- The Engineering Data application in Data Source view:

A screenshot of the Engineering Data application in Data Source view. The interface includes a left sidebar with a 'Toolbox' containing various material property categories. The main area displays a 'Data Sources (material libraries)' table, a 'Property Table' with columns for material name, type, and units, and a 'Material Properties' table showing specific material data. A 'Property Chart' is also visible, plotting a property against temperature. Red arrows point from the 'Property Table' to the 'Material Properties' table and the 'Property Chart'.
