Regionalization And Labour Market Interdependence In East And Southeast Asia:

Regionalization and Labour Market Interdependence in East and Southeast Asia Duncan Campbell, Asma Lateef, Aurelio Parisotto, Anil Verma, 2016-01-06 How can we account for the dynamic growth of East and Southeast Asian countries Much of the debate has turned on the question of the state versus the market as exclusive and often competing explanations of the successful performance of individual countries This book explores the distinctively interdependent nature of the East and Southeast Asian experience As firms create a regional organization of production the growing interdependence of national labour markets is one major outcome

Asian Migrations Beatriz P. Lorente, 2005 The migration of people within and beyond Asia no longer takes the form of permanent ruptures uprooting and resettlement Today such movement is more likely to be transient and complex ridden with disruptions and detours and based on translocal interconnections between places and multiple chains of movement Written from various disciplinary perspectives this collection of essays explores the migration experiences of a wide spectrum of people from professional and managerial elites to contract workers and refugees In addressing the nature of these Asian migrations the authors demonstrate how mobility in today's world has transformed notions of citizenship and identity and of displacement and home

Discussions on the global economy focus on the hyper mobility of capital the possibility of instantaneous transmission of information and money around the globe the centrality of information outputs to our economic systems and emphasise the neutralisation of geography and of places What is ignored however is that even the most advanced information industries need a material infrastructure of buildings and work processes and considerable agglomeration in order to operate in global markets Further the globalisation of economic activity has brought with it not only a vast dispersal of offices and factories but also a growing importance of central functions to manage and coordinate such worldwide networks of activities The development of global urban projects is one manifestation of this move towards centrality in urban situations These large scale urban projects are the result of governments seeking competitive advantage in the global economy They are critical components of a nation s global infrastructure In the booming economies of the Asia Pacific Rim prior to the Asian Economic

Crisis these urban developments were seen as key components of national economic policies In their making they require a conscious effort to arrange material infrastructure and reinforce that there is a role for urban design in this making

Emerging Urbanity is an exploration of this role in nine global urban projects in the Asia Pacific Rim The Economy of the Philippines Peter Krinks,2003-09-02 In the late 1950s the Filipino economy could reasonably have been described as more advanced than those of its South Asian neighbours Ever since then however it has consistently lagged behind and only really started to grow strongly in the mid 1990s and even then it failed to achieve the growth rates of the rest of Southeast Asia ten years earlier This book critically analyses the Filipino economy and attempts to explain the problems that it has faced as well as the solutions that need to be put into practice This accessible and comprehensive book will be of great use to students academics and business professionals with an interest in the economies of Asia International Bibliography of Economics 1998 Compiled by the British Library of Political and Economic Science,1999-12-16 Renowned for its international coverage and rigorous selection procedures this series provides the most comprehensive and scholarly bibliographic service available in the social sciences Arranged by topic and indexed by author subject and place name each bibliography lists and annotates the most important works published in its field during the year of 1997 including hard to locate journal articles Each volume also includes a complete list of the periodicals consulted Capacity for Choice George Hoberg,2002-01-01 Examines North American integration and its potential future impact on Canadian life in eight areas trade the labour market the brain drain macroeconomics federalism social welfare the environment and culture Globalizing Human Resource Management Paul Sparrow,Chris Brewster,Hilary Harris,2004-07-31 Establishing the agenda for global HR this book looks through the eyes of HR professionals themselves It gives a broad coherent overview of the field of IHRM and a detailed practical analysis of what is needed to be successful in this crucial area of modern management A number of key questions are addressed Does IHRM drive the business agenda more than domestic HRM What is the impact of IHRM on organizational effectiveness What are the keys to success in IHRM Drawing upon current research conducted as part of the Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development s Globalization Research Project the text includes data from surveys of HR professionals and company practice as well as longitudinal case studies Strange Power Thomas Lawton,James Rosenau,Amy Verdun,2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2000 Focusing on the contribution of Susan Strange to the study of international political economy this collection forms a unique perspective on the global economy whilst providing tools for the reader to better understand that economic system The book examines Susan Strange s structural power theories whilst adding the perspective of the contributor The combination of approaches and experience provides a multifaceted analysis of international relations and international political economy
