Museums in the Material World Simon Knell, 2007-08-07 Museums in the Material World seeks to both introduce classic and thought provoking pieces and contrast them with articles which reveal grounded practice The articles are selected from across the full breadth of museum disciplines and are linked by a logical narrative as detailed in the section introductions The choice of articles reveals how the debate has opened up on disciplinary practice how the practices of the past have been critiqued and in some cases replaced how it has become necessary to look beyond and outside disciplinary boundaries and how old practices can in many circumstances continue to have validity Museums in the Material World is about broadening horizons and moving museum studies students and others beyond the narrow confines of their own disciplinary thinking or indeed any narrow conception of collections In essence this is a book about the practice of interpretation and will therefore be of great use to those students and museum practitioners involved in the field of material culture in museums

Whose Muse? James Cuno, 2018-06-05 During the economic boom of the 1990s art museums expanded dramatically in size scope and ambition They came to be seen as new civic centers on the one hand as places of entertainment leisure and commerce on the other as socially therapeutic institutions But museums were also criticized for everything from elitism to looting or illegally exporting works from other countries to exhibiting works offensive to the public taste Whose Muse brings together five directors of leading American and British art museums who together offer a forward looking alternative to such prevailing views While their approaches differ certain themes recur As museums have become increasingly complex and costly to manage and as government support has waned the temptation is great to follow policies driven not by a mission but by the market However the directors concur that public trust can be upheld only if museums continue to see their core mission as building collections that reflect a nation's artistic legacy and providing informed and unfettered access to them The book based on a lecture series of the same title held in 2000 2001 by the Harvard Program for Art Museum Directors also includes an introduction by Cuno and a fascinating and surprisingly frank roundtable discussion among the participating directors A rare collection of sustained reflections by prominent museum directors on the current state of affairs in their profession this book is without equal It will be read widely not only by museum professionals trustees critics and scholars but also by the art loving public itself
