Recruiting, Retaining, and Engaging African-American Males at Selective Public Research Universities Louis A. Castenel, Tarek C. Grantham, Billy J. Hawkins, 2018-06-01 A problematic yet uncommon assumption among many higher education researchers is that recruitment retention and engagement of African American males is relatively similar and stable across all majority White colleges and universities In fact the harsh reality is that selective public

research universities SPRUs have distinctive academic cultures that increase the difficulty of diversifying their faculty and student populations This book will discuss how traditions and elitist assumptions make it very difficult to recruit retain and engage African American males The authors will examine these issues from multiple perspectives in three sections that highlight research policies and practices impacting the experiences of African American males including Pre Collegiate Preparation African American Male Student Athletes and Undergraduate and Graduate Considerations for African American Male Initiatives

Gender in Policy and Practice Amanda Datnow, Lea Hubbard, 2013-10-23 This book exposes the complexity of single sex schooling and sheds new light on how gender operates in policy and practice in education The essays collected in this volume cover a wide range of institutions including K 12 and higher education public and private schools and schools in the US and beyond Detailing the educational experiences of both young men and women this collection examines how schooling shapes and is shaped by the social construction of gender in history and in contemporary society
