Naturalist In Borneo:

A Naturalist in Borneo Robert Walter Campbell Shelford, 1985 Originally published in 1916 Robert Shelford's descriptions of the wildlife of Sarawak remain as accurate and informative as ever for the naturalist of today But the author's interests as a naturalist were not confined to the animal world Shelford was an intrepid traveller and his book vividly describes his expeditions and what he encountered as seen through the eyes of an Edwardian Englishman in the heyday of the Empire His accounts of life in the Sarawakian countryside convey the flavor of the time and present a picture which in ways is still recognizable to a modern visitor to Borneo A Naturalist in Borneo Robert W. Naturalist in Borneo Robert Walter Campbell Shelford, 1911 A Naturalist in Borneo Robert Walter Campbell Shelford, 1917 Naturalist in Borneo, by the Late Robert W.C. Shelford ... Ed. with a Biographical Introduction by Edward B. Poulton ... Robert Walter Campbell Shelford, 1916 A Greenhorn Naturalist in Borneo Hans

Breuer, 2022-10-28 A Greenhorn Naturalist in Borneo is about natural history travel in the tropics life sciences and adventure with the environment always in mind It chronicles the nine years the author spent with his family on that equatorial island The book's humorous style never detracts from the focus on the science the island of Borneo and its natural wonders The story begins in 2007 on top of a garage in Taiwan where the author kept a greenhouse filled with hundreds of carnivorous tropical pitcher plants In August of the same year he attended a conference on these plants in Borneo and met them in the wild for the first time This triggered an obsession with the island's legendary rainforest fauna and flora and he decided to move to Borneo with his family for easier access to the jungle In a tone reminiscent of Bill Bryson Douglas Adams and Gerald Durrell funny self-deprecating but always satisfying for the science-minded reader A Greenhorn Naturalist in Borneo documents the Breuer family's adventures with Borneo's enormous biodiversity flying snakes venomous primates parachuting frogs pangolins king cobras orangutans masters of mimicry and camouflage the world's rarest lizard and the world's longest snake And these are just a fraction of the life forms the reader will meet Adventure lurks behind every trail bend toddler-sized monkeys terrorize night hikers bearded jungle pigs hunt stray dogs a giant python almost gets stepped on and other encounters of the not so funny when it happened kind The reader will also meet the people inhabiting the island such as Asia's last rainforest nomads quaint government officials and former headhunting tribes that still proudly display their trophies above their fireplaces Inevitably the author's life in Borneo also led to first-hand insight into the island's environmental tragedy caused by decades of severe over-exploitation a recurring topic throughout the book Readers can marvel at nature's wonders in all their magnificence visiting places unknown and creatures unheard of and it is also an invitation to consider the state of the planet to take it seriously and to act before it's too late A Naturalist in Borneo Edward Bagnall Poulton, Robert Walter Campbell Shelford, 2015-08-24 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work was reproduced from the

to the Birds of Borneo Wong Tsu Shi, 2018 A highly personal account of a phenomenal once in a lifetime adventure that saw Bruce and his wife Lynn embark on a year of travel and birding across the entire continent in a camper van Their aim was to see Australia but also to keep a list of the birds that they saw together That list began with two Gang gang Cockatoos flying over their son's yard in Torquay Victoria and ended a year later watching a lovely little Speckled Warbler on a chilly morning back in Victoria with 638 other species seen in between Wanderings in the Great Forests of Borneo Odoardo

Beccari, 1904 The Gardens of the Sun Frederick William Burbidge, 1989 This book first published in 1880 is a vividly written record of travel and discovery on the island of Borneo Little seems to have escaped Burbidge's eye during his travels through Sarawak Labuan and the north of Borneo to Sulu Although the main object of his journey was the collection of plants he is equally concerned with describing his encounters with the people he met along the way and their mode of life The Gardens of the Sun; Or, A Naturalist's Journal on the Mountains and in the Forests and Swamps of Borneo and the Sulu Archipelago Frederick William Burbidge, 1880 Two Years in the Jungle William Temple Hornaday, 1885

The Coevolutionary Process John N. Thompson, 2009-04-24 Traditional ecological approaches to species evolution have frequently studied too few species relatively small areas and relatively short time spans In The Coevolutionary Process John N Thompson advances a new conceptual approach to the evolution of species interactions the geographic mosaic theory of coevolution Thompson demonstrates how an integrated study of life histories genetics and the geographic structure of populations yields a broader understanding of coevolution or the development of reciprocal adaptations and specializations in interdependent species Using examples of species interactions from an enormous range of taxa Thompson examines how and when extreme specialization evolves in interdependent species and how geographic differences in specialization adaptation and the outcomes of interactions shape coevolution Through the geographic mosaic theory Thompson bridges the gap between the study of specialization and coevolution in local communities and the study of broader patterns seen in comparisons of the phylogenies of interacting species
