The catch Jude must put in two years at Tartakov's Translation Services a front organization for the flock of high society girls collected from all over the world who now work as Manhattan's most coveted courtesans Jude's taste of the good life convinces her that she's right at home in Madame Tartakov's luxurious Upper East Side town house She has finally found a job that uses the unique skills of a blue blood and she is quite taken by the fiery classical violinist who pays for her companionship that is until she finds herself irresistibly drawn to Joshua Spinoza a penniless philosophy student who has a stutter and poor taste in wine and who leaves the opera at intermission because he thinks it is over Dark forces begin to test Jude's already limited moral fiber when she discovers not only that she is falling in love outside her clientele but that an illegitimate relative is harboring a grotesque secret and something catastrophic is hidden in the family archives Ultimately Jude is forced to take a good hard look in her warped antique Tiffany mirror Is being born into a world of privilege a gift Can bad things really happen to blue bloods And perhaps more startlingly are courtesans nothing more than prostitutes in Prada
