

There are no makers of peace because the making of peace is at least as costly as the making of war – at least as exigent.

Masters Of War Makers Of Peace:

Masters of War Makers of Peace Joseph Harrington, Nicholas Racheotes, 1980 Peace Or War? Joseph Montague Kenworthy Baron Strabolgi, 1927 War, Peace and Progress in the 21st Century Mark Berger, Heloise Weber, 2013-09-13 The history of development is one marked by insecurities violence and persistent conflict It is not surprising therefore that development is now thought of as one of the central challenges of world politics However its complexities are often overlooked in scholarly analysis and among policy practitioners who tend to adopt a technocratic approach to the crisis of development and violence This book brings together a wide range of contributions aimed at investigating different aspects of the history of development and violence and its implications for contemporary efforts to consolidate the development security nexus From environmental concerns through vigilante citizenship to the legacies of armed conflicts during and after decolonization the different chapters reconstruct the contradictory history of development and critically engage contemporary responses and their implications for social and political analyses In examining violence and insecurity in relation to core organising principles of world politics the contributors engage the problems associated with the nation state and the inter state system and underlying assumptions of the promises of progress The book offers a range of perspectives on the contradictions of development and on how domination violence and resistance have been conceived At the same time it exemplifies the relevance of alternative methodological and conceptual approaches to contemporary challenges of development This book was published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly War, Peace and International Relations Colin S. Gray, 2013-06-17 War Peace and International Relations provides an introduction to the strategic history of the past two centuries showing how those 200 years were shaped and reshaped extensively by war The book takes a broad view of what was relevant to the causes courses and consequences of wars Written by leading strategist Professor Colin Gray the book provides students with a good grounding in the contribution of war to the development of the modern world from the pre industrial era to the age of international terrorism and smart weapons This second edition has been thoroughly revised and updated It is the first one volume strategic history textbook on the market It covers all the major wars of the past two centuries It is up to date and comprehensive including a new section on the American Civil War a new chapter on geography and strategy and completely rewritten chapters on Iraq and Afghanistan in the 2000s and on irregular warfare This textbook will be essential reading for students of strategic studies security studies war studies international relations and international history Master Peace Nikolas Kosmatopoulos, 2024-12-17 Examines the politics of expertise in the practices of peacemaking in post civil war Lebanon Based on multi sited ethnographic research centering on Beirut but tracing international peace work as far as Switzerland and the United States Master Peace examines the politics of expertise in the application of metropolitan theories of violence and practices of peacemaking in post civil war Lebanon Through ethnographic encounters archival research and interviews that shed light on the worlds of academic research UN agencies

NGOs and think tanks Nikolas Kosmatopoulos argues that so called experts from violence researchers to peace professionals have often misrepresented and exacerbated the violence they claim to be tackling through their deployment of racialized tropes of conflict and communalizing peace practices The assemblage of these tropes and practices which Kosmatopoulos calls master peace naturalizes social and structural inequalities by collapsing them into supposedly innate cultural and sectarian divisions Master peace installs unequal relations of domination through the work of metropolitan theories as in ethnic conflict and failed state and practices such as conflict resolution workshops and crisis reports converting the radical demand for just peace into a postcolonial regime of dependence on technocratic tools unaccountable experts and external donors Kosmatopoulos shows how master peace has been framing debates designing interventions of peace and war and defining the problem of violence in Lebanon and the Middle East for decades to deleterious effect As the supposed moral high ground that justifies external intervention and precludes political solutions or democratic forms of action master peace has obscured the geopolitical and ideological nature of violence in the region substituting democratic notions of peace for an elitist antipolitics of expertise characterized by dependence domination and epistemic violence

Tweaking the Nose of the Russians Joseph F. Harrington, Bruce J. Courtney, 1991 From the preeminent writer of Taiwanese nativist fiction and the leading translator of Chinese literature come these poignant accounts of everyday life in rural and small town Taiwan Huang is frequently cited as one of the most original and gifted storytellers in the Chinese language and these selections reveal his genius In The Two Sign Painters TV reporters ambush two young workers from the country taking a break atop a twenty four story building His Son's Big Doll introduces the tortured soul inside a walking advertisement and in Xiaoqi's Cap a dissatisfied pressure cooker salesman is fascinated by a young schoolgirl Huang's characters generally the uneducated and disadvantaged who must cope with assaults on their traditionalism hostility from their urban brethren and of course the debilitating effects of poverty come to life in all their human uniqueness free from idealization

Just Peace Theory Book One Valerie Elverton Dixon, 2012-11-29 In these essays I often refer to social contracts such as the Declaration of Independence the Constitution of the United States the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and other international conventions that describe a vision of just human relations especially in the area of culture and health care We do not live behind a veil of ignorance where we enter into contemplation of questions of right and wrong without an awareness of our own particularities Moreover we do not always determine what is right based on reason But we do make decisions every day about how we will live within the social contracts that govern our lives Many of us go along to get along with a lets not rock the boat preserve the status quo. Then there are those of us who use the documents of our social contracts to secure more justice and more peace. The purpose is to rock the boat and to disrupt the status quo when it is unjust. I understand Christ as a title not as a person. It is a designation of an anointing. This in my opinion is the anointing of radical love. Christ is the human incarnation of divine love. We each ought to strive to become this whether or not we are Christian whether or not we are even believers. Those of us who are Christians believe that Jesus paid it all. There is no more need for blood shed sacrifice. Murder is never holy. God does not need it or want it. Our work now is to become living sacrifices that will redeem this world through justice and peace. That is the meaning of these essays.

From the Introduction The Worldview of Redemptive Violence in the US Wayne Lavender, 2014-12-16 Through US military history Lavender directly confronts the dominant US viewpoint of redemptive violence the concept that a nation can use its military to improve the human condition. Alternatives are presented in order to encourage the current recessive worldview that supports conflict resolution cooperation collaboration and peaceful efforts The New Age ,1916 Human Nature and Enduring Peace Society for the Psychological Study of Social Issues, 1945 The scheme then is to proceed chapter by chapter in terms of a psychological orientation. I shall attempt an introductory sketch through six chapters from my own viewpoint. Then in Part II I shall attempt to look systematically at the dangers the troublespots of the world. As I come to each snag each difficulty I will pose a critical question upon which I hope an expert can make his own departure both answering my question and carrying forward the thought. In this way we may see more clearly the context within which the next question must be posed. In Part III the same method of question and answer will be used looking to the constructive suggestions which experts have to offer. It will then be my task again at the conclusion of the book to integrate what these many experts have offered.
