Impressionism John I. Clancy, 2003 Defining an artistic era or movement is often a difficult task as one tries to group individualistic expressions and artwork under one broad brush Such is the case with impressionism which culls together the art of a multitude of painters in the mid 19th century including Monet Cezanne Renoir Degas and van Gogh Basically impressionism involved the shedding of traditional painting methods The subjects of art were taken from everyday life as opposed to the pages of mythology and history In addition each artist painted to express feelings of the moment instead of hewing to time honoured standards This description of impressionism obviously is quite broad and can apply to a wide array of styles Nonetheless it remains a very important school in the annals of art Any current or budding art aficionado should become familiar with the impressionist movement and its impact on the art world This book presents a sweeping study of this artistic period from its origins to its manifestations in the works of some of art history's most revered painters Following this overview is a substantial and selective bibliography featuring access through author title and subject indexes

Masterpieces of European Painting, 1800-1920, in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Kathryn Calley Galitz, 2007 Gender, Space, and the Gaze in Post-Haussmann Visual Culture Temma Balducci, 2017-03-27 Charles Baudelaire's Le peintre de la vie moderne as described in his 1863 essay The Painter of Modern Life remains central to understandings of gender space and the gaze in late nineteenth century Paris despite misgivings by some scholars

Baudelaire's privileged and leisurely figure at home on the boulevards underlies theorizations of bourgeois masculinity and by implication bourgeois femininity whereby men gaze and roam urban spaces unreservedly while women lacking the freedom to either gaze or roam are wedded to domesticity In challenging this tired paradigm and offering fresh ways to consider how gender space and the gaze were constructed this book attends to several neglected elements of visual and written culture the ubiquitous male beggar as the true denizen of the boulevard the abundant depictions of well to do women looking sometimes at men the popularity of windows and balconies as viewing perches and the overwhelming emphasis given by both male and female artists to domestic scenes The book's premise that gender space and the gaze have been too narrowly conceived by a scholarly embrace of Baudelaire's flâneur is supported across the cultural spectrum by period sources that include art criticism high and low visual culture newspapers novels prescriptive and travel literature architectural practices interior design trends and fashion journals The New Nineteenth-century European Paintings and Sculpture Galleries Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Gary Tinterow, Susan Alyson Stein, Barbara Burn, 1993

New York Magazine, 1991-10-14 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Breaking van Gogh James Ottar Grundvig, 2016-10-04 In Breaking van Gogh James Grundvig investigates the history and authenticity of van Gogh's iconic Wheat Field with Cypresses currently on display at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York Relying on a vast array of techniques from the study of the painter's biography and personal correspondence to the examination of the painting's style and technical characteristics Grundvig proves that the most expensive purchase housed in the Met is a fake The Wheat Field with Cypresses is traditionally considered to date to the time of van Gogh's stay in the Saint Remy mental asylum where the artist produced many of his masterpieces After his suicide these paintings languished for a decade until his sister in law took them to a family friend for restoration The restorer had other ideas In the course of his investigation Grundvig traces the incredible story of this piece from the artist's brushstrokes in sunlit southern France to a forger's den in Paris the art collections of a prominent Jewish banking family and a Nazi sympathizing Swiss arms dealer and finally the walls of the Met The riveting narrative weaves its way through the turbulent history of twentieth century Europe as the painting's fate is intimately bound with some of its major players

Public Parks, Private Gardens Colta Ives, 2018-03-05 The spectacular transformation of Paris during the 19th century into a city of tree lined boulevards and public parks both redesigned the capital and inspired the era s great Impressionist artists The renewed landscape gave crowded displaced urban dwellers green spaces to enjoy while suburbanites and country dwellers began cultivating their own flower gardens As public engagement with gardening grew artists increasingly featured flowers and parks in their work Public Parks Private Gardens includes masterworks by artists such as Bonnard Cassatt C zanne Corot Daumier Van Gogh Manet Matisse Monet and Seurat Many of these artists were themselves avid gardeners and they painted parks and gardens as the distinctive scenery of contemporary life Writing from the perspective of both a distinguished art historian and a trained landscape designer Colta Ives provides new insights not only into these essential works but also into this extraordinarily creative period in France s history
