Rah for the Engineers! James P. McCormick, 1986      Desert Edens Philipp Lehmann, 2024-12-17 How technological advances and colonial fears inspired utopian geoengineering projects during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries From the 1870s to the mid twentieth century European explorers climatologists colonial officials and planners were avidly interested in large scale projects that might actively alter the climate Uncovering this history Desert Edens looks at how arid environments and an increasing anxiety about climate in the colonial world shaped this upsurge in ideas about climate engineering From notions about the transformation of deserts into forests to Nazi plans to influence the climates of war torn areas Philipp Lehmann puts the early climate change debate in its environmental intellectual and political context and considers the ways this legacy reverberates in the present climate crisis Lehmann examines some of the most ambitious climate engineering projects to emerge in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Confronted with the Sahara in the 1870s the French developed concepts for a flooding project that would lead to the creation of a man made Sahara Sea In the 1920s German architect Herman S rgel proposed damming the Mediterranean in order to geoengineer an Afro European continent called Atlantropa which would fit the needs of European settlers Nazi designs were formulated to counteract the desertification of Eastern Europe and Central Asia Despite ideological and technical differences these projects all incorporated and developed climate change theories and vocabulary They also combined expressions of an extreme environmental pessimism with a powerful technological optimism that continue to shape the contemporary moment Focusing on the intellectual roots intended effects and impact of early measures to modify the climate Desert Edens investigates how the technological imagination can be inspired by pressing fears about the environment and civilization      Century Illustrated Monthly Magazine ... ,1900      Uncommon Americans Timothy Walch, 2003-09-30 This first joint biography of the Hoovers will reshape Herbert Hoover s image as a man who did little more than sit in the White House while the country suffered Both Hoovers were dynamic uncommon Americans who made enormous contributions to mankind before during and after the presidency Walch Director of the Herbert Hoover Presidential Library brings together contributions from leading scholars who have conducted extensive research into the lives of this extraordinary couple placing them in a national and international context He hopes to entice more historians to delve into the intricacies of their lives      Army RD & A. ,1995 Professional publication of the RD A community      The Century ,1900      Engineering Trouble: US-Chinese Experiences of Professional Discontent, 1905-1945 Thorben Pelzer, 2023-07-31 In the early twentieth century the first large batch of Chinese civil engineers had graduated from the USA and together with their American senior colleagues returned to China They were enthusiastic about reconstructing the young republic by building new railways highways and canals but what the engineers experienced in China including mismanaged railways useless highways and silted canals did not always meet their expectations and ideals In this book Thorben Pelzer makes the stories of these Chinese and American engineers come to life through exploring previously unpublished letters rare images maps and a rich biographical dataset He argues that the experiences of these engineers include a myriad of contradictions disillusionment and discontent keeping the engineering profession in a constant flux of searching for its meaning and its place in Republican China Army RD & A Bulletin ,1996
