long and storied past the story of South Carolina's lighthouses is inseparable from its maritime history Join author John Hairr as he recounts the fascinating history of these beacons that have shone above the shores of the Palmetto State Catalogue of the Public Documents of the ... Congress and of All Departments of the Government of the United States for the Period from ... to ..., 1929 Looking Astern Loretta Krupinski, 2010-04-01 Nationally recognized maritime artist Loretta Krupinski's meticulously rendered oil paintings show fascinating details of Maine's waterfront towns in their heyday when fishing quarrying and the cargo trade were the backbone of the coastal economy Historic photographs and text about how Maine people made their living 70 to 150 years ago round out this rich and varied portrayal of a past way of life Catalogue of the Public Documents of the [the Fifty-third] Congress [to the 76th Congress] and of All Departments of the Government of the United States United States. Superintendent of Documents, 1896 The History of the Invention of the Dioptric Lights, Etc David Brewster, 1862 The Last Lighthouse Sharma Krauskopf, 2000 This work depicts the nine year quest of an American couple an agricultural advisor and a writer webmaster living on a farm in Michigan USA to own and live in a remote Scottish lighthouse keeper's home In the form of e-mails the book gives an intimate view of the gleefully reported successes and the less happily reported tragedies along the way and describes the joys and difficulties of running and living in such a home in a remote but beautiful part of the Shetlands
