Maiolica In The Making:

Maiolica in the Making Catherine Hess,1999 In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries potters from the Italian village of Castelli d'Abruzzo created wares that constitute a final supremely pictorial phase of the tin glazed earthenware art known as maiolica Here Catherine Hess documents the Gentili Barabei archive a recently acquired collection of 276 documents relating to these celebrated ceramics to show how it illuminates the production of maiolica Maiolica: Italian Renaissance Ceramics in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Timothy Wilson,2016-08-29 The form of tin glazed earthenware known as maiolica reveals much about the culture and spirit of Renaissance Italy Engagingly decorative often spectacularly colorful sometimes whimsical or frankly bawdy these magnificent objects which were generally made for use rather than simple ornamentation present a fascinating glimpse into the realities of daily life Though not as well known as Renaissance painting and sculpture maiolica is also prized by collectors and amateurs of the decorative arts the world over This volume offers highlights of the world class collection of maiolica at the Metropolitan Museum It presents 135 masterpieces that reflect more than four hundred years of exquisite artistry ranging from early pieces from Pesaro including an eight figure group of the Lamentation the largest most ambitious piece of sculpture produced in a Renaissance maiolica workshop to everyday objects such as albarelli pharmacy jars bella donna plates and humorous genre scenes Each piece has been newly photographed for this volume and each is presented with a full discussion provenance exhibition history publication history notes on form and glaze and condition report Two essays by Timothy Wilson widely considered the foremost scholar in the field provide overviews of the history and technique of maiolica as well as an account of the formation of The Met's collection Also featured is a wide ranging introduction by Luke Syson that examines how the function of an object governed the visual and compositional choices made by the pottery painter As the latest volume in The Met's series of decorative arts highlights Maiolica is an invaluable resource for scholars and collectors as well as an absorbing general introduction to a multifaceted subject

Unlike many narratives about the Czech lands which place them on the periphery of their own history this study considers Czechs as central characters looking both east and west to find their place in the early modern world Islam Christianity and the Making of Czech Identity 1453 1683 works through the descriptive and ethnographic texts produced by Czech speakers about Islam and the Ottoman Empire to show how they used this discourse to create Czech identities Rather than simply constructing identity in opposition to the Islamic Other Laura Lisy Wagner shows how these authors played the Holy Roman and Ottoman Empires off each other creating an autonomous space for themselves in between Lisy Wagner introduces sources that are new to English language historiography and uses them in a way that is new to Czech historiography as well The chapters are organized based on different categories of agents travelers ethnographers religious leaders artists and political revolutionaries whose voices cast ideas of Europe and Czech identity in the early modern period in a new and different light Historic Ornament James Ward, 1897 5000 Years of Tiles Hans Van Lemmen, 2013-10-22 A

Archaeology of Martin's Hundred Ivor Noël Hume, Audrey Noel Hume, Audrey Noël Hume, 2016-07-18 The Archaeology of Martin s Hundred explores the history and artifacts of a 20 000 acre tract of land in Tidewater Virginia one of the most extensive English enterprises in the New World Settled in 1618 all signs of its early occupation soon disappeared leaving no trace above ground More than three centuries later archaeological explorations uncovered tantalizing evidence of the people who had lived worked and died there in the seventeenth century Part I Interpretive Studies addresses four critical questions each with complex and sometimes unsatisfactory answers Who was Martin What was a hundred When did it begin and end Where was it located We then see how scientific detective work resulted in a reconstruction of what daily life must have been like in the strange and dangerous new land of colonial Virginia The authors use first person accounts documents of all sorts and the treasure trove of artifacts carefully unearthed from the soil of Martin s Hundred Part II Artifact Catalog illustrates and describes the principal artifacts in 110 figures The objects divided by category and by site range from ceramics which were the most readily and reliably datable to glass of which there was little to metalwork in all its varied aspects from arms and armor to rail splitters wedges and finally to tobacco pipes The Archaeology of Martin s Hundred is a fascinating account of the ways archaeological fieldwork laboratory examination and analysis based on lifelong study of documentary and artifact research came together to increase our knowledge of early colonial history Copublished with the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation
