Parallel Imports in Asia Christopher Heath, 2004 In the absence of international rules governing parallel imports and exhaustion of intellectual property rights issues arising in this context are left to the individual countries concerned Asian countries although generally more open towards parallel imports than Europe or the U S show marked differences both among their individual approaches and among the various intellectual property rights in question Increasingly permitting or blocking parallel imports of intellectually protected goods is regarded as a political decision to accommodate foreign pressure domestic consumers or right holders Due to the diversity of legal regimes in the jurisdictions covered reliable information on the regimes of parallel imports in Asia has been hard to come by Now Parallel Imports in Asia brings together the insight and experience of fourteen academics and practitioners in this specialized but highly significant field each highly respected in his or her particular country Two concise introductory chapters clearly present the economic and legal foundations of the subject matter Then thirteen chapters offer in depth analysis of exhaustion of intellectual property rights and parallel imports for each of twelve Asian jurisdictions China Taiwan Japan Korea Vietnam Thailand Indonesia The Philippines Malaysia Singapore Hong Kong and India plus the Australasian bloc With this book businesses in all of these countries and in particular India and the Australasian countries can assess the strength of their IP rights against parallel importation in other parts of Asia All country reports are written in a uniform structure and take into account legal political and economic considerations with respect to the parallel importation of patented trademarked and copyrighted goods A useful appendix provides a synoptical overview on the rules of parallel importation in Asia While academics will find here a thought provoking survey of an important but relatively unstudied area of intellectual property law Parallel Imports in Asia will prove to be of greatest value to potential investors in Asia particularly with regard to market separation and licensing agreements It will also help practicing lawyers for globally operating companies to appropriately counsel their clients in this area of business decision making

Jurisdictions Kung-Chung Liu, 2019-07-17 In this second volume of the Applied Research Center for Intellectual Assets and the Law in Asia (ARCIALA) series, thirty-seven eminent scholars and practitioners from Asia and the United States have come together to comprehensively assess leading copyright cases from eight major Asian jurisdictions: People's Republic of China, PRC, India, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, the Philippines, Singapore, and Taiwan. This book contains thirty-six case reports that focus on six topics that reflect the current trends in Asian copyright law: namely, digital copyright, collective copyright, including the management of copyright and the interface between collecting societies and competition law, criminal copyright with a discussion of criminal punishment for copyright infringement, limits to copyright such as fair use and exhaustion, the relationship between copyright laws and other forms of protection and choice of jurisdiction and applicable law in copyright litigation. Each case report deconstructs the legal background, facts and rationale of the decision in a particular landmark case and then discusses the commercial or industrial significance and application. Notably, this includes an analysis of The Hague Convention on Choice of Court Agreements and its adoption in Singapore, which is to date the only Asian country to have fully ratified it. Taken together, this volume presents a useful guide for copyright practitioners, professionals, lawyers and judges alike, in addition to acting as a primer for students and businessmen planning to enter Asia's exciting world of copyright. It also serves as a handbook for policy makers both within Asia and further afield      Intellectual Property Law in South East Asia
