History and Drama Joachim Küpper,Jan Mosch,Elena Penskaya,2018-12-03 Aristotle's neat compartmentalization notwithstanding Poetics ch 9 historians and playwrights have both been laying claim to representations of the past arguably since Antiquity but certainly since the Renaissance At a time when narratology challenges historiographers to differentiate their emplotments White from literary inventions this thirteen essay collection takes a fresh look at the production of historico political knowledge in literature and the intricacies of reality and fiction Written by experts who teach in Germany Austria Russia and the United States the articles provide a thorough interpretation of early modern drama with a view to classical times and the 19th century as an ideological platform that is as open to royal self fashioning and soteriology as it is to travestying and subverting the means and ends of historical interpretation The comparative analysis of metapoetic and historiosophic aspects also sheds light on drama as a transnational phenomenon demonstrating the importance of the cultural net that links the multifaceted textual examples from France Russia England Italy and the Netherlands

Body and Spirit in the Middle Ages Gaia Gubbini,2020-08-10 A crucial question throughout the Middle Ages the relationship between body and spirit cannot be understood without an interdisciplinary approach combining literature philosophy and medicine Gathering contributions by leading international scholars from these disciplines the collected volume explores themes such as lovesickness the five senses the role of memory and passions in order to shed new light on the complex nature of the medieval Self

Jewish Literatures in Spanish and Portuguese Ruth Fine,Susanne Zepp,2022-10-24

This volume offers a thorough introduction to Jewish world literatures in Spanish and Portuguese which not only addresses the coexistence of cultures but also the functions of a literary and linguistic space of negotiation in this context From the Middle Ages to present day the compendium explores the main Jewish chapters within Spanish and Portuguese language world literature whether from Europe Latin America or other parts of the world No comprehensive survey of this area has been undertaken so far Yet only a broad focus of this kind can show how diasporic Jewish literatures have been and are while closely tied to their own traditions deeply intertwined with local and global literary developments and how the aesthetic praxis they introduced played a decisive formative role in the history of literature With this epistemic claim the volume aims at steering clear of isolationist approaches to Jewish literatures

Mayfield,2017-03-06 Proving fruitful in various applications throughout its two millennia of predominance the rhetorical technique appears to have entertained a particularly symbiotic interrelation with drama With contributions from among others a Classicist historical linguistic musicological operatic cultural and literary studies perspective this publication offers interdisciplinary assessments of specific reciprocities between the system of rhetoric and dramatic works tracing the longue durée of this nexus highlighting its Ancient foundations its various Early Modern formations as well as certain configurations enduring to this day enables describing shifting degrees of rhetoricity approaching it from an interdisciplinary viewpoint facilitates focusing on the often sidelined rhetorical phenomena located beyond the textual plane specifically memoria and actio tackling this interchange from various viewpoints and with diverse emphases a long lasting and highly prolific cross fertilization between drama and rhetoric is rendered visible In tendering a balanced panorama of both detailed case studies and descriptive overviews this volume also points toward terrain yet to be charted in the scholarship to come The volume was prepared in co operation with the ERC Advanced Grant Project Early Modern European Drama and the Cultural Net DramaNet

Petrarch Christopher S. Celenza,2022-08-22 An enlightening study of the contradictory character of this canonical fourteenth century Italian poet Born in Tuscany in 1304 Italian poet Francesco Petrarca is widely considered one of the fathers of the modern Italian language Though his writings inspired the humanist movement and subsequently the Renaissance Petrarch remains misunderstood He was a man of contradictions a Roman pagan devotee and a devout Christian a lover of friendship and sociability yet intensely private In this biography Christopher S Celenza revisits Petrarch's life and work for the first time in decades considering how the scholar's reputation and identity have changed since his death in 1374 He brings to light Petrarch's unrequited love for his poetic muse the anti institutional attitude he developed as he sought a path to modernity by looking backward to antiquity and his endless focus on himself Drawing on both Petrarch's Italian and Latin writings this is a revealing portrait of a figure of paradoxes a man of mystique historical importance and endless fascination It is the only book on Petrarch suitable for students general readers and scholars alike Rhetoric and Contingency DS Mayfield,2020-10-26 Human life is susceptible of changing suddenly of shifting inadvertently of appearing differently of varying unpredictably of being altered deliberately of advancing fortuitously of commencing or ending accidentally of a certain malleability In theory any human being is potentially capacitated to conceive of and convey the

der Dichtung Vanessa Schlüter, 2018-09-10 Francesco Petrarca Gaspara Stampa und Giovan Battista Marino bedichten nicht nur liebende brechende und sich verzehrende sondern auch seufzende kochende und kopulierende Herzen In diskurshistorischer Perspektive kann das Herz in der petrarkistischen Dichtung als epistemologischer Kristallisierungspunkt untersucht werden an dem sich das zeitgenössische Wissen vom menschlichen Körper und der ihn umgebenden Welt ablagert Der Suche nach den an der Herzdarstellung ablesbaren Wissensbeständen liegt die These zu Grunde dass das menschliche Herz bis zur Entdeckung seiner physiologischen Funktionsweise im Jahr 1628 ein enormes Metaphorisierungspotential bot und religiöse naturphilosophische medizinische und nicht zuletzt erotische Aspekte problemlos integrieren konnte Francesco Petrarca Gaspara Stampa and Giovan Battista Marino not only write poetry about loving breaking longing but also sighing raging and copulating hearts In a discourse historical perspective the heart can be analysed in the Petrarchan poetry as an epistemological crystallisation point where the contemporary knowledge of the human body and its surrounding environment is located The inquiry on the readable knowledge of the presentation of the heart is based on the thesis that the human heart until the discovery of its physical functions in the year 1628 offered an enormous potential for metaphors and could easily integrate religious nature philosophical medical and last but not least erotic aspects
