Native Americans that persisted during this era The Governance of Not-for-Profit Organizations Edward L. Glaeser, 2007-11-01 Not for profit organizations play a critical role in the American economy In health care education culture and religion we trust not for profit firms to serve the interests of their donors customers employees and society at large We know that such firms don't try to maximize profits but what do they maximize This book attempts to answer that question assembling leading experts on the economics of the not for profit sector to examine the problems of the health care industry art museums universities and even the medieval church Contributors look at a number of different aspects of not for profit operations from the problems of fundraising endowments and governance to specific issues like hospital advertising The picture that emerges is complex and surprising In some cases not for profit firms appear to work extremely well competition for workers customers and donors leads not for profit organizations to function as efficiently as any for profit firm In other contexts large endowments and weak governance allow elite workers to maximize their own interests rather than those of their donors customers or society at large Taken together these papers greatly advance our knowledge of the dynamics and operations of not for profit organizations revealing the under explored systems of pressures and challenges that shape their governance The Rise and Fall of American Art, 1940s-1980s Assoc Prof Catherine Dossin, 2015-03-28 This book challenges the perception of New York as the undisputed center of the art world between the end of World War II and the fall of the Berlin Wall a position of power that brought the city prestige money and historical recognition In her transnational and interdisciplinary study Dossin analyses changing distributions of geopolitical and symbolic power in the Western art worlds a story that spans two continents forty years and hundreds of actors Painters of the Wasatch Mountains Robert S. Olpin, Thomas F. Rugh, Ann W. Orton, 2005 A distinct painting development with regard to the American West's Wasatch Range emerged in the nineteenth century and persists even today These painters of the Wasatch have set many precedents through their artistic interpretations of this mountain subject matter Painters of the Wasatch Mountains presents for the first time a survey of the gamut of painters who formed and have carried forward an expression of nature's mighty gift to both visitors and residents of Utah As natural successor to the Hudson River School in the East the Wasatch school persists because of the values we associate with that first of America's art movements a dedication to place a careful study and interpretation of the environment in a spiritual and cultural context The Painters of the Wasatch are not defined by a particular style or medium but by a physical presence that has unlimited appeal and inspiration Over 300 artworks are included from the earliest examples of painting in the nineteenth century to works by Utah's contemporary artists Also included are brief biographies of each artist with occasional stylistic analysis Artists featured in this book include William Warner Major Frank Ward Kent Dan Weggeland James T Harwood John W Clawson Edwin Evans Lee Greene Richards John Tullidge Lawrence Squires Valoy Eaton LeConte Stewart Mahonri Young John H Stansfield Hal Burrows Waldo Midgley Maynard Dixon Joseph A F Everett Francis L Horspool Alice Merrill Horne Dean Fausett Dennis Phillips Tom Leek Gary E

Smith The Rise and Fall of American Art, 1940s-1980s Catherine Dossin, 2016-03-03 In The Rise and Fall of American Art 1940s 1980s Catherine Dossin challenges the now mythic perception of New York as the undisputed center of the art world between the end of World War II and the fall of the Berlin Wall a position of power that brought the city prestige money and historical recognition Dossin reconstructs the concrete factors that led to the shift of international attention from Paris to New York in the 1950s and documents how peripheries such as Italy Belgium and West Germany exerted a decisive influence on this displacement of power As the US economy sank into recession in the 1970s however American artists and dealers became increasingly dependent on the support of Western Europeans and cities like Cologne and Turin emerged as major commercial and artistic hubs a development that enabled European artists to return to the forefront of the international art scene in the 1980s Dossin analyses in detail these changing distributions of geopolitical and symbolic power in the Western art worlds a story that spans two continents forty years and hundreds of actors Her transnational and interdisciplinary study provides an original and welcome supplement to more traditional formal and national readings of the period Angels of
