Multinational Operations Of Swedish Firms:

The Multinational Operations of Swedish Firms Birgitta Swedenborg, 1979 The Geography of Multinational Firms Pontus Braunerhjelm, Karolina Ekholm, 2012-12-06 Pontus Braunerhjelm and Karolina Ekholm Over recent decades foreign direct investment FDI has become a major force in the global economy The geographical pattern of capital formation trade and technological spillovers across countries and regions are to an increasing extent determined by the strategies chosen by multinational firms MNFs Between 1982 and 1994 the rate of growth of the global FDI stock was more than twice that of gross fixed capital formation the growth of sales by foreign affiliates of multinational firms well exceeded that of world exports and by 1994 the MNFs accounted for approximately 6 percent of world output United Nations 1997 pp xv xvi The overall mechanisms behind this rapid internationalization in terms of multinational production have been attributed to the dismantling of trade barriers and the deregulation of capital markets together with the advances in information technology that have facilitated the coordination and monitoring of internationally dispersed production This development carries two important implications First firms operate in markets characterized by much tougher competition than only a decade ago and second countries and regions are involved in competition for production to a much larger extent than before This book addresses questions related to the location and geographical dispersion of the activities by multinational firms a topic which has become of increasing concern to policy makers Multinational Firms and Impacts on Employment, Trade and Technology Robert E. Lipsey, Jean-Louis Mucchielli, 2001-12-13 This collection of essays shows the high degree of complementarity between foreign direct investment and home export challenging the long held fear that firms investing abroad leads to a loss of employment and decline in the home country Multinational Restructuring, Internationalization and Small Economies Thomas Andersson, Torbjorn Fredriksson, Roger Svensson, 2005-08-31 Much of the existing literature on multinational companies has been concerned with firms originating in the world's largest economies This book redresses the situation by presenting important information on the internationalization of a small country's industry Multinational Restructuring Internationalization and Small Economies goes beyond traditional studies of foreign direct investment By using detailed data covering practically all Swedish multinationals and more than two decades of expansion in international markets the authors describe interpret and analyse issues which are normally difficult to investigate International Production and the Multinational Enterprise (RLE International Business) John Dunning, 2013-03-05 The growth and impact of the multinational enterprise MNE in the post war period is one of the most important phenomena of our time This volume originally published in 1981 provides a comprehensive and detailed review of both the theoretical and policy issues at a time when the subject had reached a watershed after the controversies of the 1970s The book provides a balanced discussion of major themes such as the development of modern theories of international production the impact of the MNE on the nation state and the structure of the international market the response of governments and the appropriate framework for policy measures and the historical context and likely future of the MNE

International Investment and Production John Dunning, John Cantwell, 1987-03-30

World Carl H. McMillan, 1987-06-18

The Nature of the Transnational Firm Christos Pitelis, Roger Sugden, 2005-06-23

The Nature of the Transnational Firm brings together the major approaches to the transnational firm in one volume. Leading thinkers present overviews of a vibrant theoretical literature and assess the current state of analysis. Thoroughly revised and updated to take account of the explosive growth of foreign direct investment in the 1990s, this volume will be welcomed by students and researchers of international business, international economics, and business economics. Contributors include John Cantwell, John H. Dunning, Edward M. Graham, Jean-François Hennart, Neil Kay.

The Global Race for Foreign Direct Investment Lars Oxelheim, 2012-12-06

Foreign direct investment (FDI) has become the prime engine to foster growth and to facilitate the restructuring and internationalization of formerly sheltered areas during the 1980s. This book deals with future prospects for FDI and provides answers to some critical questions at the beginning of the 1990s: Will the unprecedented high rate of growth of FDI in the 1980s continue for the rest of the twentieth century and beyond? If so, which will be the major recipient countries, source countries, and sectors involved in these transactions? The general approach of each chapter is to review the factors that prompted the expansion of FDI during the 1980s. Their value as driving forces in the future is then assessed together with some new factors. The book contains nine chapters. The first four deal with general issues such as: Will the restrictions on capital flows be reimposed? What are the prospects for the world economy? Which ingredients will shape the global competition for investment? What are the likely patterns of FDI to emerge in the next decade? The remaining five chapters are devoted to special issues such as: How will increased instability in the financial system influence trade and FDI? What role in future FDI will merger and acquisition (M&A) activities play? What influence will the emerging market economies have on the global distribution of FDI? Will the Japanese continue to be the major foreign direct investors in the future? Will FDI from small and medium-sized firms gain momentum as they become more exposed to international competition and as their customers get increasingly involved in FDI?

Global Markets For Processed Foods Daniel Pick, 2019-04-03

This book is based on the proceedings of a conference held in June 1996 under co-sponsorship of the International Agricultural Trade Consortium and The Retail Food Industry Center. The International Agricultural Trade Research Consortium (IATRC) is a group of 160 economists from 16 countries who are interested in fostering research relating to international trade of agricultural products and commodities and providing a forum for the exchange of ideas. Each summer the IATRC sponsors a symposium on a topic relating to trade and trade policy from which proceedings are published. A list of past symposia and related publications may be obtained from Laura Bipes, IATRC Executive Director, Department of Applied Economics, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minnesota 55108.

International Trade and International Finance Malabika Roy, Saikat Sinha Roy, 2016-05-26

This book brings together a collection of papers on international trade and international finance.

instead of treating the two as disjoint fields of study The volume while focusing on the recent developments and frontiers of research in international trade and international finance also emphasizes the inherent integrated nature of the two subjects some of the papers are overlapping across the two areas A unique feature of the proposed volume is that it unravels some new issues in addition to re examining certain old issues in a new perspective and thus covers wide ranging issues with an emphasis on policy The book covers issues mostly relating to emerging market economies which has increasingly assumed importance in the context of globalization The book contains some survey papers covering the frontiers of current knowledge on important themes like recent developments in trade theory and empirics foreign exchange market institutions in trade and finance interrelation and interaction between international trade and international finance The papers fruit of rigorous and original research are written by internationally and nationally reputed authors along with promising young researchers on the subjects The book substantially contributes to the growing literature on issues relating to trade and international finance in emerging market economies and extends the frontiers of knowledge The book is expected to have the widest possible readership comprising of advanced undergraduate and graduate students as well as senior researchers working in international trade and international finance

Chinese International Investments Ilan Alon, Marc Fetscherin, 2015-12-17 This book provides authoritative academic and professional insights into the strategies of Chinese Foreign Direct Investments in Europe Asia Africa and the Americas Distinguished authors from across the world will make a contribution to the growing literature on OFDI outward foreign direct investment from China

The Eclectic Paradigm John Cantwell, 2016-04-29 To help to promote a greater conversation between those interested in the theoretical explanation of IB activities from various different backgrounds or starting points this book offers a special Collection of JIBS articles which concern the foundations and the application of the eclectic paradigm

Regional and Global Multinationals Christoph Czychon, 2021-06-29 Based on their ability to facilitate interdependencies across the borders of national and regional markets multinationals enterprises MNEs act as the key drivers of world trade and investment activities While recent global challenges additionally highlight the need to explain and assess the status and progress of internationality regionality previous research renders the concept of firm level globalization as a special but not the general case Christoph Czychon dedicates specific attention to the research on regional and global MNEs based on an extensive and rigorous review of the existing academic literature as well as the analysis of 2005 2015 empirical data from the European context with a focus on CAC40 and DAX30 listed firms In doing so the author offers insights and results that stand in contrast to the original narrative of the debate and presents a comprehensive and updated perspective on regional and global MNEs

Foreign Direct Investment Bijit Bora, 2002-06 Foreign Direct Investment examines the different approaches to explaining the growth and distribution of FDI in the world Pulling together contributions from an array of international experts this study combines theoretical with empirical work on issues such as computable general equilibrium modelling trade intellectual property environment labour services and development By analysing different aspects of the growth and impact of FDI this book is able to balance areas where research is well advanced with areas such as the role of FDI in development where many questions remain This insightful and important text will be useful to students of development economics as well as policy makers and researchers

Knowledge Capital and the "New Economy" Pontus Braunerhjelm, 2012-12-06 According to its proponents the new economy is associated with sustainable growth increased demand for labor and zero inflation On the micro level this bright avenue into the future is propelled by knowledge capital flexibility and new ways of organizing production such as clusters and networks Progress in information technology together with massive deregulation on the national and the international levels have been credited with setting this development into motion The concept of the new economy has been rapidly embraced by politicians as it seems to offer a way out of the traditional trade off between unemployment and wage inflation However empirical evidence regarding the microeconomic mechanisms of the new economy is scarce Knowledge Capital and the New Economy Firm Size Performance and Network Production intends to narrow this gap by empirically analyzing the composition of knowledge capital and how knowledge capital is distributed across firms of different size Moreover the impact of knowledge capital on firms profitability and international competitiveness is also examined Finally we compare cluster dynamics and the institutional set up in Europe and the U S with the purpose of identifying regulations that seem to hinder a conducive environment for expanding and dynamic European clusters The results of this study emphasize the role of knowledge capital and flexibility Thus irrespective of how sustainable the new economy turns out to be the policy implications in terms of providing institutions that facilitate knowledge enhancing economic activities flexible markets and transparent incentive structures are undeniable Countries that fail in this respect may find themselves trailing in the international growth and welfare rankings

The New Economic Analysis of Multinationals Thomas L. Brewer, Stephen Young, Stephen E. Guisinger, 2003-01-01 This is a useful addition to the literature on MNEs and a must for researchers and policymakers in the area of international business C S Venkata Ratnam Global Business Review In this seminal book a distinguished group of experts pinpoint and rigorously analyse central topics in international business research This volume will become a major reference tool for understanding the economics of multinational enterprise The emphasis throughout is on a new dynamic research agenda for theory for empirical research and for public policy

Governments, Globalization, and International Business John H. Dunning, 1997-07-24 It is a cliché to say that we live in a globalized world in which investment flows communications and the operations of multinationals from all parts of the world have changed the character of the international business environment But the easy concept of globalization poses as many questions as it answers and it is the purpose of this book to address these challenges In Governments Globalization and International Business a prestigious group of international scholars explore in detail the consequences of globalization defined as the deepening structural interdependence of the world economy In Part 1 John Dunning Richard Lipsey Susan Strange and Stephen Kobrin analyse these changes from different disciplinary perspectives and intellectual backgrounds The basic question they address is what are the consequences of globalization on the nature form and level of domestic economic activity In doing so they also consider the increasing mobility of knowledge and information the role of international corporations and the sovereignty of the nation state in the modern borderless world In Part 2 the different experiences and policies of a number of economies are assessed in a series of country studies These include the G7 countries as well as the developing East Asian economies Latin America and smaller developed countries In the final part John Stopford and Edward Graham stand back and look at the changing role of National and Supranational governance In doing so they underscore a fundamental tenet of the volume that globalization requires national governments to re evaluate various factors of their systemic governance Yet despite apparently convergent trends they argue there are no universal prescriptions for the way governments should respond to globalization and the policy challenge is a more complex one than merely more or less government

Multinational Enterprises in Less Developed Countries Peter J. Buckley, Jeremy Clegg, 2016-07-27 This volume identifies and analyses the crucial issues in the impact of multinational enterprises MNEs on less developed countries LDCs Although the authors take a variety of wide stances on the important questions a uniformity of approach emerges The perspective is essentially that of economic analysis but it is enlivened by unorthodox concepts derived from related social science disciplines The chapters cover the process of development paying attention to entrepreneurship cultural factors and management styles and examine the impact on welfare and income distribution in the host country

European Competitiveness Kirsty S. Hughes, 1993-05-06 This book analyses the key factors determining European competitiveness It focuses in particular on the issues of internationalization of firms and markets the role of technology and innovation and of continuing European integration and deals with these issues on the level of firms industries and countries The competitiveness of the EC as a whole relative to the USA and Japan is also examined Part I deals with internationalization the organization of firms and the activities of multinationals in Europe Part II focuses on trends in technological competitiveness and its importance in growth and trade performance Part III is concerned with structural change the integration of the European market competition and mergers the role of the public sector and the role of cultural differences The book ends by addressing the role of industrial policy in the future of the Eastern European economies
