Scale skills: Level 4 Keith Snell,2000      Just fun Barbara Becker (Musician),1997      The Poetics of Repetition in English and Chinese Lyric Poetry Cecile Chu-chin Sun,2011-01-15 For more than half a century Chinese Western comparative literature has been recognized as a formal academic discipline but critics and scholars in the field have done little to develop a viable common basis for comparison between these disparate literatures In this pioneering book Cecile Chu chin Sun establishes repetition as the ideal perspective from which to compare the poetry and poetics from these two traditions Sun contends that repetition is at the heart of all that defines the lyric as a unique art form and by closely examining its use in Chinese and Western poetry she demonstrates how one can identify important points of convergence and divergence Through a representative sampling of poems from both traditions she illustrates how the irreducible generic nature of the lyric transcends linguistic and cultural barriers but also reveals the fundamental distinctions between the traditions Most crucially she dissects the two radically different conceptualizations of reality mimesis and xing that serve as underlying principles for the poetic practices of each tradition Skillfully integrating theory and practice The Poetics of Repetition in English and Chinese Lyric Poetry provides a much needed model for future study of Chinese and English poetry as well as lucid succinct interpretations of individual poems      In the Path of Allah John Ralph Willis,2013-04-03 A West African Sufi and religious reformer c 1794 1864 struggled to reconcile the temporal achievements of his jihad with his mystical calling The fame of Shaykh Omar rested on his reputation as a worker of miracles and the success of jihad in his path to Allah      The Vitality of the Lyric Voice Shuen-fu Lin,Stephen Owen,2014-07-14 This volume presents twelve essays on the evolution of shih poetry from the second to the tenth century the period that began with the sudden flowering of shih poetry in live character meter and culminated in the Tang the golden age of classical Chinese poetry Originally published in 1987 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy

The Look of Lyric: Greek Song and the Visual, 2016-04-26 The Look of Lyric: Greek Song and the Visual addresses the various modes of interaction between ancient Greek lyric poetry and the visual arts, as well as more general notions of visuality. It covers diverse poetic genres in a range of contexts radiating outwards from the original performance, to encompass their broader cultural settings, the later reception of the poems, and finally also their understanding in modern scholarship. By focusing on the relationship between the visual and the verbal, as well as the sensory and the mental, this volume raises a wide range of questions concerning human perception and cultural practices. As this collection of essays shows, Greek lyric poetry played a decisive role in the shaping of both.

Structure and Meaning in Medieval Arabic and Persian Lyric Poetry Julie Meisami, 2003-09-02 This is the first comprehensive and comparative study of compositional and stylistic techniques in medieval Arabic and Persian lyric poetry. Ranging over some seven countries, it deals with works by over thirty poets in the Islamic world from Spain to present-day Afghanistan, and examines how this rich poetic tradition exhibits both continuity and development in the use of a wide variety of compositional strategies. Discussing such topics as principles of structural organisation, the use of rhetorical figures, metaphor, and images, and providing detailed analyses of a large number of poetic texts, it shows how structural and semantic features interacted to bring coherence and meaning to the individual poem. It also examines works by the indigenous critics of poetry in both Arabic and Persian, and demonstrates the critics' awareness of and interest in the techniques which poets employed to construct poems which were both eloquent and meaningful. Comparisons are also made with classical and medieval poetics in the West. The book will be of interest not merely to specialists in the relevant fields, but also to all those interested in pre-modern poetry and poetics.

Hearing God Every Day Doug Addison, 2019-03-19 Hearing God is not complicated. We often think the process of hearing God's voice is more complex than it really is. We may be straining to hear God speak in one specific way when in fact He is communicating in creative and unique ways which we must learn to discern. As you discover the different ways God speaks, you can position yourself.

Second sight Catherine Maxwell, 2013-01-18 This challenging and important study, which examines a range of canonical and less well-known writers, is an innovative reassessment of late Victorian literature in its relation to visionary Romanticism.

It examines six late Victorian writers Dante Gabriel Rossetti Walter Pater Vernon Lee Eugene Lee Hamilton Theodore Watts Dunton and Thomas Hardy to reveal their commitment to a Romantic visionary tradition which surface towards the end of the nineteenth century in response to the threat of growing materialism Offering detailed and imaginative readings of both poetry and prose Second Sight shows the different ways in which late Victorian writers move beyond materiality without losing a commitment to it to explore the mysterious relation between the seen and the unseen A major re evaluation of the post Romantic visionary imagination with implications for our understanding of literary modernism Second Sight will be required reading for scholars interested in the literature of the late Victorian period      Immersion and Distance. Werner

Bateson,2022-09-28 Irish born and Irish descended soldiers and sailors were involved in every major engagement of the American Civil War Throughout the conflict they shared their wartime experiences through songs and song lyrics leaving behind a vast trove of ballads in songbooks letters newspaper publications wartime diaries and other accounts Taken together these songs and lyrics offer an underappreciated source of contemporary feelings and opinions about the war Catherine V Bateson s Irish American Civil War Songs provides the first in depth exploration of Irish Americans use of balladry to portray and comment on virtually every aspect of the war as witnessed by the Irish on the front line and home front Bateson considers the lyrics themes and sentiments of wartime songs produced in America but often originating with those born across the Atlantic in Ireland and

Britain Her analysis gives new insight into views held by the Irish migrant diaspora about the conflict and the ways those of Irish descent identified with and fought to defend their adopted homeland Bateson s investigation of Irish American song lyrics within the context of broader wartime experiences enhances our understanding of the Irish contribution to the American Civil War At the same time it demonstrates how Irish songs shaped many American balladry traditions as they laid the foundation of the Civil War s musical soundscape      Lyric as Comedy Calista McRae,2020-10-15 A poet walks into a bar In Lyric as Comedy Calista McRae explores the unexpected comic opportunities within recent American poems about deeply personal often embarrassing experiences Lyric poems she finds can be surprising sites of a shifting unruly comedy as seen in the work of John Berryman Robert Lowell A R Ammons Terrance Hayes Morgan Parker Natalie Shapero and Monica Youn Lyric as Comedy draws out the ways in which key American poets have struggled with persistent expectations about what expressive poetry can and should do McRae reveals how the modern lyric rather than bestowing order on the poet s thoughts and emotions can center on impropriety and confusion formal breakage and linguistic unruliness and self observation and self staging The close readings in Lyric as Comedy also provide new insight into the theory and aesthetics of comedy taking in the indirect glancing comic affordances of poetry In doing so McRae captures varieties of humor that do not align with traditional terms centering abjection and pleasure as facets of contemporary lyric practice      The Musician ,1918      Oswal
