Material Events Paul De Man And The Afterlife Of Theory:

Material Events Tom Cohen, 2001 Material Events Tom Cohen, 2001 Renowned contributors use the late work of this crucial figure to open new speculations on materiality A material event in one of Paul de Man's definitions is a piece of writing that enters history to make something happen This interpretation hovers over the publication of this volume a timely reconsideration of de Man's late work in its complex literary critical cultural philosophical political and historical dimensions A distinguished group of scholars responds to the problematic of materialism as posed in Paul de Man's posthumous final book Aesthetic Ideology These contributors at the forefront of critical theory productive thinking and writing in the humanities explore the question of material events to illuminate not just de Man's work but their own Prominent among the authors here is Jacques Derrida whose extended essay Typewriter Ribbon Limited Inc 2 returns to a celebrated episode in Rousseau's Confessions that was discussed by de Man in Allegories of Reading The importance of de Man's late work is related to a broad range of subjects and categories and in Derrida's provocative reading of de Man's concept of materiality the politico autobiographical texts of de Man himself This collection is essential reading for all those interested in the present state of literary and cultural theory Contributors Judith Butler UC Berkeley T J Clark UC Berkeley Jacques Derrida cole des Hautes études en Sciences Sociales and UC Irvi Barbara Johnson Harvard U Ernesto Laclau U of Essex Arkady Plotnitsky Purdue U Laurence A Rickels UC Santa Barbara and Michael Sprinker Cultural Theory After the Contemporary S. Tumino, 2011-01-31 Contemporary cultural studies have marginalized agency namely the power of people to shape social life Here Stephen Tumino offers a new materialist challenge to these tendencies and articulates an internationalist cultural theory that puts global agency in the forefront of cultural analysis Déjà Vu Peter Krapp, 2004 Referring to a past that never was d j vu shares a structure not only with fiction but also with the ever more sophisticated effects of media technology Tracing the term from the end of the nineteenth century when it was first popularized in the pages of the Revue philosophique Peter Krapp examines the genealogy and history of the singular and unrepeatable experience of d j vu This provocative book offers a refreshing counterpoint to the clichéd celebrations of cultural memory and forces us to take a double take on the sanctimonious warnings against forgetting so common in our time Disturbances of cultural memory screen memories false recognitions premonitions disrupt the comfort zone of memorial culture strictly speaking d j vu is neither a failure of memory nor a form of forgetting Krapp's analysis of such disturbances in literature art and mass media introduces historicizes and theorizes what it means to speak of an economy of attention or distraction Reaching from the early psychoanalytic texts of Sigmund Freud to the plays of Heiner Müller this exploration of the effects of d j vu pivots around the work of Walter Benjamin and includes readings of kitsch and aura in Andy Warhol's work of cinematic violence and certain exaggerated claims about shooting and cutting of the memorial character of architecture and of the high expectations raised by the Internet Peter Krapp lecturer in the Department of Cultural Studies and Comparative Literature at the University of Minnesota coedited Medium Cool a special issue of the South Atlantic Quarterly on contemporary media theory He has published in the fields of German studies media studies and literary theory and since 1995 has acted as editor of the Hydra Web site for theories of literature and media After Poststructuralism Colin Davis,2004-03 This is a brilliantly argued account of the past and present fortunes of theory It also maps out a way forward for the humanities in which theory will play a crucial part Romantic Sobriety Orrin N. C. Wang,2011-08-30 Romantic Sobriety explores the relationship among Romanticism deconstruction and Marxism by examining tropes of sensation and sobriety in a set of exemplary texts from Romantic literature and contemporary literary theory Orrin N C Wang explains how themes of sensation and sobriety along with Marxist related ideas of revolution and commodification set the terms of narrative surrounding the history of Romanticism as a movement The book is both polemical and critical engaging in debates with modern thinkers such as Paul de Man Jacques Derrida Walter Benn Michaels and Slavoj i ek as well as presenting fresh readings of late eighteenth and early nineteenth century writers including Wordsworth Kant Shelley Byron Bront and Keats Romantic Sobriety combines deeply complex close readings with a broader reflection on Romanticism and its implications on literary study It will interest scholars who study Romanticism from a number of perspectives including those interested in bodily and social consumption the roles of addiction and abstinence in literature the connection between literary and visual culture the intersection of critical theory and Romanticism and the relationships among language historical knowledge and political practice

Romanticism, Literature and Philosophy Simon Swift,2006-06-19 A highly original and well researched monograph covering Romanticism and philosophy focusing particularly on aesthetics and reason now available in paperback

Inhuman Materiality in Gothic Media Aspasia Stephanou,2019-05-13 This book examines the manifestations of materiality across different gothic media to show the inhuman at the heart of literature film and contemporary media outlining a philosophy of horror that deals with the horror of the nonhuman the machine and the nonorganic The author explores how materiality lends itself ideally to discussions of gothic and horror and acts as a threat to attempts to control meaning which falls outside the realm of consciousness It brings the two together by examining the manifestations of this materiality to focus on a form of horror that is concerned with the in human by reading blood as the conduit of an unnameable materiality that circulates through gothic media seducing with its familiar mask of gothic aesthetics only to uncover the horror of a totally alienating and inhuman otherness Film media popular culture philosophy and nineteenth century literature are brought together and juxtaposed to create a continuity of ideas and highlighting differences The book offers innovative readings of notions of blood inscription in different media of the Dark Web accelerationism and technoscience to account for the widespread haemophilia in contemporary culture This title is an essential read for researchers undergraduate and postgraduate students in film studies media studies literature philosophy cultural theory and popular culture Its interdisciplinary nature clear exposition of thought and theoretical ideas will make it a key resource for both students and for general readers with an interest in contemporary horror media and pop culture Ideology, Rhetoric, Aesthetics Andrzej Warminski, 2016-06-30 This volume explicates Paul de Man's late project of a critique of aesthetic ideology and attempts to extend it in ways productive for critical thought On Deconstruction Jonathan Culler, 2014-10-01 With an emphasis on readers and reading Jonathan Culler considered deconstruction in terms of the questions raised by psychoanalytic feminist and reader response criticism On Deconstruction is both an authoritative synthesis of Derrida's thought and an analysis of the often problematic relation between his philosophical writings and the work of literary critics Culler's book is an indispensable guide for anyone interested in understanding modern critical thought This edition marks the twenty fifth anniversary of the first publication of this landmark work and includes a new preface by the author that surveys deconstruction's history since the 1980s and assesses its place within cultural theory today European Posthumanism Stefan Herbrechter, Ivan Callus, Manuela Rossini, 2018-02-02 In literary studies and beyond theory and its aftermaths have arguably been over influenced by US and UK based institutions publishers journals and academics Yet the influence of theory in its Anglo American forms has remained reliant on Continental European ideas Similar patterns can be discerned within the latest theoretical paradigm posthumanism European ideas influence posthumanism's challenge to established understandings of humanism anthropomorphism and anthropocentrism which is characterised by the increased urgency and proliferation of questions such as What does it mean to be human and What is the relationship between humans and their nonhuman others machines animals plants the inorganic gods systems and various figures of liminality from ghosts to angels from cyborgs to zombies European Posthumanism examines the histories and geographies of posthumanism and looks at the genealogies which have been at work in the rise of posthumanist thought and culture This book was originally published as a special issue of the European Journal of English Studies Niels Bohr's Complementarity Makoto Katsumori, 2011-09-01 This book explores the modern physicist Niels Bohr's philosophical thought specifically his pivotal idea of complementarity with a focus on the relation between the roles of what he metaphorically calls spectators and actors It seeks to spell out the structural and historical complexity of the idea of complementarity in terms of different modes of the spectator actor relation showing in particular that the reorganization of Bohr's thought starting from his 1935 debate with Einstein and his collaborators is characterized by an extension of the dynamic conception of complementarity from non physical contexts to the very field of quantum theory Further linked with this analysis the book situates Bohr's complementarity in contemporary philosophical context by examining its intersections with post Heideggerian hermeneutics as well as Derridean deconstruction Specifically it points to both the close affinities and the differences between Bohr's idea of the actor spectator relation and the hermeneutic notion of the relation between belonging and distancing The Figure of the Road Christopher D. Morris, 2007 The Figure of the Road examines the metaphor of the road way or path in works of representative humanities disciplines literature religion philosophy visual art popular culture to show how writers and artists anticipated the dilemma known to contemporary deconstruction as the aporia or pathless place This tradition exposes the solution advocated in Derrida's late thought the search for the tout autre as a negative theology and suppression of writing's freedom to allegorize these insoluble problems The Figure of the Road concludes by tracing the bleak Beckett-like implications of this freedom for curriculum and ethics in a world understood as wholly figural

Reading with John Clare Sara Guyer, 2015-05-01 Reading with John Clare argues that at the heart of contemporary biopolitical thinking is an insistent repression of poetry By returning to the moment at which biopolitics is said to emerge simultaneously with romanticism this project renews our understanding of the operations of contemporary politics and its relation to aesthetics across two centuries Guyer focuses on a single exemplary case the poetry and autobiographical writing of the British poet John Clare 1793-1864 Reading Clare in combination with contemporary theories of biopolitics Guyer reinterprets romanticism's political legacies specifically the belief that romanticism is a direct precursor to the violent nationalisms and redemptive environmentalisms of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries Guyer offers an alternative account of many of romanticism's foundational concepts like home genius creativity and organicism She shows that contemporary critical theories of biopolitics despite repeatedly dismissing the aesthetic or poetic dimensions of power as a culpable ideology emerge within the same rhetorical tradition as the romanticism they denounce The book thus compels a rethinking of the biopolitical critique of poetry and an attendant reconsideration of romanticism and its concepts

The Event Ilai Rowner, 2015-01-20 What is an event From a philosophical perspective events are irregular occurrences moments of change and interruption categorized by human perception language and thought While philosophers have pored over the subject of events extensively in recent years The Event Literature and Theory seeks to ground it What is literature's approach to the event How does literature produce and give testimony to events Ilai Rowner's study not only revisits some of the most important thinkers of our time including Maurice Blanchot Gilles Deleuze Jacques Derrida and Martin Heidegger it also develops a critical approach to literature that questions the meaning of the literary event through examinations of literary works by Marcel Proust Louis Ferdinand Celine and T S Eliot Rowner offers a new method of thinking about the particular characteristics of the event within literary works and defines the creative value of literature as the aspiration toward the un happening within the happening In this study the experience of literature as an act of both writing and reading becomes the struggle to capture the excessive movement of the event while also revealing the creative energy within that work of literature

Metaphorical Materialism Dominic Rahtz,2021-06-29 In Metaphorical Materialism Art in New York in the Late 1960s Dominic Rahtz returns to a period when the materiality of art was thematized and theorized according to varying conceptions of matter and form and consciously related to materialisms held as wider philosophical and political positions and attitudes The book consists of a volume of essays on the relationships between materiality and materialism informed by definitions of labour process corporeality and language in the work of Carl Andre Robert Smithson Richard Serra Eva Hesse and Lawrence Weiner Yeats and

Revisionism Daniel O'Hara,2022-11-08 The books collects Daniel T O Hara s half century of essays and review essays on Yeats and his major poetry an drama and how leading critics and theorists have sought to revise their reception for their periods of time and indeed for the future Its aim is to trace a critical history of the last fifty years even as it opens the prospects for the future of critical reading of Yeats and modern poetry

Culture Control Critique Frida Beckman,2016-05-03 When revolution becomes a recurring theme in mainstream culture where do we look for the tools for a critical engagement with the present Addressing the link between allegory and cultural critique in contemporary culture and resisting the thematic abstraction of sexy fast revolutionary content this book suggests that one way is to pay attention not so much to content as to form Culture Control Critique provides an analysis of how representations of political systems in contemporary mainstream culture may be understood not so much by looking at their apparent critical message but by shifting our critical gaze to an underlying and recurring political logic that controls the desire for political change

Theory at Yale Marc Redfield,2015-11-02 This book examines the affinity between theory and deconstruction that developed in the American academy in the 1970s by way of the Yale Critics Harold Bloom Paul de Man Geoffrey Hartman and J Hillis Miller sometimes joined by the French philosopher Jacques Derrida With this semi fictional collective theory became a media event first in the academy and then in the wider print media in and through its phantasmatic link with deconstruction and with Yale The important role played by aesthetic humanism in American pedagogical discourse provides a context for understanding theory as an aesthetic scandal and an examination of the ways in which de Man s work challenges aesthetic pieties helps us understand why by the 1980s he above all had come to personify theory Combining a broad account of the Yale Critics phenomenon with a series of careful reexaminations of the event of theory Redfield traces the threat posed by language s unreliability and inhumanity in chapters on lyric on Hartman s representation of the Wordsworthian imagination on Bloom s early theory of influence in the 1970s together with his later media reinvention as the genius of the Western Canon and on John Guillory s influential attempt to interpret de Manian theory as a symptom of literature s increasing marginality A final chapter examines Mark Tansey's paintings Derrida Queries de Man and Constructing the Grand Canyon paintings that offer subtle complex reflections on the peculiar event of theory as deconstruction in America
