Women's Wartime Hours of Work Elisabeth Dewel Benham, Ethel Erickson, Frances Wadsworth Valentine, Kathryn Blood, Margaret Kay Anderson, Mary Minerva Cannon, Sylvia Rosenberg Weissbrodt, United States. Women's Bureau, Wyckoff Zapolon, 1944 Rethinking Work Mark Hearn, Grant Michelson, 2006-02-13 This 2006 book is structured around the themes of time space and discourse as they are applied to our working lives Women's Empowerment and Public Policy in the Arab Gulf States Rabia Naguib, 2023-12-22 This open access book explores the various dimensions of women's empowerment in public policy in the Gulf Cooperation Council GCC region with a particular focus on Qatar comparing the country to the other Gulf states Through its rich compilation of empirical qualitative research the text unpacks the various ways in which women's empowerment materializes in the GCC context providing insights into public policy perspectives in high income rentier states more broadly The Arab world has long been part of the global dialogue on women's economic and political empowerment and the GCC has over the past decade situated women's empowerment amongst their respective national priorities and long term strategies In turn the Gulf has seen gradual implementation of policies aimed at women specifically in looking to attract and retain them in the labour market and in the public sector more broadly The collection surveys and evaluates the progress made in recent decades paying close attention to the cultural and policy constraints still limiting women's empowerment in the Gulf With a key linkage to SDG5 this book is a timely text addressing the context and drivers behind policies centering on women in the Arab region in its analysis of the interplay of international women's empowerment discourse and regional public policy decisions It is relevant to researchers and policy makers focused on women and gender issues in relation to social cultural economic and political empowerment in the Gulf specifically but also in the Arab world and beyond Women's Mental Health Nazilla Khanlou, F. Beryl Pilkington, 2015-07-23 This book focuses on the social and societal context of women's mental health. Drawing from multidisciplinary perspectives and scholarship, it pays particular attention to how women's mental health is experienced at the personal level yet it is influenced by their relationships and interacts with the larger societal context such as prevailing gender equality policies, income distribution, role burden, peace and security. Specific attention is given to the positive aspects of women's mental health such as agency, resilience, and how women's personal relations across diverse domains such as family, work, neighbourhoods are constructed and influenced by and in turn influence broader societal structures, policies, opportunities. A unique feature of this book is that at the end of each chapter there is a Response section written by a non-academic such as a community member, practitioner, or policy maker in which the invited authors respond to the chapter texts in the form of narrative, poetry, and/or prose according to their various backgrounds, interests, and experiences. Feminine, Feministic, Feminists, and Feminisms Bushra Naz, Sadia Irshad, Farzana Masroor, Maria Farooq Maan, Stacy Blythe, Abida Sharif, 2025-08-20 This Research Topic aims at bringing together writings across various disciplines to deliberate on how women as a philosophical, aesthetic, and political category are represented, negotiated, and transformed in the world of today. The representation of women as a philosophical, aesthetic, and political category has been shaped by cultural and societal norms as well as by historical and political factors. While progress has been made in recent years towards greater equality and representation for women, there is still much work to be done to fully recognize and celebrate the diversity and complexity of women's experiences and identities. There have been continued debates around the notion of feminism becoming obsolete because perceptions exist that feminism has achieved all of its goals. However, while certain fights have been partially won such as the right to vote and equal access to education, women continue to be adversely impacted by all sorts of violence and discrimination in all facets of life. Both the United Nations (UN) and World Health Organization (WHO) have published various reports on injustice to women, and the four key findings suggest: 1. approximately 1 in 3 women worldwide according to WHO has experienced physical or psychological violence at some point in their lives; UN reports that both women and girls face gender-based violence in the form of domestic violence, human trafficking, and sexual harassment; 2. Women face economic injustice as the UN reports that women are often less paid than men for the same work and are more likely to work in low-paying jobs in poor working conditions; 3. According to a report by the UN, women worldwide have less than 25% of parliamentary seats and only 21 countries have women as heads of state; 4. WHO reports that women face serious and significant health disparities, especially in low-income countries including maternal mortality, cervical cancer, and mental health. Women's Employment in a Comparative Perspective Liset Van Dijk, Tanja Van Der Lippe, These comparative studies by internationally known scholars in the United States, Hungary, Germany, and the Netherlands provide a cross-national examination of substantially differing circumstances in hours, earnings, job level, childcare availability, parental leave, and the like of women's employment. The book s dual focus on micro and macro approaches clarifies the extent to which these variances can be ascribed to differences in the institutional context of employment or to the individual characteristics of female employees It thereby provides a valuable contribution both to gender studies and to studies on the sociology of work Women s employment changed dramatically during the second half of the twentieth century Countries in the northern hemisphere have faced similar trends in labor and employment yet there are still many contrasts between them when it comes to women s work In this volume women s employment is studied in different institutional structural and social settings with the intention of exploring the causes of the differences and similarities in women s employment in different countries and at different times Three perspectives are used the macro approach which provides a thorough and focused understanding of the influence of the institutional context on women s work the micro approach which gives insight into the employment behavior of individual women who live in the same social or institutional context and the macro micro approach which makes clear the relative importance to women s work of both individual characteristics and institutional context While a good deal of information is available on women s employment a cross national comparison over time has been lacking This book fills that all important niche Women s Employment in a Comparative Perspective thus has a special relevance for economists as well as sociologists and social work specialists Tanja Van der Lippe is assistant professor of sociology at the Research School ICS of Utrecht University the Netherlands Liset Van Dijk is senior researcher at the Netherlands Institute for Health Services Research Nivel
