commissioned to design fighters around them As the Second World War began the urgent need to bring these advanced new types into production saw a host of innovative aircraft designs being produced which would eventually result in Messerschmitt's Me 262 jet fighter and the Me 163 rocket propelled interceptor And as the war progressed efforts were increasingly made to find better ways of utilizing jet rocket and latterly ramjet engines in fighter aircraft Aviation companies from across Germany set their finest minds to the task and produced some of the most radical aircraft designs the world had ever seen They proposed rotating wing ramjet fighters arrowhead shaped rammers rocket firing bat winged gun platforms sleek speed machines tailless flying wings tiny mini fighters and a host of others ranging from deadly looking advanced fighters to downright dangerous vertical launch interceptors

He 162 Volksjäger Units Robert Forsyth, 2016-11-17 With the Third Reich on the brink of defeat Hitler's instructions to his designers were clear He wanted a Volksjäger a People's Fighter that was quick to produce and used minimal quantities of strategic materials Heinkel rose to the challenge with the He 162 a fighter constructed of wood and metal that was designed built and flown in the staggeringly short time of ten weeks Professional pilots were in short supply and so the Luftwaffe was ordered to man the He 162 with hastily trained members of the Hitler Youth a flawed plan that fortunately never came to fruition Detailed aircraft profiles and never before seen photographs perfectly complement the analysis of the revolutionary Heinkel He 162 as author Robert Forsyth traces its entire history from the early design and production through to its limited combat experience

Arado Ar 234 Bomber and Reconnaissance Units Robert Forsyth, Nick Beale, 2020-09-17 When the revolutionary twin jet powered Arado Ar 234 first appeared in the skies over north west Europe in the summer of 1944 it represented the state of the art in terms of aeronautical and technical development The Ar 234 was a formidable aircraft powered by Jumo 004Bs the same engine used by the Me 262 and with a maximum speed of 735 km/h and range of 1600 km/h it was very difficult for the Allies to catch Here was a machine that with its superior speed could operate with impunity as both a bomber and in the reconnaissance role As such the aircraft became the world's first reconnaissance jet undertaking secret high speed high altitude observation missions for the German High Command over the Allied beachheads in Normandy and other Allied strongholds Astonishingly in September 1944 and as late as 1945 lone Ar 234s conducted reconnaissance flights over British ports and the Mediterranean The aircraft was equally efficient as a jet bomber although the Ar 234B 2 bomber variant carried no defensive gun armament it was able to deliver 1000 kg of bombs at high speed and at either low or high level with considerable and devastating accuracy This highly detailed title from renowned aviation historian Robert Forsyth explores the history of this incredible aircraft from its development in the early 1940s to its deployment in both reconnaissance and bomber roles throughout the rest of the war The masterful text is supported by stunning specially commissioned artwork
