is organized into three complementary parts in the first the structure of buildings is dealt with in detail the second focuses attention on the causes of decay and the materials they affect and the third considers the practical role of the architect involved in conservation and rehabilitation As well as being essential reading for architects and others concerned with conservation many lay people with various kinds of responsibility for historic buildings will find this clearly written jargon free work a fruitful source of guidance and information The New Practical Reference Library Charles H.

Sylvester, William Francis Rocheleau, 1908 Parisian Views Shelley Rice, 1999 Each of the book's essays is in itself a Parisian view The fragmented layered quality of the text allows the author to avoid making a linear narrative out of a subject that is enriched by multiple perspectives Yet all of the essays revolve around a central theme the creation of modern urban space in both two and three dimensions and the impact of this space on the lives of those who walked the streets of Paris of the nineteenth century A Dictionary of Architecture and Building Russell Sturgis, 1902 Building A New Heritage

(RLE Tourism) Gregory Ashworth, Peter Larkham, 2013-05-20 At the heart of the European debate lies the tension between the idea of European unity and individual state identities and nationalisms This volume provides an insight into this dichotomy by exploring the role of heritage in the new Europe The main theme of this book is that a number of possible heritages can be shaped from the European past depending on the purposes for which they are intended Through different methods of management intervention heritage can fulfil a variety of functions becoming a major commercial resource in the form of the tourism industry or enlisted in the creation and maintenance of place identities Leading contributors look at different perceptions of heritage by different cultures and the social and political consequences of heritage planning The nature of heritage planning for emerging spatially fragmented state structures is also discussed The Effects of Air Pollution on Cultural Heritage John Watt, Johan Tidblad, Vladimir Kucera, Ron Hamilton, 2009-06-10 This book reviews the sources of the air pollutants responsible for building damage and the mechanisms involved Studies investigating the relationships between pollution concentration dose and the resulting damage response are described and the latest research findings for dose response functions are presented Trends in pollutant emissions ambient concentrations and building damage over time are described and future predictions are presented Methodologies for assessing the extent of the potential problem in a region the stock at risk are presented Procedures for estimating the economic implications are described and the consequences are discussed in detail because economic factors are important for reaching policy and management decisions at local national and international scales Damage to cultural heritage buildings is an important additional effect which needs to be considered as the standards are revised and the factors which will need to be brought into the assessment are presented The Personality of Paris Alan R. H. Baker, 2021-01-28 What was the personality of 19th century Paris To answer that question this book eschews the conventional narrative and chronological route taken by most histories of Paris Instead it thematically analyses the complex personality traits of Paris from the onset of the Revolution of 1789 to the beginning of the Great War Starting with the topographical and cultural legacies that late 18th century Paris inherited from its foundation in pre Roman and Roman times and from its medieval infancy and early modern adolescence The Personality of Paris unpacks the social and material complexity of the 19th century city It considers the role of immigration in the making of Parisians and in the city s growth from half a million in 1801 to almost three million in 1911 It examines the making of its distinctive landscape through the construction of monuments and architectural icons through its massive re modelling by Napol on III and Baron Haussmann through its five world exhibitions through its emphasis on food fashion and leisure and through the ways in which Parisians sought rural release from urban pressure Finally the book considers the self harm done to the person of 19th century Paris by revolutions and wars and the damage inflicted on it by 20th century hubristic politicians and architects
