Arts-Based Multiliteracies for Teaching and Learning Peters, Beryl, 2024-10-17 The current educational landscape demands more than traditional literacy skills to equip learners with the necessary tools to thrive in the modern world The traditional focus on reading and writing print text may not be sufficient to comprehend the diverse forms of meaning making necessary for effective communication and understanding in diverse communities This poses a crucial challenge for educators who aspire to foster engaged and critically aware learners who can navigate the complexities of contemporary society Arts Based Multiliteracies for Teaching and Learning offers a transformative solution by advocating for a pedagogy of multiliteracies centered on arts-based approaches By redefining literacy to encompass diverse modalities such as dance drama music visual arts and multi-media this book challenges educators to expand their understanding of literacy beyond traditional boundaries The book provides a compelling rationale for integrating arts-based multiliteracies across all levels and curricular areas

Embodiment and Disembodiment in Live Art Ke Shi, 2019-12-06 Liveness is a pivotal issue for performance theorists and artists As live art covers both embodiment and disembodiment many scholars have emphasized the former and interpreted the latter as the opposite side of liveness In this book the author demonstrates that disembodiment is also an inextricable part of liveness and presence in performance from both practical and theoretical perspectives By applying

phenomenological theory to live performance the author investigates the possible realisation of aesthetic dynamics in live art via re engagement with the notions of embodiment especially in the sense provided by philosophers such as Gabriel Marcel and Morris Merleau Ponty Creative practices from leading performance artists such as Franko B Ron Athey Manuel Vason and others as well as experimental ensembles such as Goat Island La Pocha Nostra Forced Entertainment and the New Youth are discussed offering a new perspective to re frame human human relationships such as the one between actor and spectator and collaborations in live genres In addition the author presents a new interpretation model for the human material in live genres helping to bridge the aesthetic gaps between performance art and experimental theatre and providing an ecological paradigm for performance art experimental theatre and live art

The Architecture of Exhibitions Alessandro Melis, Rozina Vavetsi, Fabio Finotti, 2024-12-30 The Architecture of Exhibitions embarks on a comprehensive exploration of creativity and design innovation within exhibition spaces It describes the fundamental principles of exhibition design tracing the origins of creativity and considering its evolutionary significance The book challenges conventional boundaries imposed by rigid classifications drawing on heuristic studies in biology and the transformative concept of exaptation. It questions the traditional separations between art, science, and technology, which often hinder innovation. By advocating for an interdisciplinary approach, it reimagines creativity that transcends conventional limits. Through practice-based research, multidisciplinary case studies, and technological innovations with a focus on generative AI, the book illustrates how modern exhibition spaces actively engage with their audiences, highlighting their profound impact beyond academic discourse. This book is designed for curators, designers, and scholars who are passionate about the future of exhibition spaces. It offers a comprehensive understanding through its four-part structure, making it an essential read for anyone interested in the dynamic interplay between art, technology, and society. The book is also designed as an instrument for the education of architecture design and art students. A New History of Western Art Koenraad Jonckheere, 2022-10-15

A radical re-examination of 2,500 years of European art, deconstructing and demystifying its long history from ancient to present. How has art evolved from the pursuit of the ideal human form to a black square on a white canvas? Why is a banana duct taped to a wall worth more on the art market than a beautiful seventeenth-century landscape? By taking art for what it actually is—a piece of stone or wood, a sheet of paper with some lines drawn on it, a painted canvas—this lively and accessible account shows how seemingly meaningless objects can be transformed into celebrated works of art. Breaking with conventional notions of artistic genius, Koenraad Jonckheere explores how stories and emotions give meaning to objects and why changing historical circumstances result in such shifting opinions over time. Tracing its story from ancient times to present, A New History of Western Art reframes the evolution of European art and radically reshapes our understanding of art history. Published in association with Hannibal Books.

The Artist-Philosopher in the Age of Addiction George Smith, 2025-03-17 George Smith argues that modern humanity suffers from a late-stage pre-fatal addiction to scientific technological thinking. Like most pre-fatal addictions, this one will most likely result in one of three ways: misery, extinction, or human transformation. The question remains: wherein lies the third way? According to Smith, mankind's chronic and as yet undiagnosed sickness originates in early Western metaphysics and has long been thoroughly globalized. It explains unstoppable extractionism and its relentlessly increasing by-product, carbon dioxide. It also explains today's ever-increasing rate of species extinction and the increasingly likely collapse of the biosphere. Citing climate change tolerance and denial as symptomatic of pre-fatal addiction, Smith turns his analysis to Heidegger's question concerning technology and shows that even Heidegger had become hooked on scientific technological thinking. Surrendering to his disease, Heidegger steps back into meditative thought. This in turn opens Heidegger to an East-West mode of scientific poetic consciousness: the thinking of artist-philosophers such as Laozi, Herderlin, and Rachel Carson. For Heidegger, this way of thinking lays the path to mankind's transformative emancipation from an otherwise inescapable catastrophe. The book will be of interest to scholars of the arts and culture, histories of consciousness, and climate studies.

Aesthetics and the Embodied Mind: Beyond Art Theory and the Cartesian Mind-Body Dichotomy Alfonsina Scarinzi, 2014-11-24 The project of naturalizing human consciousness experience has made great technical strides e g in mapping areas of brain activity but has been hampered in many cases by its uncritical reliance on a dualistic Cartesian paradigm though as some of the authors in the collection point out assumptions drawn from Plato and from Kant also play a role The present volume proposes a version of naturalism in aesthetics drawn from American pragmatism above all from Dewey but also from James and Peirce one primed from the start to see human beings not only as embodied but as inseparable from the environment they interact with and provides a forum for authors from diverse disciplines to address specific scientific and philosophical issues within the anti dualistic framework considering aesthetic experience as a process of embodied meaning making Cross disciplinary contributions come from leading researchers including Mark Johnson Jim Garrison Daniel D Hutto John T Haworth Luca F Ticini Beatriz Calvo Merino The volume covers pragmatist aesthetics neuroaesthetics enactive cognitive science literary studies psychology of aesthetics art and design sociology

Visuality and Virtuality Whitney Davis, 2022-06-14 A provocative and challenging new conceptual framework for the study of images This book builds on the groundbreaking theoretical framework established in Whitney Davis s acclaimed previous book A General Theory of Visual Culture in which he shows how certain culturally constituted aspects of artifacts and pictures are visible to informed viewers Here Davis uses revealing archaeological and historical case studies to further develop his theory presenting an exacting new account of the interaction that occurs when a viewer looks at a picture Davis argues that pictoriality the depiction intended by its maker to be seen emerges at a particular standpoint in space and time Reconstruction of this standpoint is the first step of the art historian s craft Because standpoints are inherently mutable and mobile pictoriality constantly shifts in form and possible meaning To capture this complexity Davis develops new concepts of radical pictorial ambiguity including bivisibility the fact that pictures can always be seen in ways other than intended pictorial naturalism and the behavior of pictures under changing angles of view He then applies these concepts to four cases Paleolithic cave painting ancient Egyptian tomb decoration classical Greek architectural sculpture with a focus on the Parthenon frieze and Renaissance perspective as invented by Brunelleschi A profound new theory of the work of both makers and viewers by one of the discipline s most esteemed and engaged thinkers Visuality and Virtuality is essential reading for art historians architects archaeologists and philosophers of art and visual theory

Body of Christ Incarnate for You Adam Pryor, 2016-10-19 Incarnation has always been an important concept within Christian theology For centuries theologians have wrestled with how best to conceptualize the vexing problem of what it means that Jesus the Christ is fully God and fully human In this book Adam Pryor explores how the incarnation has intersected corresponding issues well beyond the familiar question of how any one person might have two natures Beginning by identifying four critical themes that have historically shaped the development of this doctrine Pryor goes on to offer a constructive account of the incarnation His account seeks out the continued meaning of this doctrine given the increasing complexity that characterizes our understanding of human bodies bodies that can no longer be understood as the locus of distinct subjects separated from the world of objects with the skin as an impenetrable boundary between the two Making use of contemporary phenomenologies of the flesh and the erotic Pryor develops an understanding of the incarnation that seeks to go beyond classical issues presented by two natures christologies Incarnation in guises as various as Jesus the Christ cyborg bodies and sacramental practices becomes a way that God is diffused into the world transforming how we are to be with one another

Lapp, 2017-11-06 Now in its fourth edition the Handbook of Research on Teaching the English Language Arts sponsored by the International Literacy Association and the National Council of Teachers of English remains at the forefront in bringing together prominent scholars, researchers and professional leaders to offer an integrated perspective on teaching the English language arts and a comprehensive overview of research in the field. Reflecting important developments since the publication of the third edition in 2010, this new edition is streamlined and completely restructured around big ideas in the field related to theoretical and research foundations, learners in context and new literacies. A Companion Website extends and enhances the Handbook with a wealth of additional resources. The Handbook of Research on Teaching the English Language Arts Fourth Edition addresses all of the language arts within a holistic perspective: speaking, listening, language, writing, reading. It is well grounded and balanced in theory and research while promoting validated practice. Features authors who are known for their expertise and who represent diversity in culture, years in the profession and geographic location. Gives attention to special populations and instructional contexts. Includes new media literacies. Has the authority of a research handbook while remaining practical for students in masters and doctoral classes. Off Sites Bertie Ferdman, 2018-07-30 Honorable Mention ATHE's 2018 Outstanding Book Award. Contextualizing the techniques and methods of the incredibly rich and vital genre of site specific performance, author Bertie Ferdman traces the evolution of that term. Originally used for experimental staging practices and then later also for engaged situational events, site specific is no longer sufficient for the genre's many contemporary variations. Using the term off site, Ferdman illustrates five distinct ways artists have challenged the disciplinary framework of site specific theatre, blurring the traditional boundaries between the fictional and the real, changing how the audience and actor interact with each other and whether they are physically together or apart, fabricating sites from physically bound, conceptually constructed or virtual spaces, staging live situations in real, nonreal and often mediated encounters and challenging our preconceived notions of time and space. Tracing the genealogy of site based work through the twentieth and twenty first centuries, Ferdman outlines the theoretical groundwork for her study in the introduction. Individual chapters focus on distinct types of off sites: the interdisciplinary discourse of disciplinary sites, the spaces of audience engagement with spectator sites, the dislocation of time for temporal sites and the historiographical spaces of mapping for urban sites. Ferdman examines site based work being done in the Americas by contemporary companies and artists experimenting with new forms and practices for site driven theatre. Key productions discussed include Private Moment by David Levine Geyser, Land by Mary Ellen Strom and Ann Carlson, Jim Findlay's Dream of the Red Chamber and *Lola Arias Mi Vida Despu*s.
