Interpreting in Nazi Concentration Camps Michaela Wolf, 2016-07-28 This significant new study is concerned with the role of interpreting in Nazi concentration camps where prisoners were of 30 to 40 different nationalities With German as the only official language in the lager communication was vital to the prisoners survival While in the last few decades there has been extensive research on the language used by the camp inmates investigation into the mediating role of interpreters between SS guards and prisoners on the one hand and among inmates on the other has been almost nonexistent On the basis of Primo Levi's considerations on communication in the Nazi concentrationary system this book investigates the ambivalent role of interpreting in the camps One of the central questions is what the role of interpreting was in the wider context of shaping life in concentration camps And in what way did the knowledge of languages and accordingly certain communication skills contribute to the survival of concentration camp inmates and of the interpreting person The main sources under investigation are both archive materials and survivors memoirs and testimonials in various languages On a different level Interpreting in Nazi Concentration Camps also asks in what way the study of communication in concentration camps enhances our understanding of the ambiguous role of interpreting in more general terms And in what way does the study of interpreting in concentration camps shape an interpreting concept which can help us to better understand the violent nature of interpreting in contexts other than the Holocaust Majdanek, Concentration Camp Czesław Rajca, 1983

The Belzec Death Camp Chris Webb, 2016-03-01 This book is a comprehensive account of the Belzec death camp in Poland which was the first death

camp using static gas chambers as part of the Aktion Reinhardt mass murder program This study covers the construction and the development of the mass murder process The story is painstakingly told from all sides the Jewish inmates the perpetrators and the Polish inhabitants of Belzec village who lived near the factory of death A major part of this work is the Jewish Roll of Remembrance that covers the few survivors and details of some of the Jews among the many hundreds of thousands who perished in Belzec The book is richly illustrated with historical and modern photographs as well as documents and drawings some of the photographs have never before been seen in public Concentration Camp Majdanek Jürgen Graf, Carlo Mattogno, 2003 Amazingly little scientific investigation had been directed toward the concentration camp Lublin Majdanek in central Poland even though orthodox Holocaust sources claimed that between fifty thousand and over a million Jews were murdered there The only information available from public libraries is thoroughly discredited Polish Communists propaganda This glaring research gap has finally been filled After exhaustive research of primary sources and a thorough exploration of the physical remainders of the former concentration camp Mattogno and Graf created a monumental study which expertly dissects and repudiates the myth of homicidal gas chambers at Majdanek They also investigated the legendary mass executions of Jews in tank trenches Operation Harvest Festival critically and prove them groundless The authors investigations lead to unambiguous conclusions about the camp which are radically different from the official theses Again they have produced a standard and methodical investigative work which authentic historiography can not ignore
