Historic Sites and Landmarks That Shaped America From Acoma Pueblo to Ground Zero encompasses more than 200 sites from the earliest settlements to the present, covering a wide variety of locations. It includes concise yet detailed entries on each landmark that explain its importance to the nation. With entries arranged alphabetically according to the name of the site and the state in which it resides, this work covers both obscure and famous landmarks to demonstrate how a nation can grow and change with the creation or discovery of important places. The volume explores the ways different cultures viewed, revered or even vilified these sites. It also examines why people remember such places more than others. Accessible to both novice and expert readers, this well-researched guide will appeal to anyone from high school students to general adult readers A View from the River Jay Pridmore, 2000 The full-page layout of photographs by architectural photographer Hedrich Blessing which show the magnificent skyscrapers of Chicago in a variety of complementary light conditions reproduce the popular Chicago Architecture Foundation tours. An informative text accompanies the photos on the facing Source Book of American Architecture George Everard Kidder Smith, 1996 Scorched Earth is the first book to chronicle the effects of chemical warfare on the Vietnamese people and their environment where even today more than 3 million people, including 500,000 children, are sick and dying from birth defects, cancer and other illnesses that can be directly traced to Agent Orange dioxin exposure. Weaving first-person accounts with original research, Vietnam War scholar Fred A. Wilcox examines long-term consequences for future generations, laying bare the ongoing monumental tragedy in Vietnam and calls for the United States government to finally admit its role in chemical warfare in Vietnam. Wilcox also warns readers that unless we stop poisoning our air, food and water supplies, the cancer epidemic in the United States and other countries will only worsen and he urgently demands the chemical manufacturers of Agent Orange to compensate the victims of their greed and to stop using the Earth's rivers, lakes and oceans as toxic waste dumps. Vietnam has chosen August 10, the day that the US began spraying Agent Orange on Vietnam, as Agent Orange Day to commemorate all its citizens who were affected by the deadly chemical. Scorched Earth will be released upon the third anniversary of this day in honor of all those whose families have suffered and continue to suffer from this tragedy Block by Block Amanda I. Seligman, 2005-05-10 In the decades following World War

II cities across the United States saw an influx of African American families into otherwise homogeneously white areas This racial transformation of urban neighborhoods led many whites to migrate to the suburbs producing the phenomenon commonly known as white flight In Block by Block Amanda I Seligman draws on the surprisingly understudied West Side communities of Chicago to shed new light on this story of postwar urban America Seligman s study reveals that the responses of white West Siders to racial changes occurring in their neighborhoods were both multifaceted and extensive She shows that despite rehabilitation efforts deterioration in these areas began long before the color of their inhabitants changed from white to black And ultimately the riots that erupted on Chicago s West Side and across the country in the mid 1960s stemmed not only from the tribulations specific to blacks in urban centers but also from the legacy of accumulated neglect after decades of white occupancy Seligman s careful and evenhanded account will be essential to understanding that the flight of whites to the suburbs was the eventual result of a series of responses to transformations in Chicago s physical and social landscape occurring one block at a time
