Reinventing American Protestantism Donald E. Miller, 2023-04-28 During the past thirty years the American religious landscape has undergone a dramatic change More and more churches meet in converted warehouses many have ministers who ve never attended a seminary and congregations are singing songs whose melodies might be heard in bars or nightclubs Donald E Miller s provocative examination of these new paradigm churches sometimes called megachurches or postdenominational churches shows how they are reinventing the way Christianity is experienced in the United States today Drawing on over five years of research and hundreds of interviews Miller explores three of the movements that have created new paradigm churches Calvary Chapel Vineyard Christian Fellowship and Hope Chapel Together these groups have over one thousand congregations and are growing rapidly attracting large numbers of worshipers who have felt alienated from institutional religion While attempting to reconnect with first century Christianity these churches meet in nonreligious structures and use the medium of contemporary twentieth century America to spread their message through contemporary forms of worship Christian rock music and a variety of support and interest groups In the first book to examine postdenominational churches in depth Miller argues that these churches are involved in a second Reformation one that challenges the bureaucracy and rigidity of mainstream Christianity The religion of the new millennium says Miller will connect people to the sacred by reinventing traditional worship and redefining the institutional forms associated with denominational Christian churches Nothing less than a transformation of religion in the United States may be taking place and Miller convincingly demonstrates how postmodern traditionalists are at the forefront of this change This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out

Christianity, Patriotism, and Nationhood Julia

Stapleton,2009-01-16 This book links the concepts of patriotism Christianity and nationhood in the journalistic writings of G K Chesterton and emphasizes their roots within the English attachments that were central to his political and spiritual persona It further connects Chesterton to the vibrant debate about English national identity in the early years of the twentieth century which was instrumental in shaping not only his political convictions but also his religious convictions Christianity Patriotism and Nationhood explores his changing conception of the English people from an early menacing account of their revolutionary potential in the face of plutocracy to the more complex portraits he drew of their character on recognizing their political passivity after the First World War As Chesterton was above all a journalist the study considers some of the varied outlets in which he expressed his ideas as a distinctly Edwardian man of letters of a strongly patriotic persuasion His connection with The Illustrated London News over more than three decades proved pivotal in strengthening his patriotism and discourse of nationhood vilified elsewhere not least in advanced Liberal organs such asThe Nation Julia Stapleton shows that he was increasingly distanced by fellow Liberals before 1918 on account of the priority he gave nationhood over the state and patriotism over citizenship But she argues that his English loyalties were the last echo of an aspect of Victorian Liberalism that had been progressively eroded by loss of confidence among elites in the democratic aptitude of the English people Christianity Patriotism and Nationhood emphasizes that Chesterton upheld a cultural rather than racial conception of national homogeneity in keeping with the Victorian sources of his thought and the popular patriotism of Edwardian England It argues that his anti semitism was ancillary rather than integral to his understanding of England and that it was matched by a similar conception of the antithesis between Islam and the patriotic ideal Stapleton relates his abiding concern for national authenticity to global imperialism enhanced international co ordination of states and civil society after 1918 and the increasing role of the British state in defining the nation This book will be valuable to intellectual and political historians of early twentieth century England as well as to scholars and students of English national identity in the twenty first century The author gratefully acknowledges the permission of A P Watt Ltd on behalf of the Royal Literary Fund to quote unpublished material in the Chesterton Papers British Library

Svigel, 2012-04-30 Evangelicalism is in trouble Surveying the modern evangelical landscape professor Michael Svigel asks Why does evangelicalism appear to be spinning out of control losing appeal to younger generations dwindling in numbers or selling out to pop culture to muster a crowd He seeks to answer this question by looking to the past to a Retro Christianity Calling for a return to evangelicalism's historical and theological roots Svigel begins by addressing some of present day evangelicalism's problems and explores what can be done to help churches regain a healthy perspective on doctrine He then gives practical examples of what establishing a biblical historical and theologically sound foundation will mean for Christians as they think through aspects of church life and worship As the numbers of those confused or disenchanted with evangelicalism continue to grow Svigel's book meets a timely need and will benefit many readers with his balanced argument for preserving the evangelical faith Christian Pilgrimage, Landscape and Heritage Avril Maddrell, Veronica della Dora, Alessandro Scafi, Heather Walton, 2014-12-05 This volume provides a theoretically and empirically grounded study of the significance of landscape in the experience of Christian pilgrimage across different denominations and its intersection with cultural heritage and tourism The book focuses on pilgrimages to Meteora Greece Subiaco Italy and the Isle of Man These are each sites of scenic beauty that boast a rich heritage associated respectively to Greek Orthodox Roman Catholic and Ecumenical Protestant denominations The study discusses different Christian theologies practices and perspectives on the nature and the purpose of pilgrimage in these traditions It draws on participant experiential accounts archival research and interviews with clergy laity and local stakeholders Special attention is paid to the themes of sacred space and practice aesthetics mobilities embodiment and performance emotional geographies theology cultural heritage consumption and commodification and the pilgrim tourist continuum Kwame Bediako and African Christian Scholarship Sara J. Fretheim, 2018-04-17 In a departure from current theologically focused scholarship on Ghanaian theologian Kwame Bediako this book places him within the wider historical continuum of twentieth century Ghana and reads him as a leading Christian scholar within the African study of African religions The book traces a variety of influences and figures within this emerging African discourse in Ghana including aspects of missions and colonial history and the voices of poets politicians prophets and priests Locating Bediako within this complex twentieth century matrix this intellectual history draws upon his published and key unpublished works including his first masters and doctoral dissertations on N griot literature an abiding influence on his later Christian thought and an essential foundation for interpreting this scholar This book also reads the Akrofi Christaller Institute of Theology Mission and Culture as text by Bediako revealing essential components of his intellectual and spiritual itinerary revealed in the Institute's community and curriculum This approach challenges narrowly focused theological scholarship on Bediako while highlighting critical methodological divisions between African Western confessional and non confessional approaches to the study of religion in Africa In doing so it highlights the rich complexity of this emerging African discourse and identifies Bediako as a pioneering African Christian intellectual within this wider field Christian Spirituality Gordon Mursell,2020-02-21 There is a growing interest today in the context and history of Christian spirituality In this book a team of expert authors from the East and West present a full and fascinating picture of humanity's desire for the divine across the centuries Highlighting the contribution of significant figures through history authors explore the ways in which Christians from the earliest times onwards have sought to express and live out the deepest truth of their faith The Bible and the life of Jesus Christ are the starting point for the story The reader is then guided through the development of spirituality starting an exploration of the significance of the early church fathers and culminating in a survey of the explosion of expressions of Christian divinity across the world in the twentieth century Interspersed with boxed features that provide more detail on key individuals and groups and timelines that put events into their chronological contexts Christian Spirituality is an ideal overview for scholars and interested readers alike The Doctrine of God Veli-Matti Kärkkäinen,2004-08 A global survey of interpretations of God in Scripture Christian history and contemporary theology with a focus on key God talk issues of the day African Christianity Joseph D. Galgalo,2012 What makes African Christianity Christian what is the mission of the African church What is the theology of the African church and What is the future of the Church in Africa or more precisely of African Christianity Professor Galgalo gives a critical analysis of Christianity in Africa from historical theological and sociological perspectives Conflict and the Practice of the Christian Faith Bruce N Kaye,2011-07-28 Anglicans around the world have responded to the gospel in many different cultural contexts This has produced different customs and different ways of thinking about church issues In the process of enculturation Anglicans have found themselves encountering social and political realities as malign forces against which they have had to struggle As a consequence the personal and local dynamic in Anglicanism has created not just diversity of custom and mental habits but it has done so at points that have been vital to the way Anglicans have been committed to the gospel Conflict and the Practice of Christian Faith looks at the process by which local traditions developed in Christianity and how these traditions have related to other sub traditions of the universal church It assesses some specifics of the Anglican experience and argues for a significant re casting of some prominent elements of that tradition at the same time clarifying some of the distinctive elements in the Anglican tradition This leads to a more nuanced appreciation of the force of the social and political framework within which Anglicans have had to work out their salvation and of the different forms of secular society and different understandings of plurality and diversity It also entails showing how the imperial route to catholicity took no firm root in Anglicanism Going global has been a significant experiment in Anglican ecclesiology that is by no means over yet The terms of that experiment lie at the heart of the current Anglican debates The book will be of interest to Christians generally who belong to faith traditions spread across different cultures It is also a case study of the issues of global reach and local tradition
