Materializing Thailand:

Materializing Thailand Penny Van Esterik, 2020-05-28 Thailand has become well known throughout the world for wonderful cuisine great package holidays sumptuous temples and textiles Noticeably absent from glossy tourist brochures but equally well known throughout the Western world is Thailand's seedier side the world of child exploitation rampant prostitution and AIDS Thailand maintains its appeal by slipping the ugly and painful out of sight and by promoting women as exotic visual icons through beauty contests state rituals and the sex trade This book explores the construction of gender in Thailand and in particular the role Bangkok plays in establishing gender relations for the whole of the country It examines the historical and cultural processes underlying Thai public culture including historical theme parks The author demonstrates how the materiality of the Thai world shapes gender relations and how Buddhism discourages essentialisms including fixed binary gender identities Throughout the book appearances are shown to be critically important and the essentialism of gender is maintained through display public presentations and everyday material practices Anyone wishing to understand the complexity of Thailand will find this book provides a highly readable and insightful analysis Thailand

Maurizio Peleggi, 2007-05-30 Tourist brochures and travel guides depict Thailand as an exotic country with a rich cultural heritage strong religious traditions and a popular monarchy Historians also contribute to Thailand's international allure with chronicles of its unique historical and cultural continuity in comparison to the other southeast Asian countries whose histories are stained by colonialism and nationalist struggles for independence Thailand challenges these stereotypes with a reinterpretation as well as an introduction to the emergence of Thailand as a nation state The book argues that the development of Thai nationhood was a long term process shaped by interactions with the outside world its pursuit of civilization and more recently globalization Maurizio Peleggi's original account investigates among other issues the evolution of the geographical and linguistic landscapes changes in class and gender relations the role of institutions and ideologies modern cultural expressions social memory and the conception of the Thai national self as contrasted against the racial and cultural Others of Burmese Chinese and Westerners Thailand is a concise and compelling introduction to the complexities that lie behind Thailand's exotic facade A New Look At Thai Aids Graham Fordham, 2006-03-01 Following the detection of the first HIV infections in the early 1980s by the 1990s Thailand was routinely depicted as having the world's fastest moving HIV AIDS epidemic However by the early 2000s the bulk of scholarly and medical AIDS literature portrayed the epidemic as being largely under control and claimed that Thai AIDS prevention efforts during the 1990s had been successful Based on long term ethnographic research conducted in Northern Thailand this book makes an in depth study of the social construction of Thailand's HIV AIDS epidemic over this period In addition to his own field research the author draws on an extensive corpus of English and Thai language social science and medical HIV AIDS literature to examine the modeling of Thailand's AIDS epidemic and addresses concepts and issues such as risk groups risk behaviour alcohol use gender and class

masculinity the scapegoating of female prostitutes and men in the underclass the reporting of the HIV AIDS epidemic in Thailand's indigenous Thai language media and sexual activity amongst Thai youth The analysis demonstrates the contribution of anthropology as an interpretative social science and the use of anthropological theory and research methods to finding alternative ways of framing the problems of Thai AIDS and of posing new questions that will lead to more effective points of intervention It emphasises the necessity for critically reflexive approaches that question the taken for granted and demonstrates how qualitative research techniques guided by social theory have the potential to take account of local meanings in complex social contexts where traditional values and cultural practices are rapidly transforming due to economic and social change The book offers a sustained and powerful criticism of the limitations of the normative model of the Thai AIDS epidemic and in its aim of promoting critically reflexive AIDS research techniques in order to produce a better understanding of issues on the ground and hence better health policy and more effective AIDS interventions speaks not only to the Thai AIDS epidemic but to AIDS epidemics throughout Southeast Asia and elsewhere This is the only English language study of Thailand's HIV AIDS epidemic to draw on long term qualitative research in Northern Thailand as well as on a broad range of Thai and some Khmer language materials Its contextualised and subtly nuanced analysis of the AIDS epidemic and of the impact of AIDS control initiatives in concert with the theoretical and methodological contributions it makes to AIDS research and policy and behavioural interventions makes it a timely publication of vital interest to scholars in the social sciences as well as to the members of non governmental organisations and international organisations working in the HIV AIDS health and development fields

Thai In Vitro Andrea Whittaker, 2015-06-01 In Thailand infertility remains a source of stigma for those couples that combine a range of religious traditional and high tech interventions in their quest for a child This book explores this experience of infertility and the pursuit and use of assisted reproductive technologies by Thai couples Though using assisted reproductive technologies is becoming more acceptable in Thai society access to and choices about such technologies are mediated by differences in class position These stories of women and men in private and public infertility clinics reveal how local social and moral sensitivities influence the practices and meanings of treatment

Thai Migrant Sexworkers K. Aoyama, 2009-01-30 Exploring sexwork and trafficking in a globalized culture and economy this book offers a critique of increasingly stringent policing worldwide following the UN protocol against trafficking in persons It highlights the grey area between sex work and trafficking and draws on the themes of gender migration and deviance

Buddhism and Postmodern Imaginings in Thailand Jim Taylor, 2008 This book presents a rethink on the significance of Thai Buddhism in an increasingly complex and changing post modern urban context especially following the financial crisis of 1997 Defining the cultural nature of Thai urbanity the implications for local global flows interactions and emergent social formations James Taylor opens up new possibilities in understanding the specificities of everyday urban life as this relates to perceptions conceptions and lived experiences of religiosity Changes in the centre are also reverberating in the remaining forests and the monastic tradition of forest dwelling which has sourced most of the nation's modern saints The text is based on ethnography taking into account the rich variety of everyday practices in a m lrange of the religious In Thailand Buddhism is so intimately interconnected with national identity and social economic and ethno political concerns as to be inseparable Taylor argues here that in recent years there has been a marked reformulation of important conventional cosmologies through new and challenging Buddhist ideas and practices These influences and changes are as much located outside as inside the Buddhist temples monasteries

Virtual Thailand Glen Lewis,2007-05-07 Written by an established expert on Thailand this is one of the first books to fully investigate the Thai media's role during the Thaksin government's first term Incorporating political economy and media theory the book provides a unique insight into globalization in Southeast Asia analyzing the role of communications and media in regional cultural politics Examining the period from the mid 1990s Lewis makes a sustained comparison between Thailand and its neighbouring countries in relation to the media business politics and popular culture Covering issues including business development tourism the Thai movie industry and the war on terror the book argues that globalization as it relates to media can be patterned on Thai experiences

Power, Identity, and the Rise of Modern Architecture Koompong Noobanjong,2003 This dissertation examines the evolution of Western and Modern architecture in Siam and Thailand It illustrates how various architectural ideas have contributed to the physical design and spatial configuration of places associated with negotiation and allocation of political power which are throne halls parliaments and government and civic structures since the 1850s

Desiring Thai Men Narupon Duangwises,Peter A. Jackson,2025-10-15 Desiring Thai Men traces the transformative influence of vernacular Thai language media on Thailand's gay communities from the 1980s through the 2010s Narupon Duangwises and Peter A Jackson analyze dramatic changes in the visual representation and languaging of masculine desire and sexual identity among Thai gay men that were reflected in Thai gay magazines and gendered practices in Bangkok's gay bars fitness centers and video chatrooms Multiple masculine identities emerged in Thailand's communities of men who have sex with men from the intersecting influences of commercial gay media and gay venues Distinctive class based contextualized and flexible masculinities evolved among ethnically diverse Thai gay men in a capitalist setting of print and online media and expanding consumerist lifestyles Desiring Thai Men argues that evolving forms of masculinity among Thai men who pursue men offer insights for reexamining class dynamics in transnational queer and media studies and for the applicability of hegemonic masculinity beyond Western contexts

Mixed Blessings Amanda Whiting,Carolyn Evans,2006-05-01 The essays in this volume explore some of the diverse and contradictory ways that the lives of women in the Asia Pacific region are shaped by two powerful regimes religion and law and by the interactions between them They show that for women laws customary colonial post independence and international and religions indigenous or introduced Buddhism Christianity Islam and Confucianism have been a mixed blessing These diverse legal systems and religious doctrines and institutions have variously denied women authority and the capacity to participate fully in the public organization of social political and religious life they have furthermore constructed gender and familial relations in ways that subordinate women Yet they have also offered promises of women s empowerment and provided rules and procedures norms values and interpretations of sacred traditions to deliver those emancipatory promises Each chapter is devoted to a single state first the history and current framework of the national legal system is introduced then the place of religion in the state is explained and finally by means of precise and detailed case studies or examples each author explores how these sometimes competing sometimes colluding regimes constructed women and how women interpreted this positioning and sought to resituate themselves Single Mothers in Thailand Herbarry

Cheung,2024-09-09 This book investigates a range of major sociological debates and policy studies related to gender family marriage health intersectionality and social exclusion of single mothers in Thailand It does so by analyzing ethnographic data gained from participant observation at NGOs and a psychiatric hospital in depth interviews with single mothers and social workers and a review of government policy documents and reports from 2020 and 2021 The conceptual framework of the study draws on gender as a social construct and intersectionality as critical social theory Using this framework the book aims to offer new scholarly insights by looking at single mothers as a category of multiple and overlapping oppressions marginalization and exclusion which intersect not only with gender class and ethnicity but also with other significant categories such as hometown neighborhood religion and health conditions all significant but under researched subjects in the Thai context Moreover the book also provides policy recommendations to the Thai government to improve its social policies for single mothers and achieve gender equality in Thailand Branding Authoritarian Nations Petra Alderman,2023-07-28

Branding Authoritarian Nations offers a novel approach to the study of nation branding as a strategy for political legitimation in authoritarian regimes using the example of military ruled Thailand The book argues that nation branding is a political act that is integral to state legitimation processes particularly in the context of authoritarian regimes It applies its alternative reading of nation branding to eight different sectors tourism economy foreign direct investment foreign policy education culture public relations and the private sector The author explains that nation branding produces specific kinds of applied national myths referred to as strategic national myths She shows that nation branding is an inherently inward looking strategy aimed at shaping the social attitudes and behaviours of the nation s citizens in line with the government s domestic agenda and legitimation needs Providing the first comprehensive analysis of nation branding in Thailand and the first book length account of the country s political developments since the 2014 2019 military rule the book is primarily aimed at academics in the disciplines of politics international relations communication and area studies as well as business cultural and intercultural studies HIV/AIDS and the Social Consequences of Untamed Biomedicine Graham

Fordham,2014-11-13 Drawing on the case of HIV AIDS in Thailand this book examines how anthropological and other interpretative social science research has been utilized in modeling the AIDS epidemic and in the design and implementation of interventions It argues that much social science research has been complicit with the forces that generated the epidemic and with the social control agendas of the state and that as such it has increased the weight of structural violence bearing upon the afflicted The book also questions claims of Thai AIDS control success arguing that these can only be made at the cost of excluding categories such as intravenous drug users the incarcerated and homosexuals who continue to experience extraordinarily high levels of levels of HIV infection Considered deviant and undeserving these persons have deliberately been excluded from harm reduction programs Overall this work argues for the untapped potential of anthropological research in the health field a confident anthropology rooted in ethnography and a critical reflexivity Crucially it argues that in context of interdisciplinary collaborations anthropological research must refuse relegation to the status of an adjunct discipline and must be free epistemologically and methodologically from the universalizing assumptions and practices of biomedicine

Meals in Science and Practice H L Meiselman, 2009-03-26 The meal is the key eating occasion yet professionals and researchers frequently focus on single food products rather than the combinations of foods and the context in which they are consumed Research on meals is also carried out in a wide range of fields and the different disciplines do not always benefit from each others expertise This important collection presents contributions on meals from many perspectives using different methods and focusing on the different elements involved Two introductory chapters in part one summarise the key findings in Dimensions of the Meal the first book to bring an interdisciplinary perspective to meals and introduce the current publication by reviewing the key topics discussed in the following chapters Parts two to four then consider how meals are defined studied and taught Major considerations include eating socially and eating alone the influence of gender and the different situations of home restaurant and institutional settings Part five reviews meals worldwide with chapters on Brazilian Indian Chinese and Thai meals among others The final parts discuss meals from further perspectives including those of the chef product developer and meal setting designer With its distinguished editor and international team of contributors Meals in science and practice is an informative and diverse reference for both professionals and academic researchers interested in food from disciplines such as food product development food service nutrition dietetics sociology anthropology psychology public health medicine and marketing Summarises key findings in dimensions of the meal Considers how meals are defined studied and taught including eating alone and socially and the influence of gender Reviews the meaning of meals in different cultures

Mobilities and Migration Paul Statham, Sarah Scuzzarello, Sirijit Sunanta, Alexander Trupp, 2021-11-29 The chapters in this volume study transnational social relationships and cross border connections between ordinary people that arise from the increasingly large scale mobilities and migrations between Thailand and the West While Thai and Western people's social relationships are usually studied as personal stories within a cross border marriage migration perspective this book considers it necessary to see them as more than marriage migration Even though a focus on the personal life stories of marriage migrants provides valuable insights it can also mask consideration of the structural context of socially embedded cross border connections and exchanges as well as state restrictions that first make people's decisions to move a possibility in the first place and second shape a migrant's post migration life trajectory and experiences relative to others in their origin and settlement societies The chapters on Thai women who marry and move with older Western men Western men and women who move to Thailand to retire or for leisure and Thai rural families transformed by mobilities and migration try to draw out their gendered experiences of transnational living The individual choices that shaped these lives and the surprising prevalence of lives like these in Thailand and abroad needs to be understood within context as an outcome of the specific globalisation processes that have shaped Thailand through transnational links to other parts of the world over the last decades Globalisation and penetration by foreign capital cultures and people through mass tourism is key to this explanatory backstory as well as the internal rural urban cleavages that drive Thailand's economic development This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies

Queer Bangkok Peter A. Jackson, 2011-03-01 The Thai capital Bangkok is the unrivalled centre of the country's gay lesbian and transgender communities These communities are among the largest in Southeast Asia and indeed in the world and have a diversity social presence and historical depth that set them apart from the queer cultures of many neighbouring societies The first years of the 21st Century have marked a significant transition moment for all of Thailand's LGBT cultures with a multidimensional expansion in the geographical extent media presence economic importance political impact social standing and cultural relevance of Thai queer communities This book analyzes the roles of the market and media especially cinema and the Internet in these transformations and considers the ambiguous consequences that the growing commodification and mediatization of queer lives have had for LGBT rights in Thailand A key finding is that in the early 21st Century processes of global queering are leading to a growing Asianisation of Bangkok's queer cultures This book traces Bangkok's emergence as a central focus of an expanding regional network linking gay lesbian and transgender communities in Hong Kong Singapore Taiwan Indonesia the Philippines and other rapidly developing East and Southeast Asian societies Peter A Jackson is associate professor in the School of Culture History and Language at Australian National University The myriad faces of Thai gender sexuality culture have been an attraction for both pleasure seekers and researchers scholars activists Exploring the rapidly changing LGBT cultures and Thai queer identities the essays collected here provide insightful analyses of historical continuities as well as developing variations within the highly complex erotic economic texture of Thai society A must read for anyone in the booming field of gender sexuality studies Josephine Ho Chair Professor Center for the Study of Sexualities National Central University Taiwan

Wounded Cities Jane Schneider, Ida Susser, 2020-06-29 Although the seemingly apocalyptic scale of the World Trade Center disaster continues to haunt people across the globe it is only the most recent example of a city tragically wounded Cities are in fact perpetually caught up in cycles of degeneration and renewal As with the WTC from time to time these cycles are severely ruptured by a sudden unpredictable event In the wake of recent terrorist activities this timely book explores how urban populations are affected by wounds inflicted through violence civil wars overbuilding drug trafficking and the collapse of infrastructures as well as natural disasters such as earthquakes Mexico City New York Beirut Belfast Bangkok and Baghdad are just a few examples of cities riddled with problems that undermine on a daily basis the quality of urban life What does it mean for urban dwellers when the infrastructure of a city collapses transport communication grids heat light roads water and sanitation What are the effects of foreign investment and huge construction projects on urban populations and how does this change the look and character of a city How does drug trafficking intersect with class race and gender and what impact does it have on vulnerable urban communities How do political corruption and mafia networks distort the built environment Drawing on in depth case studies from across the globe this book answers these intriguing questions through its rigorous consideration of changing global and national contexts social movements and corrosive urban events Adopting a grass roots up approach it places emphasis on peoples experiences of uneven development and inequality their engagement with memory in the face of continual change and the relevance of political activism to bettering their lives It is especially attentive to the historical interaction of particular cities with wider political and economic forces as these interactions have shaped local governance over time
