Parameters Of Learning Perspectives In Higher Education Today:

Parameters of Learning William James McKeefery,1970 The framework of this new look at college and university education in this country today divides the learning experience into seven sections or groups the stable patterns of which constitute the parameters or constants people space instructional method time materials student interaction and gain in knowledge In actual practice Mr McKeefery shows there has not been much real change in educational practice over the years for example twenty people in a classroom represent the parameter or constant of group learning And change was not really possible he points out until technology provided means to amplify voices simulate images and store data for easy retrieval While this work is concerned primarily with surveying the present state of the educational process a bibliography of over five hundred titles divided into fifteen categories provides aid to the reader who wishes to pursue his study Mr McKeefery s conjectures about the future should prove both stimulating and challenging

Instructional Development for Individualized Learning in Higher Education Robert M. Diamond,1975 Abstract A practical guide to instructional development for individual learning for university administrators faculty members and students involved in academic innovation emphasizes specific procedures and actual experiences rather than theories and hypothetical examples The 7 text chapter present information and guidelines concerning the basic elements of a sucessful individualized instruction program requirements for organizational changes in academic philosophy basic design inputs project development and the establishment of the instructional operational sequence design and implementation of evaluation instruments and procedures the instructional evaluation component and the intrepretation of evaluation data cost effectiveness and accountability exemplified by a case study and the current status of and prospects for individualized higher education Information on institutional policies with respect to the use of copyrightable materials royalties and on the logistics hardware and budgeting in independent learning facilities are appended wz

The European Higher Education Area Adrian Curaj,Liviu Matei,Remus Pricopie,Jamil Salmi,Peter Scott,2015-10-12 Bridging the gap between higher education research and policy making was always a challenge but the recent calls for more evidence based policies have opened a window of unprecedented opportunity for researchers to bring more contributions to shaping the future of the European Higher Education Area EHEA Encouraged by the success of the 2011 first edition Romania and Armenia have organised a 2nd edition of the Future of Higher Education Bologna Process Researchers Conference FOHE BPRC in November 2014 with the support of the Italian Presidency of the European Union and as part of the official EHEA agenda Reuniting over 170 researchers from more than 30 countries the event was a forum to debate the trends and challenges faced by higher education today and look at the future of European cooperation in higher education The research volumes offer unique insights regarding the state of affairs of European higher education and research as well as forward looking policy proposals More than 50 articles focus on essential themes in higher education Internationalization of higher education Financing and governance Excellence and the diversification of missions Teaching learning and student engagement Equity and the social dimension of higher education Education research and innovation Quality assurance The impacts of the Bologna Process on the EHEA and beyond and Evidence based policies in higher education The Bologna process was launched at a time of great optimism about the future of the European project to which of course the reform of higher education across the continent has made a major contribution Today for the present that optimism has faded as economic troubles have accumulated in the Euro zone political tensions have been increased on issues such as immigration and armed conflict has broken out in Ukraine There is clearly a risk that against this troubled background the Bologna process itself may falter There are already signs that it has been downgraded in some countries with evidence of political withdrawal All the more reason for the voice of higher education researchers to be heard Since the first conference they have established themselves as powerful stakeholders in the development of the EHEA who are helping to maintain the momentum of the Bologna process Their pivotal role has been strengthened by the second Bucharest conference Peter Scott Institute of Education London General Rapporteur of the FOHE BPRC first edition

Values, Education, Emotional Learning, and the Quest for Justice in Education, 2024-07-15 In this book emotional teaching learning is explored as it is cultivated based on teachers and learners attraction to reasonableness and emotions and can give rise to a plausible form of decoloniality or decolonisation in and through education It is argued that when the latter manifests the democratic transformation of education might ensue Put differently decoloniality and or decolonisation of education is a substantive way to look at the democratisation and by implication transformation of education and schooling Readers are invited to engage with the meanings espoused throughout this book in the quest to cultivate a genuinely decolonial form of education in universities and schools where values education should be enacted reasonably and emotively in such educational institutions Teachers and learners cannot remain silent when oppressive and hegemonic forces of modernity continue to guide educational practices in institutions Contributors are Ahoud Alasfour N Dri Th r se Assi Lumumba Emilio Bosio Jos Br s Juan Carlos Rodriguez Camacho
