Africa's Lost Classics Lizelle Bisschoff, 2017-07-05 Until recently the story of African film was marked by a series of truncated histories many outstanding films from earlier decades were virtually inaccessible and thus often excluded from critical accounts However various conservation projects since the turn of the century have now begun to make many of these films available to critics and audiences in a way that was unimaginable just a decade ago In this accessible and lively collection of essays Lizelle Bisschoff and David Murphy draw together the best scholarship on the diverse and fragmented strands of African film history Their volume recovers over 30 lost African classic films from 1920 2010 in order to provide a more complex genealogy and begin to trace new histories of African filmmaking from 1920s Egyptian melodramas through lost gems from apartheid South Africa to neglected works by great Francophone directors the full diversity of African cinema will be revealed

Missing Reels Harry Waldman, 2000 During the first half of this century motion pictures were often considered disposable once their circulations were over The recycling of used film and the use of components for war efforts contributed to the loss of many movies as did the unstable nature of the nitrate film itself The loss of extant works has created gaps in the national cinematic history of the United States and most European countries Eighty percent of all Western made films produced before World War I are considered lost while 15 percent of the films made from 1930 to 1950 are also missing Here are descriptions of nearly 1 000 of the lost American and European films produced between 1900 and 1950 featuring the talents of the still famous as well as the now obscure The films are arranged by country and reveal the remarkably prolific early filmmaking in countries like the Netherlands and Sweden Each entry includes production information cast synopsis history and insights from reviews when available Photographs from these films provide glimpses of what once was An extensive index is included

Transpacific Convergences Denise Khor, 2022-04-26 Despite the rise of the Hollywood system and hostility to Asian migrant communities in the early twentieth century United States Japanese Americans created a thriving cinema culture that produced films and established theaters and exhibition companies to facilitate their circulation between Japan and the United States Drawing from a fascinating multilingual archive including the films themselves movie industry trade press Japanese American newspapers oral histories and more this book reveals the experiences of Japanese Americans at the cinema and traces an alternative network of film production exhibition and spectatorship In doing so Denise Khor recovers previously unknown films such as The Oath of the Sword 1914 likely one of the earliest Asian American film productions and illuminates the global circulations that have always constituted the multifaceted history of American cinema Khor opens up transnational lines of inquiry and draws comparisons between early Japanese American cinema and Black cinema to craft a broad and expansive history of a transnational public sphere shaped by the circulation and exchange of people culture and ideas across the Pacific Unsolved Film Mysteries Sophia

Stephen Barber, 2014-11-15 Film does far more than document performance it actively recreates the time and space of performance and overhauls its rapport with the viewer's eye and body The first book to look in depth at the intersection of film and performance in relation to issues and theories of space Performance Projections travels from the origins of film in Europe and the United States to the world of digital media today exploring the dynamic relationship between these vitally connected ideas Drawing from a wide range of examples including filmic depictions of German and Japanese and Chinese performance art and street cultures Stephen Barber argues that the act of filming has the power to draw distinctively performative dimensions out of unruly human gatherings such as riots and political protests while also accentuating the outlandish and aberrant aspects of performance Spanning the history of film Barber moves from performance in film's formative years such as Edward Muybridge's work in the 1880s to contemporary performance artworks for example Rabi Mrou's investigations of the often lethal camera phone filming of snipers in Syrian cities Proposing that the future conception of filmed performance needs to be radically expanded in response to the transformations of digital film cultures Performance Projections is a critical addition to the literature on both film and art history When Hollywood Came to Town James V. D'Arc, 2010-09-01 For nearly a hundred years the state of Utah has played host to scores of Hollywood films from potboilers on lean budgets to some of the most memorable films ever made including The Searchers Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid Footloose and Thelma Louise This book gives readers the inside scoop telling how these films were made what happened on and off set and more As one Utah rancher memorably said to Hollywood moviemakers don t take anything but pictures and don t leave anything but money
