Reinterpreting Islamic Historiography Harun Al Rashid And The Narrative Of The Abbasid Caliphate:

Reinterpreting Islamic Historiography Tayeb El-Hibri, 1999-11-25 The history of the early Abbasid Caliphate has long been studied as a factual or interpretive synthesis of various accounts preserved in the medieval Islamic chronicles Tayeb El Hibri's book breaks with the traditional approach applying a literary critical reading to examine the lives of the caliphs By focusing on the reigns of Harun al Rashid and his successors the study demonstrates how the various historical accounts were not in fact intended as faithful portraits of the past but as allusive devices used to shed light on controversial religious political and social issues of the period The analysis also reveals how the exercise of decoding Islamic historiography through an investigation of the narrative strategies and thematic motifs used in the chronicles can uncover new layers of meaning and even identify the early narrators This is an important book which represents a landmark in the field of early Islamic historiography

Reinterpreting Islamic Historiography Tayeb El-Hibri, 1999 The author applies a new literary critical reading of the early Islamic sources to demonstrate how medieval narrators devised elusive ways of shedding light on the political social and religious debates of the Abbasid period This book represents a landmark in the field of early Islamic historiography

Reinterpreting Islamic Historiography Tayeb El-Hibri, 1999 The author applies a new literary critical reading of the early Islamic sources to demonstrate how medieval narrators devised elusive ways of shedding light on the political social and religious debates of the Abbasid period This book represents a landmark in the field of early Islamic historiography

The Abbasid Caliphate Tayeb El-Hibri, 2021-04-22 A history of the Abbasid Caliphate from its foundation in 750 and golden age under Harun al Rashid to the conquest of Baghdad by the Mongols in 1258 this study examines the Caliphate as an empire and an institution and its imprint on the society and culture of classical Islamic civilization

The Abbasid Caliphate Tayeb El-Hibri, 2021-04-22 The period of the Abbasid Caliphate 750 1258 has long been recognized as the formative period of Islamic civilization with its various achievements in the areas of science literature and culture This history of the Abbasid Caliphate from its foundation in 750 and golden age under Harun al Rashid to the conquest of Baghdad by the Mongols in 1258 examines the Caliphate as an empire and institution and probes its influence over Islamic culture and society Ranging widely to survey the entire five century history of the Abbasid dynasty Tayeb El Hibri examines the resilience of the Caliphate as an institution as a focal point of religious definitions and as a source of legitimacy to various contemporary Islamic monarchies The study revisits ideas of golden age and decline with a new reading tries to separate Abbasid history from the myths of the Arabian Nights and shows how the legacy of the caliphs continues to resonate in the modern world in direct and indirect ways

Parable and Politics in Early Islamic History Tayeb El-Hibri, 2010-10-19 The story of the succession to the Prophet Muhammad and the rise of the Rashidun Caliphate 632 661 is familiar to historians from the political histories of medieval Islam which treat it as a factual account The story also informs the competing perspectives of Sunni and Shi'i Islam which read into it the legitimacy of their claims Yet while descriptive and varied these approaches have long excluded a third reading which views the conflict over the succession to the Prophet as a parable. From this vantage point the motives, sayings and actions of the protagonists reveal profound links to previous texts, not to mention a surprising irony regarding political and religious issues. In a controversial break from previous historiography, Tayeb El Hibri privileges the literary and artistic triumphs of the medieval Islamic chronicles and maps the origins of Islamic political and religious orthodoxy. Considering the patterns and themes of these unified narratives, including the problem of measuring personal qualification according to religious merit, nobility and skills in government, El Hibri offers an insightful critique of both early and contemporary Islam and the concerns of legitimacy shadowing various rulers. In building an argument for reading the texts as parabolic commentary, he also highlights the Islamic reinterpretation of biblical traditions, both by Qur'anic exegesis and historical composition.

Empire and Power in the Reign of Süleyman Kaya Şahin, 2013-03-29 Kaya Şahin's book offers a revisionist reading of Ottoman history during the reign of Süleyman the Magnificent 1520-66. By examining the life and works of a bureaucrat, Celalzade Mustafa Şahin argues that the empire was built as part of the Eurasian momentum of empire building and demonstrates the imperial vision of sixteenth-century Ottomans. This unique study shows that in contrast with many Eurocentric views, the Ottomans were active players in European politics with an imperial culture in direct competition with that of the Habsburgs and the Safavids. Indeed, this book explains Ottoman empire building with reference to the larger Eurasian context, from Tudor England to Mughal India, contextualizing such issues as state formation, imperial policy and empire building in the period. More generally, Şahin's work also devotes significant attention to the often ignored religious dimension of the Ottoman-Safavid struggle, showing how the rivalry redefined Sunni and Shiite Islam, laying the foundations for today's religious tensions.

The Intensification and Reorientation of Sunni Jihad Ideology in the Crusader Period Suleiman Mourad, James Lindsay, 2012-12-03 The Intensification and Reorientation of Sunni Jihad Ideology in the Crusader Period examines the important role of Ibn As-kir, including his Forty Hadiths for Inciting Jihad, in the promotion of a renewed jihad ideology in twelfth-century Damascus as part of Sultan Nur al-Din's agenda to revivify Sunnism and fight under the banner of jihad. Crusader and Muslim opponents. This jihad vision was exclusively centered on selected Qur'anic verses and prophetic hadiths. Ibn As-kir and other Sunni scholars in twelfth and thirteenth-century Syria departed from the earlier scholarly focus on legal nuances and aversion to invoke jihad in intra-Muslim conflicts. They championed this intensification and reorientation of jihad ideology in mainstream Sunni scholarship and gave it a lasting legacy.

The Logic of Law Making in Islam Behnam Sadeghi, 2013-02-11 This pioneering study examines the process of reasoning in Islamic law. By analyzing rulings from the Hanafi school, the author interrogates whether sacred law operated differently from secular law, why laws changed and how different cultural and historical settings impacted on the development of legal rulings. The result is a fascinating overview of the evolution of Islamic law and the role of its jurists.

What Makes a Balanced Leader? Noha El-Bassiouny, Ahmed Amin, Jonathan A. J. Wilson, 2023-01-30 Despite continuous public interest in leadership studies as well as the abundance of extant literature the world continues to face leadership predicaments Given the global crises mankind has been recently exposed to which include the financial crisis of 2008 as well as the COVID 19 pandemic further exploration of leadership concepts seems warranted This edited book aims at introducing the concept of Balanced Leadership from an Islamic perspective Drawing on both leadership and Islamic studies the book synchronizes between secular and religious knowledge domains whilst introducing the notion of balance to mainstream leadership literature The conceptualizations presented in the book serve to dissect the leadership literature present historical and philosophical accounts of the balanced leadership concept and infuse that with Islamic theology The book is useful for practitioners interested in leadership studies as well as scholars and researchers aiming at extending the leadership literature The Beginnings of Islamic Law Lena Salaymeh,2016-11-14 This is a major and innovative contribution to our understanding of the historical unfolding of Islamic law Scrutinizing its historical contexts Salaymeh proposes that Islamic law is a continuous intermingling of innovation and tradition The book s interdisciplinary approach provides accessible explanations and translations of complex materials and ideas Medieval Islamic Historiography Heather N. Keaney,2013-07-18 This book is a comparative analysis of the medieval Sunni historiography of the caliphate of Uthman b Affan and the revolt against him By comparing treatments of Uthman in pietistic literature and universal chronicles the work traces the gradual silencing of more critical accounts in favor of those that portray Uthman as a saintly companion of the Prophet Muhammad Through a comparative analysis of authors between genres and time periods this book shows how authors were able to convey their personal perspectives on important religio political tensions that emerged through the revolt against Uthman namely the tension between Sunnis and Shiis religious and political authority and appeals to maintain stability and unity vs appeals for greater justice This last debate which in many ways began with the revolt against Uthman has been repeated most recently in the Arab Spring This work therefore provides readers with helpful historical context for important contemporary debates

The Power of Oratory in the Medieval Muslim World Linda G. Jones,2012-08-06 Oratory and sermons had a fixed place in the religious and civic rituals of pre modern Muslim societies and were indispensable for transmitting religious knowledge legitimising or challenging rulers and inculcating the moral values associated with being part of the Muslim community While there has been abundant scholarship on medieval Christian and Jewish preaching Linda G Jones s book is the first to consider the significance of the tradition of pulpit oratory in the medieval Islamic world Traversing Iberia and North Africa from the twelfth to the fifteenth centuries the book analyses the power of oratory the ritual juridical and rhetorical features of pre modern sermons and the social profiles of the preachers and orators who delivered them The biographical and historical sources which form the basis of this remarkable study shed light on different regional practices and the juridical debates between individual preachers around correct performance Illustrated Dictionary of the Muslim World ,2011-01-15 Contains hundreds of short entries on Islamic concepts religious practices historical events and personalities geographical places and fact files of nations with large Muslim populations Animals in the Qur'an Sarra Tlili, 2012-08-13 The Islamic tradition has always held animals in high esteem deserving the same level of consideration as humans The Qur'an opines that there is not an animal in the earth nor a flying creature flying on two wings but they are people like you This fascinating and highly original book examines the status and nature of animals as they are portrayed in the Qur'an and in adjacent exegetical works in which animals are viewed as spiritual moral intelligent and accountable beings In this way the study presents a challenge to the prevalent view of man's superiority over animals and suggests new ways of interpreting the Qur'an By placing the discussion within the context of other religions and their treatment of animals the book also makes a persuasive case for animal rights from an Islamic perspective Intellectual Networks in Timurid Iran İlker Evrim Binbaş, 2016-05-26 Discusses the importance of informal intellectual networks and the formation of the republic of letters in Islamic history The book focuses on the fifteenth century Timurid Ottoman and Mamluk empires and traces the connections between intellectuals in these three early modern Islamic polities Encyclopaedia of Islam Ian Richard Netton, 2013-12-19 This Encyclopedia covers the full range of Islamic thought It takes substantial note of contemporary trends across the Muslim world and the material on historical Islam has contemporary reference The Ghazi Sultans and the Frontiers of Islam Ali Anooshahr, 2008-11-19 The Ghazi Sultans were frontier holy warrior kings of late medieval and early modern Islamic history This book is a comparative study of three particular Ghazis in the Muslim world at that time demonstrating the extent to which these men were influenced by the actions and writings of their predecessors in shaping strategy and the way in which they saw themselves Using a broad range of Persian Arabic and Turkish texts the author offers new findings in the history of memory and self-fashioning demonstrating thereby the value of intertextual approaches to historical and literary studies The three main themes explored include the formation of the ideal of the Ghazi king in the eleventh century the imitation thereof in fifteenth and early sixteenth century Anatolia and India and the process of transmission of the relevant texts By focusing on the philosophical questions of becoming and modelling Anooshahr has sought alternatives to historiographic approaches that only find facts ideology and legitimization in these texts This book will be of interest to scholars specialising in Medieval and early modern Islamic history Islamic literature and the history of religion Shaping a Qur'anic Worldview Vanessa De Gifis, 2014-04-16 Exploring the subjectivity of the Qur'an's meaning in the world this book analyses Qur'anic referencing in Muslim political rhetoric Informed by classical Arabic Islamic rhetorical theory the author examines Arabic documents attributed to the Abbasid Caliph al-Ma'mun r 813-833 whose rule coincided with the maturation of classical Islamic political thought and literary culture She demonstrates how Qur'anic referencing functions as tropological exegesis whereby verses in the Qur'an are reinterpreted through the lens of subjective experience At the same time socio-historical experiences are understood in terms of the Qur'an's moral typology which consists of interrelated polarities that define good and bad moral characters in mutual orientation Through strategic deployment of scriptural references within the logical scheme of rhetorical argument the Caliph constructs moral analogies between paradigmatic characters in the Qur'an and people in his social milieu and situates himself as moral reformer and guide in order to persuade his audiences of the necessity of the Caliphate and the religious moral imperative of obedience to his authority The Ma'mun case study is indicative of the nature and function of Qur'anic referencing across historical periods and thus contributes to broader conversations about the impact of the Qur'an on the shaping of Islamic civilization This book is an invaluable resource for those with an interest in Early Islamic History Islam and the rhetoric of contemporary Middle East regional and global Islamic politics

Music and Musicians in the Medieval Islamic World Lisa

Nielson, 2021-04-22 During the early medieval Islamic period 800-1400 CE discourses concerned with music and musicians were wide ranging and contentious and expressed in works on music theory and philosophy as well as literature and poetry But in spite of attempts by influential scholars and political leaders to limit or control musical expression music and sound permeated all layers of the social structure Lisa Nielson here presents a rich social history of music musicianship and the role of musicians in the early Islamic era Focusing primarily on Damascus Baghdad and Jerusalem Lisa Nielson draws on a wide variety of textual sources written for and about musicians and their professional private environments including chronicles literary sources memoirs and musical treatises as well as the disciplinary approaches of musicology to offer insights into musical performances and the lives of musicians In the process the book sheds light onto the dynamics of medieval Islamic courts as well as how slavery gender status and religion intersected with music in courtly life It will appeal to scholars of the Islamic world and historical musicologists
