Taylor,2013-09-17 The Psychology of Reading provides a fair and coherent overall picture of how reading is done and how it is best taught It aims to relate reading to writing systems analyze the process of reading from several viewpoints using research from diverse disciplines and develop a model of reading to explain reading processes all the way from letter recognition to reading whole texts The book describes how children learn to read in different scripts by different methods and at different ages It discusses different components of reading eye movements letter and word recognition sentence and prose reading and so on in beginning readers in skilled or unskilled readers as well as dyslexic readers Brain damaged patients with selective impairment of different components provide a natural laboratory to compare reading processes within one script as well as across different scripts The more types of readers scripts and components examined the better the
