Seascape With Body:

Seascape with Body Raymond Flynn, 2006      Routledge Handbook of Seascapes Gloria Pungetti, 2022-07-31 Seascape studies have developed in response to questions arising from composite correlations such as coastal island and marine research social requirements landscape design and planning marine ecology and environment and resource management This global volume is the first comprehensive overview to provide a solid foundation on the concept of seascape with the latest research findings from leading experts across a variety of fields offering a holistic approach to seascape linking nature with culture and theory with practice Divided into six parts it includes over 30 chapters from contributors around the world Pioneering methods with illustrated case studies from the Mediterranean Scandinavia North Sea North America and Asia serve as examples for future seascape development conservation and governance An important and extremely timely resource the Routledge Handbook of Seascapes provides academics practitioners NGOs consultants and government officials with a broad overview of current research and practice for future application and advance worldwide

Landscape, Seascape, and the Eco-Spatial Imagination Simon Estok, Jonathan White, I-Chun Wang, 2016-05-12 Written from within the best traditions of ecocritical thought this book provides a wide ranging account of the spatial imagination of landscape and seascape in literary and cultural contexts from many regions of the world It brings together essays by authors writing from within diverse cultural traditions across historical periods from ancient Egypt to the postcolonial and postmodern present and touches on an array of divergent theoretical interventions The volume investigates how our spatial imaginations become wired looking at questions about mediation and exploring how various traditions compete for prominence in our spatial imagination In what ways is personal experience inflected by prevailing cultural traditions of representation and interpretation Can an individual maintain a unique and distinctive spatial imagination in the face of dominant trends in perception and interpretation What are the environmental implications of how we see landscape The book reviews how landscape is at once conceptual and perceptual illuminating several important themes including the temporality of space the mediations of place that form the response of an observer of a landscape and the development of response in any single life from early partial thoughts to more considered ideas in maturity Chapters provide suggestive and culturally nuanced propositions from varying points of view on ancient and modern landscapes and seascapes and on how individuals or societies have arranged conceptualized or imagined circumambient space Opening up issues of landscape seascape and spatiality this volume commences a wide ranging critical discussion that includes various approaches to literature history and cultural studies Bringing together research from diverse areas such as ecocriticism landscape theory colonial and postcolonial theory hybridization theory and East Asian Studies to provide a historicized and global account of our ecospatial imaginations this book will be useful for scholars of landscape ecology ecocriticism physical and social geography postcolonialism and postcolonial ecologies comparative literary studies and East Asian Studies

Seascapes: Shaped by the Sea Mike Brown, Barbara Humberstone, 2016-04-01 Despite the fact that the sea covers 70 per cent of the Earth's surface and is integral to the workings of the world it has been largely neglected or perceived as marginal in modern consciousness This edited collection disrupts notions of the sea as other as foreign and featureless through specific situated accounts which highlight the centrality of the sea for the individuals concerned Bringing together academics who combine scholarly expertise with lived experiences on in and with the sea it examines humans relationships with the sea Through the use of auto ethnographic accounting the contributors reflect on how the sea has shaped their sense of identity belonging and connection They examine what it is to be engaged with the sea and narrate their lived sentient corporeal experiences The sea is a cultural seascape just as it is physical reality The sea shapes us and we in turn attempt to shape it as we construct various versions of it that reflect our on going and mutable relationship with it The use of embodied accounts as a way of conveying lived experiences and the integration of relevant theoretical frames for understanding the broader cultural implications provide new opportunities to understand seascapes

Getting Back Into Place Edward S. Casey, 1993 Offers a philosophical exploration of the pervasiveness of place Presenting an account of the role of place in human experience this book points to place's indispensability in navigation and orientation The role of the lived body in matters of place is considered and the characteristics of built places are explored

Seascape Ecology Simon J. Pittman, 2017-10-30 Seascape Ecology provides a comprehensive look at the state of the science in the application of landscape ecology to the seas and provides guidance for future research priorities The first book devoted exclusively to this rapidly emerging and increasingly important discipline it is comprised of contributions from researchers at the forefront of seascape ecology working around the world It presents the principles concepts methodology and techniques informing seascape ecology and reports on the latest developments in the application of the approach to marine ecology and management A growing number of marine scientists geographers and marine managers are asking questions about the marine environment that are best addressed with a landscape ecology perspective Seascape Ecology represents the first serious effort to fill the gap in the literature on the subject Key topics and features of interest include The origins and history of seascape ecology and various approaches to spatial patterning in the sea The links between seascape patterns and ecological processes with special attention paid to the roles played by seagrasses and salt marshes and animal movements through seascapes Human influences on seascape ecology includes models for assessing human seascape interactions A special epilogue in which three eminent scientists who have been instrumental in shaping the course of landscape ecology offer their insights and perspectives Seascape Ecology is a must read for researchers and professionals in an array of disciplines including marine biology environmental science geosciences marine and coastal management and environmental protection It is also an excellent supplementary text for university courses in those fields

Scylla Marianne Govers Hopman, 2013-01-03 What's in a name Using the example of a famous monster from Greek myth this book challenges the dominant view that a mythical symbol denotes a single clear cut

figure and proposes instead to define the name Scylla as a combination of three concepts sea dog and woman whose articulation changes over time While archaic and classical Greek versions usually emphasize the metaphorical coherence of Scylla's components the name is increasingly treated as a well defined but also paradoxical construct from the late fourth century BCE onward Proceeding through detailed analyses of Greek and Roman texts and images Professor Hopman shows how the same name can variously express anxieties about the sea dogs aggressive women and shy maidens thus offering an empirical response to the semiotic puzzle raised by non referential proper names Indigenous Bodies Jacqueline

Fear-Segal, Rebecca Tillett, 2013-09-30 This interdisciplinary collection of essays by both Natives and non Natives explores presentations and representations of indigenous bodies in historical and contemporary contexts Recent decades have seen a wealth of scholarship on the body in a wide range of disciplines Indigenous Bodies extends this scholarship in exciting new ways bringing together the disciplinary expertise of Native studies scholars from around the world The book is particularly concerned with the Native body as a site of persistent fascination colonial oppression and indigenous agency along with the endurance of these legacies within Native communities At the core of this collection lies a dual commitment to exposing numerous and diverse disempowerments of indigenous peoples and to recognizing the many ways in which these same people retained and or reclaimed agency Issues of reviewing relocating and reclaiming bodies are examined in the chapters which are paired to bring to light juxtapositions and connections and further the transnational development of indigenous studies American Sea Literature: Seascapes, Beach Narratives, and Underwater Explorations S.

Yamashiro, 2014-07-31 Implementing a never before seen approach to sea literature American Sea Literature Seascapes Beach Narratives and Underwater Explorations explores the role of American maritime activities and their cultural representations in literature Differentiating between the terrestrial and oceanic as concepts Shin Yamashiro divides sea literature into three categories literature on the sea by the sea and beneath the sea Discussing both canonical works and new books on scuba diving deep sea explorations and surfing this fascinating study recognizes sea literature's unique influence on American history Underwater Seascapes Olivier Musard, Laurence Le Dù-Blayo, Patrice Francour, Jean-Pierre Beurier, Eric

Feunteun, Luc Talassinos, 2014-03-24 While the European Landscape Convention adopted in Florence in 2000 by the European Council offers a public action framework through a normative definition the marine and submarine dimensions of landscapes are attracting growing interest from researchers worldwide At a time when marine conservation objectives are strongly endorsed by the Convention on Biological Diversity the French Marine Protected Areas Agency a public institution under the governance of the French Ministry of the Environment has gathered prominent experts to draft the very first interdisciplinary overview of underwater seascapes so as to initiate and lend direction to a wider reflection on this emerging research topic Seascape's Aground ! T.W. Moral Seascapes
Jonathan Stafford, Henning Trüper, Burkhardt Wolf, 2024-11-20 We are no strangers today to visual representations of human suffering at sea the refugee crisis that continues to play out in the seascope between Europe and Africa and not only there yields an ever growing archive of humanitarian tragedy As both a visual backdrop and a lethal medium of unequal mobility maritime space and landscape play a significant role in mediating the ethical demands of this crisis Yet there has been little exploration of the longer history of morality s role in our understanding of aesthetic representations of the sea The diverse contributions in Moral Seascapes explore the various symbolic forms through which these shifting moral norms and values have been manifested contributing to debates concerning the place of the sea in visual and literary cultures and the history of morality and emotion as well as the emergence of modern subjectivity Drawing on a range of interdisciplinary perspectives such as visual culture experimental art history literary studies history and philosophy Moral Seascapes develops distinctive new insights into the relationship between the moral cultures of modernity and the image of the sea

Managing Socio-ecological Production Landscapes and Seascapes for Sustainable Communities in Asia Osamu Saito, Suneetha M Subramanian, Shizuka Hashimoto, Kazuhiko Takeuchi, 2020-02-10 This open access book presents up to date analyses of community based approaches to sustainable resource management of SEPLS socio ecological production landscapes and seascapes in areas where a harmonious relationship between the natural environment and the people who inhabit it is essential to ensure community and environmental well being as well as to build resilience in the ecosystems that support this well being Understanding SEPLS and the forces of change that can weaken their resilience requires the integration of knowledge across a wide range of academic disciplines as well as from indigenous knowledge and experience Moreover given the wide variation in the socio ecological makeup of SEPLS around the globe as well as in their political and economic contexts individual communities will be at the forefront of developing the measures appropriate for their unique circumstances This in turn requires robust communication systems and broad participatory approaches Sustainability science SuS research is highly integrated participatory and solutions driven and as such is well suited to the study of SEPLS Through case studies literature reviews and SuS analyses the book explores various approaches to stakeholder participation policy development and appropriate action for the future of SEPLS It provides communities researchers and decision makers at various levels with new tools and strategies for exploring scenarios and creating future visions for sustainable societies

Handbook of Landscape Archaeology Bruno David, Julian Thomas, 2016-06-03 Over the past three decades landscape has become an umbrella term to describe many different strands of archaeology From the processualist study of settlement patterns to the phenomenologist s experience of the natural world from human impact on past environments to the environment s impact on human thought action and interaction the term has been used In this volume for the first time over 80 archaeologists from three continents attempt a comprehensive definition of the ideas and practices of landscape archaeology covering the theoretical and the practical the research and conservation and encasing the term in a global framework As a basic reference volume for landscape archaeology this volume will be the benchmark for decades to come All royalties on this Handbook are donated to the World Archaeological Congress

Language in the Brain Helmut Schnelle, 2010-05-20 A neurocognitive analysis of the form use and meaning of language bridging the gap between linguistic and neuroscientific studies

Protected Area Governance and Management Graeme L. Worboys, Michael Lockwood, Ashish Kothari, Sue Feary, Ian Pulsford, 2015-04-08 Protected Area Governance and Management presents a compendium of original text case studies and examples from across the world by drawing on the literature and on the knowledge and experience of those involved in protected areas The book synthesises current knowledge and cutting edge thinking from the diverse branches of practice and learning relevant to protected area governance and management It is intended as an investment in the skills and competencies of people and consequently the effective governance and management of protected areas for which they are responsible now and into the future The global success of the protected area concept lies in its shared vision to protect natural and cultural heritage for the long term and organisations such as International Union for the Conservation of Nature are a unifying force in this regard Nonetheless protected areas are a socio political phenomenon and the ways that nations understand govern and manage them is always open to contest and debate The book aims to enlighten educate and above all to challenge readers to think deeply about protected areas their future and their past as well as their present The book has been compiled by 169 authors and deals with all aspects of protected area governance and management It provides information to support capacity development training of protected area field officers managers in charge and executive level managers

The Emergence of the African-American Artist Joseph D. Ketner, 1993 Duncanson persevered With no professional training he taught himself to paint by copying prints and portraits and sketching from nature He began his career as a house painter and decorator eventually graduating to the work that would make him famous in his time landscape painting

Extreme Landscapes of Leisure Patrick Laviolette, 2016-04-15 In recent years there has been an increased engagement throughout the social sciences with the study of extreme places and practices Dangerous games and adventure tours have shifted from being marginal exotic or mad to being more than merely acceptable They are now exemplary mainstream even there are a variety of new types increasing numbers of people are doing them and they are being appropriated and have infiltrated more and more contexts This book argues that hazardous sports and adventure tourism have become rather paradoxical As a set of activities where players and holidaymakers are closer to death or danger than they would otherwise be they are the complete opposite of normal games or vacations Adventure sports and tours reverse the general definition of a holiday as being an escape from the seriousness of everyday life as in most cases they are innately serious requiring as they do life or death decision making Beginning with the rise in colonial explorations and moving on to consider the Dangerous Sports Club of Oxford this book examines the increasing phenomena of adventure sports such as bungy jumping cliff jumping or tomb stoning surfing and parkour within a framework of positive risk It explores how certain assumptions about knowledge agency the body and nature are beginning to coalesce around newly developing spheres of social relations Additionally extreme games have become activities that are germane to the dawning of green social thought and so the book also addresses issues that deal with the intimate connections that exist between pleasure and the moral responsibility towards the environment

Seascapes of a Soul: Wholeness and the Sense of Self Venetia Somerset, 2023-06-23 The search for self knowledge and identity is a common theme in autobiographies these days So also is the search for a spirituality other than that of the conventional religions Both are found in Seascapes of a Soul Wholeness and the Sense of Self This book is an account of a unique spirit on an often solitary journey With clear argumentation and transparent honesty this author presents a story that reaches towards individuation gained partly through discovering C G Jung's ideas about the psyche Several themes recur the onset of old age Jungian individuation solitude and aloneness mood swings a rejection of orthodox religion a love for the natural world an interest in gnosticism the inner sense of the Divine Her relationship with her twin sister is also prominent There is light and dark here the ups and downs of living with a twin In rejecting the Christianity she grew up with she followed an innate urge to a spirituality that ultimately arose from the strong sense of self she had had from an early age If this has a name it would be gnostic because it is a perception of inner divinity the God within This is a woman s story with a difference Although unlike so many she did not have to struggle through a life of disadvantage and deprivation she did have to wrestle with a powerful self that sometimes wandered up blind alleys into ego But she learned to accept mistakes and incorporate them into what Einstein called a calm and modest life Images of the sea symbols of the unconscious run through the book The seascapes at the head of each chapter function in the story as a leitmotif for the modes and moods of the spirit At Home on the Waves Tanya J. King, Gary Robinson, 2019-02-18

Contemporary public discourses about the ocean are routinely characterized by scientific and environmentalist narratives that imagine and idealize marine spaces in which humans are absent In contrast this collection explores the variety of ways in which people have long made themselves at home at sea and continue to live intimately with it In doing so it brings together both ethnographic and archaeological research much of it with an explicit Ingoldian approach on a wide range of geographical areas and historical periods
