Regional Development Strategies A European Perspective:

Regional Development Strategies Jeremy Alden, Philip Boland, 1996 This textbook provides a conceptual theoretical and empirical analysis of regional development strategies within a European context Regional Development Strategies Jeremy Alden, Philip Boland, 2013-10-18 Regional development strategies have become the focus of attention in many countries in the 1990s This textbook provides a conceptual theoretical and empirical analysis of regional development strategies within a European context It examines the various regional development strategies which are currently being pursued within the regions of Europe defined in its loosest term to include East and West The book describes how many different European regions are attempting to reduce regional disparities by engaging themselves in coherent and focused regional development strategies and there is also private sector approach to regional economic development There are many case studies from Europe and from other parts of the world including Japan thereby providing lessons that different countries and regions can learn from each other

Regional Development and Spatial Planning in an Enlarged European Union Neil Adams, 2016-04-01 The expansion of the European Union in 2004 has had significant consequences for both existing and new members of the Union New member states are assimilating into a new institutional and policy framework while the changing geography of Europe provides a different context for policy development in pre 2004 member states One of the more important fields in which these changes are impacting is regional development The admission of the new countries changes patterns of economic and social disparities across the territory of the European Union which in turn demands that existing approaches to regional development are reconsidered An approach which has proved to be one of the most innovative is spatial planning This book brings together a team of academics and policy makers from across the new Europe involved in regional development and spatial planning Providing insights into different approaches it offers a valuable opportunity to compare experiences across European borders

Place-based Economic Development and the New EU Cohesion Policy Philip McCann, Attila Varga, 2018-02-02 The new EU Cohesion Policy is one of the largest integrated development policies in the Western world and one of the largest of such programmes anywhere in the world The reforms to the EU Cohesion Policy contain many different elements each of which interlink in order to provide a cohesive overall framework Some of the key elements in the reforms however relate to the conditionalities employed and their effects on policy governance and the control mechanism the smart specialization approach to policy prioritization and resource allocation the underlying place based logic of the policy and the overall results orientation and evaluation emphasis of the policy In each of the areas of the EU Cohesion Policy reforms many different scholars from the fields of regional studies regional science and economic geography have played important roles in shaping the new policy and the chapters here highlight these increasing interactions between the policy and academic spheres of debate The collection of essays in this book each deal with specific aspects of these critical elements of the Cohesion Policy reforms In particular they examine some of the strengths and weaknesses of these individual elements and allowing for a better understanding of the origins and backgrounds of many of the ideas underpinning these reforms This book was previously published as a special issue of Regional Studies Visions and Strategies in European Integration Lars Lundqvist, Lars O. Persson, 2012-12-06 The first years of the 90s have witnessed thorough political and economic changes in northern Europe The long period of strong political separation between east and west and the less strong economic separation between the northern and southern sides of the Baltic Sea seemed to be replaced by far reaching integration There is no doubt that further integration will have additional impacts on the regional patterns in northern Europe The amplitude and composition of these changes are difficult to project In this volume a number of scholars in regional science and related disciplines geography economics environmental and political sciences planning have brought together important material on the current processes that reshapes northern Europe Visions and strategies on local national and supranational levels are penetrated in depth A mosaic vision of the regional development pattern emerges highlighting the importance of cooperative and competitive strategies affecting the local conditions of European regions Geography of Innovation Nadine Massard, Corinne Autant-Bernard, 2018-12-07 Within the European context of innovation for growth public and corporate actors are faced with pressing questions concerning innovation policy and the return on public and private investment in innovation at the regional level To help them answer these questions researchers in the field of Geography of Innovation propose interesting developments and new perspectives for the analysis of localized innovation processes interactions between science technology and industry and their impact on regional growth and competitiveness offering new foundations for designing and evaluating public policies The aim of this book is firstly to highlight major recent methodological advances in the Geography of Innovation particularly concerning the measurement of spatial knowledge externalities and their impact on agglomeration effects Strategic approaches using microeconomic data have also contributed to showing how firms strategies may interact with the local environment and impact upon agglomeration dynamics Interesting new results emerge from the application of these new methodologies to the analysis of innovation dynamics in European regions and this book shows how they can help revisit some of the main tenets of received wisdom concerning the rationale and impact of public policies on the Geography of Innovation This book was previously published as a special issue of Regional Studies Central and Eastern Europe Handbook Patrick Heenan, Monique Lamontagne, 2014-05-12 The Regional Handbooks of Economic Development series provides accessible overviews of countries within their larger domestic and international contexts focusing on the relations among regions as they meet the challenges of the twenty first century The series allows the non specialist student to explore a wide range of complex factors social and political as well as economic that affect the growth of developing regions in Asia Europe and South America Each Handbook provides an overview chapter discussing the region's economic conditions within an historical and political context as well as 20 or more chapter length essays written by recognized experts which analyze the key issues affecting a region's economy, its population, natural resources, foreign trade, labor problems, and economic inequalities, and other vital factors. In addition, the volumes offer useful support materials including a series of appendices that include a detailed chronology of events in the region, a glossary of terms, biographical entries on key personalities, an annotated bibliography of further reading, and a comprehensive analytical index.

Higher Education and the Creative Economy Roberta Comunian, Abigail Gilmore, 2016-03-10. Since the DCMS Creative Industries Mapping Document highlighted the key role played by creative activities in the UK economy and society, the creative industries agenda has expanded across Europe and internationally. They have the support of local authorities, regional development agencies, research councils, arts and cultural agencies, and other sector organisations. Within this framework, higher education institutions have also engaged in the creative agenda but have struggled to define their role in this growing sphere of activities. Higher Education and the Creative Economy critically engages with the complex interconnections between higher education, geography, cultural policy, and the creative economy. This book is organised into four sections which articulate the range of dynamics that can emerge between higher education and the creative economy: partnership and collaboration across Higher Education institutions and the creative and cultural industries; the development of creative human capital; connections between arts schools and local art scenes; and links with broader policy directions and work. Chapter 9 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives (CC BY-NC-ND) 3.0 license.

Creative Industries and Innovation in Europe Luciana Lazzeretti, 2013. In recent years, the study of creativity has shifted from analysis of culture as an end in itself to one of economic enhancement and its capability to generate wealth and promote economic development. Increasingly, European cities and regions are using the arts to fuel wellbeing and reinvigorate economies after the comparative demise of more traditional industry and manufacturing. A growing literature is starting to highlight the innovation capacity of cultural and creative industries (CCIs) as they intersect the innovation processes of other manufacturing and services sectors with an innovative and creative output. Culture and creativity may be a strategic weapon to exit the present crisis and redefine an economic model of sustainable development. This book brings together a set of multidisciplinary contributions to investigate the kaleidoscope of European creativity, focussing on CCIs and the innovations connected with them. The two main questions that this volume aims to address are: How can we identify, map, and define CCIs in Europe? And how do they contribute to innovation and sustainable growth? The volume is split into two parts. The first part deals with the definition, measurement, and mapping of the geography of European CCIs according to a local economic approach, focussing on Italy, Spain, the UK, Austria, Denmark, and France. This section surveys the different industrial typologies and spatial patterns which underline a significant dissimilarity between the North and the South of Europe, mainly due to the difference between heritage-driven and technology-driven countries. The section concludes with a case study on a Japanese creative city. The second part collects some interesting cases of innovation generated in creative spaces such as cities of art or creative clusters and networks This entails the study of innovations among creative and non creative sectors e g laser technologies in conservation of works of art and design networks in Italy and across European and non European countries e g Spaghetti Western movies in the US or visual artists in New Zealand Finally an innovation capacity of culture that can regenerate mature sectors e g the French food supply chain and Swiss watch Valley or combine the creative and green economics paradigms e g the green creative cities in North Europe is analyzed This book will appeal to academics scholars and practitioners of urban and regional studies cultural and creative economics and managerial and organization studies

Evolutionary Economic Geography Dieter Kogler, 2017-10-02 Economic geographers increasingly consider the significance of history in shaping the contemporary socio economic landscape and increasingly believe that experiences and competencies acquired over time by individuals and entities in particular localities to a large degree determine present configurations as well as future regional trajectories Attempts to trace understand and investigate the pathways from past to present have given rise to the thriving and exciting sub field of Evolutionary Economic Geography EEG EEG highlights the important factors that initiate inhibit or consolidate the contextual settings and relationships in which regions and their respective agents which comprise and shape economic activity and social reproduction change over time It has at its core the production and destruction of novelty in space and the links between innovation and regional economic fortunes The creation of knowledge its movement and recombination within different regional ensembles of economic agents and institutions plays a critical role in the evolution of the space economy EEG provides a framework to disentangle the complexity of technological change and regional economic development based on a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches In only a short time EEG has established itself as a promising and rapidly evolving research framework with its focus on the driving forces of regional development across various scales and its attempt to translate findings into public policy This book advances the theoretical foundations of EEG and demonstrates how EEG utilises and operationalises conceptual frameworks both established and new Contributions also point to future research avenues and extensions of EEG attempting to build stronger ties between theory empirical evidence and relevance to policy This book was originally published as a special issue of Regional Studies Regional Innovation Strategies Kevin Morgan, Claire Nauwelaers, Regional Studies Association (Seaford, England), 1999 Regional Innovation Strategies offers the first comprehensive analysis of the new wave of innovation oriented regional policies It draws conclusions from the European Regional Technology Plans and Regional Innovation Strategies both in old industrialised areas and in regions where development is slow and compares this with US and Canadian experiences Anticipating the enlargement of the EU Regional Innovation Strategies also assesses the growing interest in the subject within policy academic and practitioner circles in Central and Eastern European countries This book aims to provide information on the new regional innovation policies and gives the first assessment of this promising pool of regional experiences Regional Economic Growth, SMEs and the Wider

Europe B. Fingleton, Ayda Eraydn, Raffaele Paci, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2003 This work intends to make an important and interesting contribution to the wider debate on European regional development It looks beyond the confines of the EU proper and combines interesting and relevant case studies from a broader pan European perspective Also the approaches adopted are informed by a variety of theoretical positions By addressing the changing roles of SMEs in different regions of Eastern Europe readers should gain insights into the different dimensions of SME development and the link between SMEs and regional growth

The Nordic Regions and the European Union Søren Dosenrode, 2018-01-18 The Nordic Regions and the European Union is an authoritative book on the influences of European integration on the regional level in the Nordic countries This book provides both factual insight into the Nordic regions and the Europeanization of the four Nordic countries offering theoretical contributions to the theory of regionalism in a European context built on systematic comparison

Making Cultural Cities in Asia June Wang, Tim Oakes, Yang Yang, 2015-12-22 This book examines the vast and largely uncharted world of cultural creative city making in Asia It explores the establishment of policy models and practices against the backdrop of a globalizing world and considers the dynamic relationship between powerful actors and resources that impact Asian cities Making Cultural Cities in Asia approaches this dynamic process through the lens of assemblage how the policy models of cultural creative cities have been extracted from the flow of ideas and how re invented versions have been assembled territorialized and exported This approach reveals a spectrum between globally circulating ideals on the one hand and the place based contexts and contingencies on the other At one end of the spectrum this book features chapters on policy mobility in particular the political construction of the web of communication and the restructuring or rescaling of the state At the other end chapters examine the increasingly fragmented social forces their changing roles in the process and their negotiations alignments and resistances This book will be of interest to researchers and policy makers concerned with cultural and urban studies creative industries and Asian studies

Knowledge Economy and the City Ali Madanipour, 2013-03 This book explores the relationship between space and economy the spatial expressions of the knowledge economy The capitalist industrial economy produced its own space which differed radically from its predecessor agrarian and mercantile economies If a new knowledge based economy is emerging it is similarly expected to produce its own space to suit the new circumstances of production and consumption If these spatial expressions do exist even if in incomplete and partial forms they are likely to be the model for the future of cities

Territorial Policy and Governance Iain Deas, Stephen Hincks, 2017-02-24 In response to both policy and conceptual debates alternative narratives have begun to emerge about territorial governance and policymaking As local and regional policy actors strive to respond to the geographically uneven effects of the economic crises of the early twenty first century a crucial question emerges what are the opportunities and challenges presented by alternative forms of territorially based governance and policy The aim of this edited volume therefore is critically to explore the opportunities and challenges presented by different forms of territorial policy and governance Drawing on conceptual debates and empirical research from the United Kingdom and other international contexts the contributors engage with issues around the politics and governance of territorial development economic development planning and regeneration and the environment Territorial Policy and Governance addresses the question of how alternative forms of territorial governance and policy can help to shape patterns of urban and regional development highlighting the related opportunities constraints and challenges that confront their operationalisation This book will be essential reading for international audiences with an interest in territorial development governance politics human geography and planning and regeneration

Planning in the UK Andy Thornley, 2018-10-24 This title was first published in 2003 The advent of the Labour government in 1997 provoked major change in the political landscape of the UK Priorities changed and different themes moved to the top of the agenda such as local democracy community transparency sustainability and co-ordinated or joined up thinking Many of the new priorities such as community empowerment involved a reappraisal of the purpose and procedures of planning while others changed the legislative and institutional frame within which planning operated This indispensable volume traces and analyzes the implications for planning created by this political shift Presenting an overview of the general debates on contemporary UK planning the book proceeds to identify four major areas as key themes for planning in the third millennium These are the new institutional context ensuring social inclusion and participation promoting sustainability and the debate over building at higher densities on Brownfield sites Illustrated with in-depth case studies the book provides a timely and important examination of the current state of planning in the UK and suggests best case scenarios for the future

The Futures of the City Region Michael Neuman, Angela Hull, 2013-09-13 Does the city region constitute a new departure in urbanisation If so what are the key elements of that departure The realities of the urban in the 21st century are increasingly complex and polychromatic The rise of global networks enabled by supranational administrations both governmental and corporate strongly influences and structures the management of urban life How we conceive the city region has intellectual and practical consequences First in helping us grasp rapidly changing realities and second in facilitating the flow of resources ideas and learning to enhance the quality of life of citizens Two themes interweave through this collection within this broad palette First are the socio-spatial constructs and their relationship to the empirical evidence of change in the physical and functional aspects of urban form Second is what they mean for the spatial scales of governance This latter theme explores territorially based understandings of intervention and the changing set of political concerns in selected case studies In efforts to address these issues and improve upon knowledge this collection brings together international scholars building new data-driven cross-disciplinary theories to create new images of the city region that may prove to supplement if not supplant old ones The book illustrates the dialectical interplay of theory and fact time and space and spatial and institutional which expands on our intellectual grasp of the theoretical debates on city regions through practical knowing citing examples from Europe the United States Australasia and beyond

This book was originally published as a Special Issue of Regional Studies Secondary Cities and Development Lochner Marais, Etienne Nel, Ronnie Donaldson, 2016-05-20 The role secondary cities play in the global space economy and national urban hierarchies is increasingly receiving attention from scholars and international agencies most notably the Cities Alliance Secondary Cities and Development considers the role of secondary cities through the lens of South Africa a middle income country with characteristics of both the developed and developing worlds This book brings together a broad overview of international literature on secondary cities in South Africa and mirrors them against global experience Chapters emphasize the importance of secondary cities as regional services areas their potential roles in rural development the vulnerabilities to which they are prone and their significant potential By means of review six South African case studies and an assessment of contemporary policy approaches towards these cities this unique volume provides insight into a spectrum of globally significant challenges This book would be of interest to academics and policy makers working in urban studies or regional development Spaces and Places in Central and Eastern Europe Gyula Horváth, 2014-08-21 Across Europe there is a rapidly changing context for undertaking regional development In the 20th century development of the former planned economies Bulgaria Czech Republic Hungary Poland Romania and Slovakia was defined by these countries differences rather than their common ideological roots These disparities altered over time and were marked by changing social structures However the ranking of regions has remained the same as core areas have strengthened their positions while the structural obstacles to the modernisation of peripheral areas have remained due to a lack of coherent regional policy This book examines the specific regional development paths of Central and Eastern European countries and evaluates the effects of the determining factors of this process Through analysis of the system of objectives instruments and institutions used in different eras and case studies of Hungary East Germany and Germany development models are established and compared with Western European patterns The book summarises the experiences of Central and Eastern European regional cooperation and examines the basic nature of the cohesion problems of the Carpathian Basin trans national macro region It confirms by comparative historical analyses that the transformation was indeed unique This book will make a welcome addition to the literature for students and academics interested in the broader picture of Central and Eastern European politics future integration within the European Union and the history of regional development processes
