New Perspectives on Narrative and Multimodality Ruth Page, 2009-09-10 This study investigates the richly diverse but integrated semiotic potential of storytelling Unlike other interdisciplinary approaches to narrative studies which have privileged the study of words in storytelling this unique collection provides a much needed analysis of how narrative operates using combinations of visual typographic aural gestural and haptic resources Although both multimodal theory and narrative studies have been invigorated by a variety of theoretical approaches this volume seeks to avoid a single dominant paradigm Instead the contributors use literary criticism linguistics and new media frameworks in a series of critical studies that are directly engaged with a range of multimodal stories The contributors analyze works that include oral accounts of personal experience opera cartoons print literature and new media forms of storytelling such as experimental digital fiction and fanfiction Toward a Feminist Ethics of Nonviolence Adriana Cavarero, Judith Butler, Bonnie Honig, 2021-01-26 Toward a Feminist Ethics of Nonviolence brings together major feminist thinkers to debate Cavarero's call for a postural ethics of nonviolence and a sociality rooted in bodily interdependence. Toward a Feminist Ethics of Nonviolence brings together three major feminist thinkers Adriana Cavarero, Judith Butler, and Bonnie Honig to debate Cavarero's call for a postural ethics of nonviolence. The book consists of three longer essays by Cavarero, Butler, and Honig followed by shorter responses by a range of scholars that widen the dialogue drawing on post-Marxism, Italian feminism, queer theory, and lesbian and gay politics. Together the authors contest the boundaries of their common project for a pluralistic, heterogeneous but urgent feminist ethics of nonviolence.

Modernist Commitments Jessica Berman, 2012-01-03 Jessica Berman demonstrates how modernist narrative connects ethical attitudes and responsibilities to the active creation of political relationships and the way we imagine justice. She challenges divisions between modernist and committed writing, arguing that a continuum of political engagement undergirds modernisms worldwide and that it is strengthened rather than hindered by formal experimentation. In addition to making the case for a transnational model of modernism, Berman shows how modernism's play with formal matters, its challenge to the boundaries between fact and fiction, its incorporation of vernacular and folkways, and its engagement with embodied experience and intimacy offer not only an expanded account of modernist texts and commitments but a new way of thinking about what modernism is and can do.

Between Philosophy and Non-Philosophy Donald A. Landes, Leonard Lawlor, Peter Gratton, 2016-11-01 Hugh J. Silverman was an inspiring scholar and teacher known for his work engaging and shaping phenomenology, hermeneutics, psychoanalysis, structuralism, poststructuralism, and deconstruction. As Professor of Philosophy and Comparative Literary and Cultural Studies at Stony Brook University, State University of New York, Silverman's work was marked by the between, a concept he developed to think the postmodern in the space between philosophy and non-philosophy. In this volume, leading scholars explore and extend Silverman's philosophical contributions from reflections on the notions of care, time, and responsibility to presentations of the practices and possibilities of deconstruction itself. They provide an assessment of Silverman's life and work at the intersection of philosophy, ethics, and politics.

Margaret Fuller Charles Capper, Cristina Giorcelli, 2008-01-15 Margaret Fuller (1810-1850), a pioneering gender theorist, transcendentalist, journalist, and literary critic, was one of the most well-known and highly regarded feminist intellectuals of nineteenth-century America. With her contemporaries Ralph Waldo Emerson and Henry David Thoreau, she was one of the predominant writers of the Transcendentalist movement and she aligned herself in both her public and private life with the European revolutionary fervor of the 1840s. She traveled to Italy as a foreign correspondent for the New York Tribune to cover the nascent revolutions, pursuing the transnational ideal awakened in her youth by a classical education in European languages and a Romantic curiosity about other cultures, traditions, and identities. This volume is a collaboration of international scholars who, from varied fields and approaches, assess Fuller's genius and character. Treating the last several years of Margaret Fuller's short life, these essays offer a truly international discussion of Fuller's unique cultural, political, and personal achievements From the origins and articulations of Fuller's cosmopolitanism to her examination of the woman question and from her fascination with the European other to her candid perception of imperial America from abroad they ponder what such an extraordinary woman meant to America and also to Italy and Europe during her lifetime and continuing to the present

The Travelling Concepts of Narrative Mari Hatavara, Lars-Christer Hydén, Matti Hyvärinen, 2013-06-15 Narrative is a pioneer concept in our trans disciplinary age For decades it has been one of the most successful catchwords in literature history cultural studies philosophy and health studies While the expansion of narrative studies has led to significant advances across a number of fields the travels for the concept itself have been a somewhat more complex Has the concept of narrative passed intact from literature to sociology from structuralism to therapeutic practice or to the study of everyday storytelling In this volume philosophers psychologists literary theorists sociolinguists and sociologists use methodologically challenging test cases to scrutinize the types transformations and trajectories of the concept and theory of narrative The book powerfully argues that narrative concepts are profoundly relevant in the understanding of life experience and literary texts Nonetheless it emphasizes the vast contextual differences and contradictions in the use of the concept

The Short Story in German in the Twenty-first Century Lyn Marven, Andrew Plowman, Kate Roy, 2020 Since the 1990s the short story has re emerged in the German speaking world as a vibrant literary genre This volume aims to establish a framework for further research into this rich field The introduction and six thematic chapters discuss theories of the short story form literary aesthetic questions and key trends in the twenty first century Seven chapters on significant literary figures from Germany Austria and Switzerland then offer a range of theoretical and thematic approaches to individual stories and collections Finally two original translations showcase contemporary short story writing in German

Narratives and Social Change Emiliana Mangone, 2022-04-01 This book is an important contribution to narrative research and highlights how narratives can produce social change The author demonstrates this through an analysis of concepts like future uncertainty and risk both in terms of individual impact and as collective forms of social life The book reconstructs the relationships between future uncertainty and risk through everyday how narratives exert power over individual and social life by influencing individual or collective decisions and choices Narratives also change future prospects thus producing social change Some of the examples the author draws out for discussion are in specific the narration of the migration flows in the Mediterranean Sea and the narration of the pandemic emergency from COVID 19 The result of different narratives has been the emergence of new ideologies and of a complex series of dynamics in which the local ends up becoming global and vice versa Highly topical and interdisciplinary in its approach this book is of interest to researchers and students of the sociology of culture and communication media and communication studies social and cultural psychology and cultural anthropology
