current state and potential of economic and financial integration in South Asia which has emerged as one of the most dynamic regions of the world. It looks at how regional convergences and cooperation would reinforce ties amongst the diverse economies of South Asia in the changing global economic landscape. Drawing on empirical research, the book looks at the degree of economic and financial integration in South Asia which, according to the World Bank, includes the least integrated regions in the world and explores the fundamental factors that drive integration amongst these countries. It offers important insights into the financial landscape of the region as well as the dynamics of the interlinkages in the banking system, the stock markets and the debt markets. The book examines the role of bilateral trade in augmenting regional economic ties, the opportunities for growth these will foster and the major challenges and roadblocks for the leaders of the region. It also provides an overview of China's role in South Asia's financial integration and the interdependence of these economies for economic opportunities, macroeconomic and financial stability, jobs, sustainable growth and inclusive development. Detailed and insightful, this book will be of great interest to investors and regional policymakers. It will also be of interest to researchers and students of economics, public and foreign policy, finance, international relations and South Asia studies.

Trade and Regional Integration in South Asia Selim Raihan, Prabir De, 2020-04-27. Gathering contributions from leading academics and international trade experts from South Asia, this book is dedicated to the late Dr Saman Kelegama whose untimely death in June 2017 left a huge void in the field of regional economic cooperation. Keeping in mind his enduring legacy regarding regional cooperation in South Asia, it covers issues related to the challenges of deeper regional integration in South Asia and proposes strategies to address these challenges. It also offers an up-to-date rigorous academic analysis of various issues related to low intra-regional trade in South Asia, prevalence of tariff barriers, incidence of a range of non-tariff measures, challenges of weak trade-related infrastructure and the need for trade facilitation, the political economics of regional integration, highlighting how bilateral political relations affect the integration process, low level of intra-regional investment, South Asia's pattern of integration with the global and regional value chains, pattern and dominance of informal trade and alternative regional integration initiatives in South Asia such as the bilateral, regional and sub-regional trade agreements within and countries outside this region. Intended primarily for researchers and students of international trade and policymakers from South Asia and beyond, the book is also a valuable supplementary reference resource for researchers and students. Furthermore, the pragmatic analysis of the policy options presented offers guidance for policymakers in South Asia wanting to implement effective policies and strategies for deeper regional integration.

South Asia Trade and Energy Security Narottam P. Banskota, 2012. Today, policy makers in both developed and developing countries are pursuing regionalization as a means to achieve easier market access, economies of scale and welfare gains. South Asia Trade and Energy Security explains how regional economic cooperation in trade and energy security could help facilitate the economic transformation of the region, reducing poverty and expanding production. Currently, intra-regional trade in South Asia is constrained by tariff and non tariff barriers A fully functional free trade area as envisaged in the South Asian Free Trade Area agreement has yet to be realized This book explains the current patterns and limitations of energy trade between countries in South Asia and how the growing demand for energy could be met by working closely with energy rich Iran Burma and Central Asian countries Cross border cooperation between India and China Chinese investment in Tibet and Xinxiang and water relations are also discussed Policymakers geopolitical strategists and academics working in Asian Studies will appreciate this detailed analysis of how globalization and regional cooperation in trade and energy are playing a transformative role in South Asia s economic development
