Parchment Of Leaves A Novel:

A Parchment of Leaves Silas House, 2002-08-16 When Silas House made his debut with Clay's Quilt last year it touched a nerve not just in his home state where it quickly became a bestseller but all across the country. Glowing reviews from USA Today, House is letter perfect with his first novel to the Philadelphia Inquirer. Compelling House knows what's important and reminds us of the value of family and home, love and loyalty to the Mobile Register. Poetic, haunting and everywhere in between, established him as a writer to watch. His second novel won't disappoint. Set in 1917, A PARCHMENT OF LEAVES tells the story of Vine, a beautiful Cherokee woman who marries a white man, forsaking her family and their homeland to settle in with his people and make a home in the heart of the mountains. Her mother has strange forebodings that all will not go well, and she's right. Vine is viewed as an outsider, treated with contempt by other townspeople. Add to that her brother-in-law's fixation on her, and Vine's life becomes more complicated than she could have ever imagined. In the violent turn of events that ensues, she learns what it means to forgive others and most important, how to forgive herself. As haunting as an old-time ballad, A PARCHMENT OF LEAVES is filled with the imagery, dialect, music, and thrumming life of the Kentucky mountains. For Silas House, whose great grandmother was Cherokee, this novel is also a tribute to the family whose spirit formed him.

Parchment of Leaves Silas House, 2003-08-01 Silas House Sylvia Bailey Shurbutt, 2021-06-30 Bestselling author, journalist, playwright, and activist Silas House has focused nearly all of his work on Appalachia. His acclaimed and diverse body of work includes the novels Clay's Quilt, A Parchment of Leaves, The Coal Tattoo, Eli the Good, and Southernmost. Well known for its lyrical style, diverse and sympathetic characters, and political engagement, House's work is overdue for deeper critical study. In this groundbreaking book, editor and coauthor Sylvia Bailey Shurbutt brings together established and rising scholars to discuss House and his writings through a critical lens. Various chapters address different aspects of House's fiction and nonfiction, including the ways in which he deconstructs regional stereotypes, how he explores issues of diversity, his environmental activism, and his approach to LGBTQ issues. The collection begins with a foreword by Denise Giardina and concludes with a chapter by celebrated poet Maurice Manning exploring the lyricism that distinguishes House's work. Featuring an interview with House that further illuminates his philosophy and art, this timely volume offers an important critical appraisal of his oeuvre to date and illustrates why he is one of the most significant voices in Appalachian and American literature today.

A Descriptive Catalogue of the English Manuscripts of John Gower's Confessio Amantis Derek Pearsall, Linne R. Mooney, 2021 Winner of the 2022 John Hurt Fisher Award from the John Gower Society. First comprehensive catalogue of the manuscripts of one of the most important medieval works, with full descriptions of their features The Confessio Amantis is John Gower's major work in English written around the time that his acquaintance Geoffrey Chaucer was writing the Canterbury Tales. Extant manuscripts are numerous. At the end of the nineteenth century G. C. Macaulay had described the forty manuscripts then known to survive in the introduction to his edition but some of these descriptions were very brief and of course the other nine of whose existence he was then unaware were not included. This descriptive catalogue of all of the surviving manuscripts containing the Confessio is the first work to bring together extensive detailed descriptions of its forty nine complete manuscripts and numerous fragments and excerpts. It will enable scholars of Middle English literature and manuscript studies to compare features across the corpus of surviving manuscripts or read detailed descriptions of individual manuscripts. Each description in this catalogue covers the manuscript's contents, artwork, physical qualities such as size, material, collation, foliation etc. as well as additions by later users and provenance. There is also a lengthy introduction giving an overview of the corpus and appendices for reference to the current whereabouts of the manuscripts, fragments and excerpts, and listing Gower's Latin and French works that appear in some of the manuscripts. Eight colour illustrations provide context for discussions of the miniatures and illuminated borders of some manuscripts.

School Life, 1930 Notes on the Churches of Nottinghamshire John Thomas Godfrey, 1907 The Knight of Dilham. A Story of the Lollards Arthur Brown (Vicar of Dilham.), 1875 Maps, Myths, and Men Kirsten A. Seaver, 2004

The Vinland Map first surfaced on the antiquarian market in 1957 and the map's authenticity has been hotly debated ever since in controversies ranging from the anomalous composition of the ink and the map's lack of provenance to a plethora of historical and cartographical riddles. Maps, Myths, and Men is the first work to address the full range of this debate. Focusing closely on what the map in fact shows, the book contains a critique of the 1965 work The Vinland Map and the Tartar Relation, scrutinizes the marketing strategies used in 1957 and covers many aspects of the map that demonstrate it is a modern fake, such as literary evidence and several scientific ink analyses performed between 1967 and 2002. The author explains a number of the riddles and provides evidence for both the identity of the mapmaker and the source of the parchment used and she applies current knowledge of medieval Norse culture and exploration to counter widespread misinformation about Norse voyages to North America and about the Norse world picture.

Calligraphy expert Ewan Clayton traces the history of an invention which ever since our ancestors made the transition from a nomadic to an agrarian way of life in the eighth century BC has been the method of codification and dissemination of ideas in every field of human endeavour and a motor of cultural, scientific and political progress. He explores the social and cultural impact of, among other stages, the invention of the alphabet, the replacement of the papyrus scroll with the codex in the late Roman period, the perfecting of printing using moveable type in the fifteenth century and the ensuing spread of literacy, the industrialization of printing during the Industrial Revolution, the impact of artistic Modernism on the written word in the early twentieth century and of the digital switchover at the century's close. The Golden Thread also raises issues of urgent interest for a society living in an era of unprecedented change to the tools and technologies of written communication. Chief among these is the fundamental question: What does it mean to be literate in the early twenty-first century? The book belongs on the bookshelves of anyone who is inquisitive not just about the centrality of writing in the history of humanity but also about its future; it is sure to appeal to lovers of language, books and cultural history. The Green Book Magazine, 1912
