Building Urban Resilience through Change of Use Sara J. Wilkinson, Hilde Remøy, 2018-04-30 Describes all aspects of sustainable conversion adaptation of existing buildings and provides solutions for making urban settlements resilient to climate change This comprehensive book explores the potential to change the character of cities with residential conversion of office space in order to withstand the negative effects of climate change It investigates the nature and extent of sustainable conversion in a number of global cities as well as the political economic social technological environmental and legal drivers and barriers to successful conversion The book also identifies the key lessons learned through international comparisons with cases in the UK US Australia and the Netherlands Building Urban Resilience Through Change of Use covers the benefits and aspects of sustainable conversion adaptation through the whole lifecycle from inception planning and design to procurement construction and management and operational issues It illustrates and quantifies through empirical research the changes that have been achieved or delivered in sustainable conversion adaptation The book gives an overview of all aspects of performance characteristics and the conversion adaptation of existing buildings In the end it enables planners to make more informed decisions about whether conversion adaptation is a good choice and if so which types of sustainability measures are best suited for projects Provides detailed empirical knowledge based on real world research undertaken in five countries over three continents on both a citywide scale and on individual buildings Case studies and exemplars demonstrate the application of the knowledge in North and South America Canada Australia New Zealand and in Europe Addresses the key themes of technology finance and procurement and the regulatory framework The first research based book to examine how to improve resilience to climate change through sustainable reuse of buildings Building Urban Resilience Through Change of Use is a welcome book for researchers and academics involved in building surveying urban development and sustainability planning

Building Innovation Capabilities for Sustainable Industrialisation Rasmus Lema, Margrethe Holm Andersen, Rebecca Hanlin, Charles Nzila, 2021-11-15 This book argues that renewable electrification in developing countries provides important opportunities for local economic development but new pathways are required for turning these opportunities into successful reality Building Innovation Capabilities for Sustainable Industrialisation offers a novel input into the debate on development of capabilities for sustainable industrialisation and delivers key insights for both researchers and policy makers when it comes to the question of how to increase the economic co benefits of renewables expansion The chapters in the book use a tailored analytical framework in their studies of renewable electrification efforts in Kenya and other countries in sub Saharan Africa They draw on a mix of project sector and country level case studies to address questions such as What capabilities are developed through on going renewable electrification projects in developing economies How can the expansion of renewable electrification be supported in a way that also encourages sustainable economic development What role do international linkages South South and North South play and what role should they play in the greening of energy systems in developing economies The authors provide a new understanding of how green transformation and sustainable industrialisation can be combined highlighting the opportunities and constraints for local capability building and the scope for local policy action This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of development studies energy studies sustainability and sustainable development as well as practitioners and policy makers working in development organisations and national governments The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9781003054665> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Cohesion, Coherence, Cooperation: European Spatial Planning Coming of Age? Andreas Faludi, 2010-10-18 Since its foundation the European Union has gradually developed policies that are aimed at achieving increased economic and social cohesion This book examines the coming of age of the most recent of these the concept of territorial cohesion With this book Andreas Faludi brings together years of research and expertise into a definitive single volume on spatial planning at the European level

UNITED STATES SHIPBUILDING STANDARDS MASTER PLAN, 1992 GA Document, 2002 Urban Flood Risk Management Christopher Silver, 2021-11-03 Like so many of the coastal cities in Southeast Asia and other regions established during European colonialism there has been an ongoing challenge for decades dealing with the growing frequency and intensity of flooding Jakarta's flood problems since the 1990s have been nothing less than monumental and the inability of the local and national governments to mitigate flooding in Jakarta is the most visible manifestation of fundamental water management deficiencies This book offers a comprehensive and systematic historical assessment of Jakarta's water management practices from the colonial era through the early years of the Indonesian republic and Jakarta's emergence as a sprawling megacity This book draws upon a vast multidisciplinary literature and a wide array of government documents to unravel the complex history of water management that has led to approximately 40% of the city now lying below sea level This book will be a useful reference to those who research on topics such as urbanization in Southeast Asia sustainable development urban and planning history environmental planning issues of water management and flooding and the politics of planning and development

Bracket 1 Mason White, Przybylski, Maya, 2010-12-15 Seeking new voices and design talent the new Bracket book series is structured around an open call for entries Conceived as an almanac the series looks at emerging thematics in our global age that are shaping the built environment in radically significant yet often unexpected ways

Bracket 1 On Farming looks at the capacity for architecture to address ideas and issues of productive landscapes and urbanisms Entries were selected by an international jury including Nathalie de Vries Charles Waldheim and Michael Speaks Once merely understood in terms of agriculture today information energy labour and landscape among others can be farmed Farming harnesses the efficiency of collectivity and community Whether cultivating land harvesting resources extracting energy or delegating labor farming reveals the interdependencies of our globalized world Simultaneously farming represents the local gesture the productive landscape and the alternative economy The processes of farming are mutable parametric and efficient Farming is the modification of infrastructure urbanisms architectures and landscapes toward a privileging of production development      Different Repetitions Branimir Medić, Pero Puljiz, Arthur Wortmann, Theo Deutinger, 2009 The Croatian Dutch architect duo of Branimir Medic and Pero Puljiz have a working method that could be described as cleverly linking and rearranging elements that just fall short of being identical By these means they convincingly create new forms and surprising spaces It is a method that yields buildings that are minimalist and at the same time dynamic Indeed their body of work can best be described as dynamic minimalist Educated as architects at Zagreb University the two continued their studies at the Berlage Institute in the Netherlands After winning first and second prize in the Dutch Prix de Rome in the mid 1990s the two decided not to establish their own office as was customary but instead to become partners at de Architekten Cie in Amsterdam From one day to the next they went from being fledgling architects to co directors of a major architectural firm Medic and Puljiz often follow a similarly individual path in their designs Different Repetitions shows in words and images the versatility but most of all their cohesion from the Acanthus office building in Amsterdam to the Cultural Centre in Tianjin China      Water Wells and Boreholes Bruce Misstear, David Banks, Lewis Clark, 2017-04-17 Water Wells and Boreholes focuses on wells that are used for drinking industry agriculture or other supply purposes Other types of wells and boreholes are also covered including boreholes for monitoring groundwater level and groundwater quality This fully revised second edition updates and expands the content of the original book whilst maintaining its practical emphasis The book follows a life cycle approach to water wells from identifying a suitable well site through to successful implementation operation and maintenance of the well to its eventual decommissioning Completely revised and updated throughout Water Wells and Boreholes Second edition is the ideal reference for final year undergraduate students in geology and civil engineering graduate students in hydrogeology civil engineering and environmental sciences research students who use well data in their research professionals in hydrogeology water engineering environmental engineering and geotechnical engineering and aid workers and others involved in well projects      What Makes a City? Planning for 'Quality of Place' J.J. Trip, 2007-02-23 Urban quality is generally considered increasingly important for urban competitiveness Nevertheless large urban redevelopment schemes often fail to provide sufficient quality from a user s perspective This study therefore investigates the role of urban quality in large scale urban redevelopment which is here elaborated in terms of Richard Florida s concept of quality of place In a number of extensive case studies it focuses on prestigious redevelopment projects around the high speed rail stations in Amsterdam Rotterdam and Lille It provides an analysis of the role of urban quality in the development of these projects as well as some insights in the applicability of quality of place in a wider Dutch context In addition the study advocates a more open and flexible planning process based on a distinctly long term perspective on urban quality      The End of Driving Bern Grush, John Niles, 2018-06-25 While many transportation and city planners researchers students practitioners and political leaders are familiar with the technical nature and promise of vehicle automation consensus is not yet often seen on the impact that will result or the policies and actions that those responsible for transportation systems should take The End of Driving Transportation Systems and Public Policy Planning for Autonomous Vehicles explores both the potential of vehicle automation technology and the barriers it faces when considering coherent urban deployment The book evaluates the case for deliberate development of automated public transportation and mobility as a service as paths towards sustainable mobility describing critical approaches to the planning and management of vehicle automation technology It serves as a reference for understanding the full life cycle of the multi year transportation systems planning processes including novel regulation planning and acquisition tools for regional transportation Application oriented research based and solution oriented rather than predict and warn The End of Driving concludes with a detailed discussion of the systems design needed for accomplishing this shift From the Foreword by Susan Shaheen The authors extend potential solutions through a set of open ended exercises after each chapter Their approach is both strategic and deliberate They lead the reader from definitions and context setting to the transition toward automation employing a range of creative strategies and policies While our quest to understand how to deploy automated vehicles is just beginning this book provides a thoughtful introduction to inform this evolution Offers a workable public transit solution design melding the traditional acquire and operate mode with the absorption of new technology Provides a step by step discussion of digital systems designs and effective regulation by data approaches needed for a new urban mobility Learning aids include case study scenarios chapter objectives and discussion questions sidebars and a glossary BC AD (English edition). Benthem Crouwel 1979-2009 ,2010 Sustainable Energy Systems Planning, Integration and Management Kim Guldstrand

Larsen,2020-01-21 Energy systems worldwide are undergoing major transformation as a consequence of the transition towards the widespread use of clean and sustainable energy sources Basically this involves massive changes in technical and organizational levels together with tremendous technological upgrades in different sectors ranging from energy generation and transmission systems down to distribution systems These actions generate huge science and engineering challenges and demands for expert knowledge in the field to create solutions for a sustainable energy system that is economically environmentally and socially viable while meeting high security requirements This book covers these promising and dynamic areas of research and development and presents contributions in sustainable energy systems planning integration and management Moreover the book elaborates on a variety of topics ranging from design and planning of small to large scale energy systems to the operation and control of energy networks in different sectors namely electricity heat and transport

Politics of Urban Knowledge Bert De Munck,Jens Lachmund,2023-03-23 This book uses politics of urban knowledge as a lens to understand how professionals administrations scholars and social movements have surveyed evaluated and theorized the city identified problems and shaped and legitimized practical interventions in planning and administration Urbanization has been accompanied and partly shaped by the formation of the city as a distinct domain of knowledge This volume uses politics of urban knowledge as a lens to develop a new perspective on urban history and urban planning history Through case studies of mainly 19th and 20th century examples the book demonstrates that urban knowledge is not simply a neutral means to represent cities as pre existing entities but rather the outcome of historically contingent processes and practices of urban actors addressing urban issues and the power relations in which they are embedded It shows how urban knowledge making has reshaped the categories rationales and techniques through which urban spaces were produced governed and contested and how the knowledge concerned became performative of newly emerging urban orders The volume will be of interest to scholars and students in the field of urban history and urban studies as well as the history of technology science and knowledge and of science studies
