Crafton, 2015-06-08 An immensely popular genre crime fiction has only in recent years been engaged significantly by African American authors Historically the racist stereotypes often central to crime fiction and the socially conservative nature of the genre presented problems for writing the black experience and the tropes of justice and restoration of social order have not resonated with authors who saw social justice as a work in progress Some African American authors did take up the challenge Pauline Hopkins Rudolph Fisher and Chester Himes led the way in the first half of the 20th century followed by Ishmael Reed s anti detective novels in the 1970s Since the 1990s Walter Mosley Colson Whitehead and Stephen L Carter have written detective fiction focusing on questions of constitutional law civil rights biological and medical issues education popular culture the criminal justice system and matters of social justice From Hopkins s Hagar s Daughter published in 1901 to Hime s hardboiled Harlem Detective series to Carter s patrician world of the black bourgeoisie these authors provide a means of examining literary and social constructions of the African American experience Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Conversations with Ishmael Reed Ishmael Reed, 1995 As a fiercely independent thinker Ishmael Reed author of Mumbo Jumbo Flight to Canada Reckless Eyeballing and other works of fiction nonfiction and poetry is often in conflict with the culture that appears to have a compulsive need to cage its artists and intellectuals in worn out cliches and labels As a writer who experiments in many forms and genres and one who embraces postmodernism rather than protest and naturalism Reed defies popular conceptions of what American writers particularly black American male writers should be or do In this collection of candid interviews Reed discusses how critics especially from the northeastern establishment have consistently marginalized African American writers by placing them in the either or thing of Christianity and Communism As he does in his writing Reed uses invective satire and humor to show how those people judging American literature have made no attempt to understand recent American writing Bruce Dick is a professor English and African American studies at Appalachian State University Amritjit Singh is a professor of English at Rhode Island College and co editor of Postcolonial Theory and the United States published by University Press of Mississippi in 2000 The A to Z of Postmodernist Literature and Theater Fran Mason, 2009-07-23 Postmodernist literature embraces a wide range of forms and perspectives including texts that are primarily self reflexive texts that use pastiche burlesque parody intertextuality and hybrid forms to create textual realities that either run in opposition to or in parallel with an external reality fabulations that develop both of these strategies texts that ironize their relationship to reality works that use the aspects already noted to more fully engage with political or cultural realities texts that deal with history as a fiction and texts that elude categorization even within the variety already explored For example in fiction a postmodernist novel might tell a story about a writer struggling with writing only perhaps to find that he is a character in a book by another writer struggling to write a book The A to Z of Postmodernist Literature and Theater examines the different areas of postmodernist literature and the variety of forms that have been produced This is accomplished through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and several hundred cross referenced dictionary entries on individual postmodernist writers the important postmodernist aesthetic practices significant texts produced throughout the history of postmodernist writing and important movements and ideas that have created a variety of literary approaches within the form By placing these concerns within the historical philosophical and cultural contexts of postmodernism this reference explores the frameworks within which postmodernist literature of the late twentieth and early twenty first century operates

Counterfeit Politics David Kelman,2012-10-20 In Counterfeit Politics David Kelman reassesses the political significance of conspiracy theory Traditionally political theory has sought to banish the paranoid style from the proper domain of politics But if conspiracy theory lies outside the sphere of legitimate politics why do these narratives continue to haunt political life Counterfeit Politics accounts for the seemingly ineradicable nature of conspiracy theory by arguing that all political statements ultimately take the form of conspiracy theory Through careful readings of works by Ernest Hemingway Ricardo Piglia Thomas Pynchon Don DeLillo Jorge Luis Borges Ishmael Reed Jorge Volpi Rigoberta Mench and ngel Rama Kelman demonstrates that conspiracy narratives bear witness to an illegitimate or counterfeit secret that cannot be fully recognized understood and controlled Even though the secret is not authorized to speak this silence is nevertheless precisely what gives the secret its force Kelmangoes on to suggest that all political statements even those that do not seem paranoid are constitutively illegitimate or counterfeit since they always narrate this unresolved play of legitimacy between an official or authorized plot and an unofficial or unauthorized plot a complot In short Counterfeit Politics argues that politics only takes place as conspiracy theory

Faithful Vision James W. Coleman,2009-08-01 This is a marvelous and sustained discussion of faithful vision and its significant influence on African American literature American Literature In Faithful Vision James W Coleman places under his critical lens a wide array of African American novels written during the last half of the twentieth century In doing so he demonstrates that religious vision not only informs black literature but also serves as a foundation for black culture generally The Judeo Christian tradition according to Coleman is the primary component of the African American spiritual perspective though its syncretism with voodoo hoodoo a religion transported from West Africa through the West Indies and New Orleans to the rest of black America also figures largely Reviewing novels written mainly since 1950 by writers including James Baldwin Randall Kenan Toni Morrison John Edgar Wideman Alice Walker Gloria Naylor Erna Brodber and Ishmael Reed among others Coleman explores how black authors have addressed the relevance of faith especially as it relates to an oppressive Christian tradition He shows that their novels no matter how critical of the sacred or supernatural or how skeptical the characters viewpoints ultimately never reject the vision of faith With its focus on religious experience and tradition and its wider discussion of history philosophy gender and postmodernism Faithful Vision brings a bold critical dimension to African American literary studies An insightful interrogation of the complexities of religious discourse in the African American literary tradition Because it superbly translates complex spiritual ethos into literary tradition this remarkable book is a must for anyone interested in intersections of the sacred and the secular in black cultural productions Southern Literary Journal Faithful Vision both looks intently into faith and shows us how to look Christianity and Literature

Black Literature and Literary Theory Henry Louis Gates, Jr, 2016-08-19 The imaginative literature of African and Afro American authors writing in Western languages has long been seen as standing outside the Western literary canon In fact however black literature not only has a complex formal relation to that canon but tends to revise and reflect Western rhetorical strategies even more than it echoes black vernacular literary forms This book first published in 1984 is divided into two sections thus clarifying the nature of black literary theory on the one hand and the features of black literary practice on the other Rather than merely applying contemporary Western theory to black literature these critics instead challenge and redefine the theory in order to make fresh stimulating comments not only on black criticism and literature but also on the general state of criticism today

The Metamorphoses of Myth in Fiction since 1960 Kathryn Hume, 2020-02-20 Why do contemporary writers use myths from ancient Greece and Rome Pharaonic Egypt the Viking north Africa s west coast and Hebrew and Christian traditions What do these stories from premodern cultures have to offer us The Metamorphoses of Myth in Fiction since 1960 examines how myth has shaped writings by Kathy Acker Margaret Atwood William S Burroughs A S Byatt Neil Gaiman Norman Mailer Toni Morrison Thomas Pynchon Kurt Vonnegut Jeanette Winterson and others and contrasts such canonical texts with fantasy speculative fiction post singularity fiction pornography horror and graphic narratives These artistic practices produce a feeling of meaning that doesn t need to be defined in scientific or materialist terms Myth provides a sense of rightness a recognition of matching a pattern a feeling of something missing a feeling of connection It not only allows poetic density but also manipulates our moral judgments or at least stimulates us to exercise them Working across genres populations and critical perspectives Kathryn Hume elicits an understanding of the current uses of mythology in fiction

The Lever of Riches Joel Mokyr, 1992-04-09 In a world of supercomputers genetic engineering and fiber optics technological creativity is ever more the key to economic success But why are some nations more creative than others and why do some highly innovative societies such as ancient China or Britain in the industrial revolution pass into stagnation Beginning with a fascinating concise history of technological progress Mokyr sets the background for his analysis by tracing the major inventions and innovations that have transformed society since ancient Greece and Rome What emerges from this survey is often surprising the classical world for instance was largely barren of new technology the relatively backward society of medieval Europe bristled with inventions and the period between the Reformation and the Industrial Revolution was one of slow and unspectacular progress in technology despite the tumultuous developments associated with the Voyages of Discovery and the Scientific Revolution What were the causes of technological creativity Mokyr distinguishes between the relationship of inventors and their physical environment which determined their willingness to challenge nature and the social environment which determined the openness to new ideas He discusses a long list of such factors showing how they interact to help or hinder a nation's creativity and then illustrates them by a number of detailed comparative studies examining the differences between Europe and China between classical antiquity and medieval Europe and between Britain and the rest of Europe during the industrial revolution He examines such aspects as the role of the state the Chinese gave up a millennium wide lead in shipping to the Europeans for example when an Emperor banned large ocean going vessels the impact of science as well as religion politics and even nutrition He questions the importance of such commonly cited factors as the spill over benefits of war the abundance of natural resources life expectancy and labor costs Today an ever greater number of industrial economies are competing in the global market locked in a struggle that revolves around technological ingenuity The Lever of Riches with its keen analysis derived from a sweeping survey of creativity throughout history offers telling insights into the question of how Western economies can maintain and developing nations can unlock their creative potential

Inheritance in Psychoanalysis Joel Goldbach, James A. Godley, 2018-02-15 In contrast to the way inheritance is understood in scientific discourse and culture more broadly inheritance in psychoanalysis is a paradox Although it is impossible strictly speaking for the unconscious to be inherited this volume demonstrates how the concept of inheritance can occasion a rich reassessment and reinvention of psychoanalytic theory and practice The collection enacts a critical traversal of inheritance for psychoanalysis from the most basic assumptions of natural or biological inheritance such as innateness heredity evolution and ontogenesis to analysis of the ways cultural traditions can be challenged and transformed and finally to the reinvention of psychoanalytic practice in which the ethics of inheritance is fully realized as the individual's responsibility to transform the social bond Featuring strong interdisciplinary analysis rooted in both psychoanalysis and philosophy this volume further engages science politics and cultural studies and addresses contemporary political challenges such as autism and transgenderism

The Cultural Memory of Africa in African American and Black British Fiction, 1970-2000 Leila Kamali, 2016-12-10 This book offers a new approach to reading the cultural memory of Africa in African American fiction from the post Civil Rights era and in Black British fiction emerging in the wake of Thatcherism The critical period between the decline of the Civil Rights Movement and the dawn of the twenty first century saw a deep contrast in the distinctive narrative approaches displayed by diverse African diaspora literatures in negotiating the crisis of representing the past Through a series of close readings of literary fiction this work examines how the cultural memory of Africa is employed in diverse and specific negotiations of narrative time in order to engage and shape contemporary identity and citizenship By addressing the practice of remembering Africa the book argues for the signal importance of the African diaspora's literary interventions and locates new paradigms for cultural identity in contemporary times Figures in Black : Words, Signs, and the "Racial" Self Henry Louis Gates Jr. Chairman of the Department of Afro-American Studies and W.E.B. DuBois Professor of the Humanities Harvard University, 1987-07-16 The originality brilliance and scope of the work is remarkable Gates will instruct delight and stimulate a broad range of readers both those who are already well versed in Afro American literature and those who after reading this book will eagerly begin to be Barbara E Johnson Harvard University A critical enterprise of the first importance Gates promises to lead and to show the way in boldness of conception in vigor of execution and in vitality and pertinence of expression James Olney Louisiana State University Recently awarded Honorable Mention from the John Hope Franklin Publication Prize Committee of the American Studies Association Figures in Black takes a provocative new look at how we analyze and define black literature Henry Louis Gates Jr attacks the notion that the dominant mode of Afro American literature is or should be a kind of social realism evaluated primarily as a reflection of the Black Experience Instead Gates insists that critics turn to the language of the text and bring to their work the close methodical analysis of language made possible by modern literary theory But his goal in this volume is not merely to apply contemporary theory to black texts Indeed as he ranges from 18th century poet Phillis Wheatley to modern writers Ishmael Reed and Alice Walker he attempts to redefine literary criticism itself moving it away from a Eurocentric notion of a hierarchical canon mostly white Western and male to foster a truly comparative and pluralistic notion of literature In doing so he provides critics with a powerful tool for the analysis of black art and more important reveals for all readers the brilliance and depth of the Afro American tradition
