Mastering The Machine Poverty Aid And Technology:

Mastering the Machine Ian Smillie, 1991 Mastering the Machine attempts to answer the question Is small still beautiful drawing on case studies and previously unpublished material from Africa Asia Latin America and the Caribbean It draws on the lessons of history and three development decades to suggest how a more holistic approach to technology and its transfer can lead to genuine poverty reduction Mastering the Machine is about a hybrid era one caught somewhere between bronze and computers between sail and jet engines one in which quality has become confused with quantity and means with ends For the South the Third World It is a time of immense technological opportunity and optimism It is also a period of unimaginable poverty and hopelessness It is a time of ferment change and technological growth And it is unlike any other period in history for today in addition to artisans and artists farmers machinists and dreamers the direction of technology is influenced and fashioned by bureaucrats economists faraway corporate planners aid agencies and charities Never before in history have so many nontechnical people exerted so much influence on the advancement retardation and movement of technology This book is about the interaction between these people and between poverty aid and technology in the Third World

Mastering the Machine Revisited Ian Smillie, 2000 Mastering the Machine Revisited is about the connection between poverty aid and technology It is about the search driven today by greater extreme poverty than has ever been known and by a realization that the technologies applied to the problem have severe limitations The Human-Powered Home Tamara Dean, 2008-11-01 A complete guide to modern pedaled powered treadled and hand cranked devices for the home What if I could harness this energy An unusual question for anyone putting in a long stint on a treadmill perhaps and yet human power is a very old practical and empowering alternative to fossil fuels Replacing motors with muscles can be considered a political act an act of self sufficiency that gains you independence The Human Powered Home is a one of a kind compendium of human powered devices gathered from a unique collection of experts Enthusiasts point to the advantages of human power Portable and available on demand Close connection to the process or product offers more control Improved health and fitness The satisfaction of being able to make do with what is available This book discusses the science and history of human power and examines the common elements of human powered devices It offers plans for making specific devices grouped by area of use and features dozens of individuals who share technical details and photos of their inventions For those who want to apply their own ingenuity or for those who have never heard of human powered machines this book is a fine reference For those who are beginning to understand the importance of a life of reduced dependency on fossil fuels this book could be a catalyst for change The Earthscan Reader on World Transport Policy and Practice John Whitelegg, Gary Haq, 2017-09-05 Transport is now a critical problem throughout the world and it is set to get worse Whether it is traffic congestion crashes 10 million killed and injured each year noise air pollution landscape destruction or greenhouse gas emissions of which transport is the fastest growing source the damage and the costs from our current forms of transport are dangerously high and getting worse Policies and practical measures that can reduce and eliminate these problems are urgently needed This Reader contains 16 important contributions on how to improve transport globally They are based on sound science sound people centred analysis and a strong awareness of equity and human rights And they have been selected for their originality the importance of the issues they focus on the quality of their insight and their practical relevance A further 7 commissioned chapters provide informative overviews of the transport problems specific to each region of the world while the editors Introduction and Conclusion frames the discussion and lays out the scale of the challenges we face As a whole the Reader demonstrates what steps can be taken to improve both transport provision and use in both the developed and the developing world while reducing environmental and health impacts It will serve as an invaluable sourcebook for anyone researching or attempting to address the issues associated with world transport policy and practice whether students planners business people or policy makers

The Globalizers Jeffrey T. Jackson, 2007-09 He finds in the international development community a close knit coalition of policy makers who have inserted themselves into the local political process and pushed the Honduran nation state to conform to international norms and integrate into a transnational structure of governance

Poverty, Disadvantage, and the Promise of Enterprise Michael H. Morris, Susana C. Santos, 2024-08-22 Can entrepreneurship serve as a pathway out of poverty Are the poor able to create ventures that can improve their economic circumstances and enhance their lives Poverty Disadvantage and the Promise of Enterprise A Capabilities Perspective argue that it depends To understand the poverty and entrepreneurship interface we must first understand poverty Using a lens of disadvantage theory and the capabilities framework the book explores the implications of poverty's complex multi dimensional nature when one is trying to start and grow a business Four key liabilities directly impact the opportunities these individuals are able to recognize the types of ventures they create how the businesses perform and the impacts on the well being of the entrepreneur Because of these liabilities these ventures tend to fall into what the authors call the commodity trap where they struggle with low sales volumes and marginal profits However the trap is avoidable and with the right kinds of support the performance of these ventures can be meaningfully improved Key design elements of a successful intervention approach together with an alternative perspective on the roles of community based entrepreneurial ecosystems and public policy are introduced Emphasis is also placed on the critical roles of faith hustle and the fears of both failure and success

Making Do: Innovation in Kenya's Informal Economy , Acquisition of Technological Capability in Small Firms in Developing Countries H. Romijn, 1998-11-18 An authoritative examination of how small firms in developing countries acquire technological capability the knowledge and skills required to operate technology effectively and to adapt it to local conditions It fills a gap in the established literature on technological capability which has neglected the small scale sector in spite of the important role it plays in employment generation The author develops a methodology for a quantitative assessment of the learning process using case material from the small scale capital goods sector in Pakistan s Punjab Province      The Routledge Handbook of Tourism and Hospitality Education Dianne Dredge, David Airey, Michael J. Gross, 2014-10-03 Tourism is much more than an economic sector it is also a social cultural political and environmental force that drives societal change Understanding responding to and managing this change will inevitably require knowledge workers who are able to address a range of problems associated with tourism travel hospitality and the increasingly complex operating environment within which they exist The purpose of this Handbook is to provide an insightful and authoritative account of the various issues that are shaping the higher educational world of tourism hospitality and events education and to highlight the creative inventive and innovative ways that educators are responding to these issues It takes as its central focus a dynamic curriculum space shaped by internal and external factors from global to local scales a variety of values and perspectives contributed by a range of stakeholders and shifting philosophies about education policy pedagogy and teaching practice A benchmark for future curriculum design and development it critically reviews the development of conceptual and theoretical approaches to tourism and hospitality education The Handbook is composed of contributions from specialists in the field is interdisciplinary in coverage and international in scope through its authorship and content Providing a systematic guide to the current state of knowledge on tourism and hospitality education and its future direction this is essential reading for students researchers and academics in Tourism Hospitality Events Recreation and Leisure Studies      Grassroots Development ,1994      From Conflict to Crisis Jeanne M. Haskin, 2012 A society that is reared on competition will face unsettling challenges to authority if it doesn t set certain functions outside the arena of battle via systematic enrichment of the affluent minority that has always had the power to topple and ruin the system Today s preoccupation with America s revolutionary history is not just a piece of theater At the heart of America s outrage is an inability to lash out and demand redemption from the source of its distress because the pain is inflicted not by hatred but by the fundamental lack of stability built into our way of life      Globalization of Technology Prasada Reddy, 2009-08-25 Globalization of Technology is a component of Encyclopedia of Technology Information and Systems Management Resources in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias This book on Globalization of Technology provides the essential aspects and fundamentals of Issues in Technology Transfer and Technological Capability Building such as Techno Economic Paradigms and Latecomer Industrialization Knowledge Networks and the Internet Technology Transfer Vehicles Conditions Spillovers and Policy Challenges The Social Implications of Technological Development Industrialization and Innovation as a Collective Process This volume is aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College students Educators Professional practitioners Research personnel and Policy analysts managers and decision makers and NGOs      Society and Technological Change, Fourth Edition Rudi Volti, 2001 Argues that society pushes for technological change that in turn shapes society      Engineering and Society: Working Towards Social Justice, Part I Caroline Baillie, George Catalano, 2022-05-31 Engineers work in an increasingly complex entanglement of ideas people cultures technology systems and environments Today decisions made by engineers often have serious implications for not only their clients but for society as a whole and the natural world Such decisions may potentially influence cultures ways of living as well as alter ecosystems which are in delicate balance In order to make appropriate decisions and to co create ideas and innovations within and among the complex networks of communities which currently exist and are shaped by our decisions we need to regain our place as professionals to realise the significance of our work and to take responsibility in a much deeper sense Engineers must develop the ability to respond to emerging needs of all people across all cultures To do this requires insights and knowledge which are at present largely within the domain of the social and political sciences but which need to be shared with our students in ways which are meaningful and relevant to engineering This book attempts to do just that In Part 1 Baillie introduces ideas associated with the ways in which engineers relate to the communities in which they work Drawing on scholarship from science and technology studies globalisation and development studies as well as work in science communication and dialogue this introductory text sets the scene for an engineering community which engages with the public In Part 2 Catalano frames the thinking processes necessary to create ethical and just decisions in engineering to understand the implications of our current decision making processes and think about ways in which we might adapt these to become more socially just in the future In Part 3 Baillie and Catalano have provided case studies of everyday issues such as water garbage and alarm clocks to help us consider how we might see through the lenses of our new knowledge from Parts 1 and 2 and apply this to our every day existence as engineers Table of Contents Introduction Engineering and Society Engineering and the Public Globalisation Development and Technology

Nanotechnology and the Challenges of Equity, Equality and Development Susan E. Cozzens,Jameson

Wetmore,2010-10-10 Nanotechnology is enabling applications in materials microelectronics health and agriculture which are projected to create the next big shift in production comparable to the industrial revolution Such major shifts always co evolve with social relationships This book focuses on how nanotechnologies might affect equity equality in global society

Nanotechnologies are likely to open gaps by gender ethnicity race and ability status as well as between developed and developing countries unless steps are taken now to create a different outcome Organizations need to change their practices and cultural ideas must be broadened if currently disadvantaged groups are to have a more equal position in nano society rather than a more disadvantaged one Economic structures are likely to shift in the nano revolution requiring policymakers and participatory processes to invent new institutions for social welfare better suited to the new economic order than those of the past

Reluctant Partners? Non-Governmental Organizations, the State and Sustainable Agricultural Development Anthony Bebbington,John Farrington,David J. Lewis,Kate Wellard,2005-07-15 Reluctant Partners combines comprehensive empirical insights into NGOs work in agriculture with wider considerations of their relations with the State and their contribution to democratic pluralism This overview volume for the Non Governmental Organizations series contextualizes and synthesizes the case study material in the three regional volumes on Africa Asia and Latin America where over sixty specially commissioned case studies of farmer participatory approaches to agricultural innovation are presented Specific questions are raised How good bad are NGOs at promoting technological innovation and addressing constraints to change in peasant culture How effective are NGOs at strengthening local organizations How do will donor pressures influence NGOs and their links to the State

The Routledge Companion to Alternative Organization Martin Parker, George Cheney, Valérie Fournier, Chris Land, 2014-01-03 Despite the Great Recession slightly different forms of global capitalism are still portrayed as the only game in town by the vast majority of people in power in the world today Unbridled growth trade liberalisation and competition are advocated as the only or best ways of organizing the contemporary world Unemployment yawning gaps between rich and poor political disengagement and environmental devastation are too often seen as acceptable side effects of the dominance of neo liberalism But the reality is that capitalism has always been contested and that people have created many other ways of providing for themselves This book explores economic and organizational possibilities which extend far beyond the narrow imagination of economists and management theorists Chapters on co operatives community currencies the transition movement scrounging co housing and much more paints a rich picture of the ways in which another world is not only possible but already taking shape The aim of this companion is to move beyond complaining about the present and into exploring this diversity of organisational possibilities Our starting point is a critical analysis of contemporary global capitalism is merely the opening for thinking about organizing as a form of politics by other means and one that can be driven by the values of solidarity freedom and responsibility This comprehensive companion with an international cast of contributors gives voice to forms of organizing which remain unrepresented or marginalised in organizational studies and conventional politics yet which offer more promising grounds for social and environmental justice It is a valuable resource for students activists and researchers interested in alternative approaches to economy and society in a variety of disciplinary and interdisciplinary fields Proceedings ,1998

Non-Governmental Organisations - Performance and Accountability Michael Edwards, David Hulme, 2014-03-18 The last decade has seen some significant changes in international development and in the status of non governmental organisations operating in the field Not only has the number of NGOs virtually doubled many of them have seen a considerable growth in their budgets and have grown closer to governments and official aid agencies NGOs are acknowledged by many to be more effective agents of development than governments or commercial interests even as a magic bullet for development problems Despite these positive trends the real impact of the NGO sector is not well documented This is partly because NGO performance assessment and accountability methods are weak and partly because NGOs are caught up increasingly in the world of official aid which pushes them towards certain forms of evaluation at the expense of others This unique book takes a hard and critical look at these issues and describes how NGOs can and must improve the way they measure and account for their performance if they are to be truly effective      The Big Catch A. F. Robertson, 2018-02-20 This interactive role playing case book is an enormously rich and stimulating way of challenging students to think about the problems of development and how development experts go about trying to alleviate them One of the most innovative and eloquent anthropologists of development A F Robertson has drawn from his extensive field experience to construct a hypothetical scenario of the sort typically encountered by those who are making development decisions
